Hooghly. No. 247M.—The 24th January 1919.—In exercise of the power conferred by section 290 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884 (Bengal Act III of 1884), the Governor in Council makes the following rules subject to which the Commissioners of the Uttarpara Municipality may allow communication-pipes to be laid down from the service-pipes of the Commissioners for the purpose of leading water to premises within the Municipality for domestic purposes only :—

Rules.

So long as the Commissioners deem it practicable and consistent with the maintenance of an efficient water-supply, they may allow any owner or occupier of a holding paying a water-rate, imposed under the provisions of Part VII of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884, on the annual value of such holding, when such annual value is not less than Rs. 50, to lay down communication-pipes from the service-pipes of the Commissioners for the purpose of leading water to such holding for domestic purposes only, subject to the following rules and conditions :—

1. The owner or occupier of any holding requiring water to be laid on to such holding for domestic purposes, or requiring any addition or alteration to an existing water-supply, must apply for the same on a printed form to be supplied, free of cost, at the municipal office.

2. A fee of Rs. 100 must be paid to the Commissioners by such owner or occupier for each connection to a municipal main supply-pipe or a common communication-pipe laid in accordance with rule 3 before any work is commenced, such fee to be in addition to all other costs and charges imposed under these rules.

3. Except as provided below, each holding must have a separate connection to the municipal main supply-pipe, and extensions from the communication-pipe of one holding to another holding shall not be permitted:

Provided that, with the consent of the Commissioners in meeting, connections to two or more holdings may be permitted from a common communication-pipe. Any such communication-pipe must be laid in a street or common passage and a stop-cock and meter as provided for in rule 7 must be fixed on the connection to each holding;

Provided also that no holding shall have more than one separate connection, but if in any case the Commissioners are satisfied that an adequate supply to any holding cannot be given through a single connection, they may sanction a second connection thereto.

4. The owner or occupier of the holding in respect of which the connection is required must pay the entire cost of the connection, including the supply and fixing of the fittings referred to in rule 7, and must also pay the cost of such alterations in, or repairs to, roads, drains, sewers, gas or water-mains or pipes, and the cost of such other works as may be necessitated by, or result from, the work of making such connection.

5. The owner or occupier of the holding to which a connection has been given must, at any time, on receipt of notice to do so from the Commissioners, pay the entire cost of any repairs or alterations to the connection or any part thereof that the Commissioners may consider necessary to put it into a satisfactory condition or which may be necessitated by any change in the municipal water-works or system of distribution or by the defective condition of the connection or any part thereof or by any other cause whatever.

6. (1) The works required under rules 4 and 5 may, at the option of the Commissioners, either be carried out by the Commissioners themselves at the expense of the owner or occupier of the holding in respect of which the works are required, or may be carried out by a person or firm employed by such owner or occupier and approved by the Commissioners.

(2) No work shall be carried out under sub-rule (1), except under the supervision of a municipal officer.

7. A holding connection shall comprise the following parts or fittings:—

(a) a brass or gun-metal ferrule inserted in the main supply-pipe;

(b) a galvanized iron communication-pipe from the ferrule to the meter;

(c) a stop-cock and its surface-box;

(d) a meter;

(e) service-pipes from the stop-cock to the taps; and

(f) taps.

8. (1) All the fittings referred to in rule 7 shall be exact duplicates of standard samples kept in the office of the Commissioners, and approved by them in meeting.

(2) All fittings shall be inspected and tested and stamped by an officer of the municipality before being fixed.

(3) If any owner or occupier shall desire to adopt any fitting of a pattern different from the standard patterns, he must present such fitting for the approval of the Chairman, and any fittings so presented may, if considered satisfactory by the Chairman, be stamped and passed.

9. The holding connection, when fitted in position, must be capable of standing a pressure of 60 feet, and no water shall be supplied until it has stood such a test applied by the Commissioners.

10. The size of the ferrule and the diameter of the communication-pipe referred to in clauses (a) and (b) of rule 7, and the number of taps shall be fixed in accordance with the annual valuation of the holdings as follows :—

Annual value of holding.	Size of ferrule.	Diameter of communication-pipe.	Number of taps.
Rs. Rs.	Inch.	Inch.
From 50 to 99	$\frac{3}{16}$	$\frac{1}{2}$	1
,, 100 ,, 299	$\frac{1}{4}$	$\frac{1}{2}$	2
,, 300 ,, 599	$\frac{1}{3}$	$\frac{3}{4}$	3
,, 600 ,, 1,199	$\frac{3}{4}$	$\frac{3}{4}$	4
,, 1,200 ,, 2,999	$\frac{1}{2}$	1	5
,, 3,000 ,, 4,999	$\frac{1}{2}$	$\frac{3}{4}$	6
,, 5,000 upwards	$\frac{1}{2}$	$\frac{3}{4}$	6 or more at the discretion of the Commissioners.

Note.—In exceptional circumstances as in the case of boarding-houses, hospitals, etc., the Commissioners in a meeting may sanction a bigger size of ferrule and connection-pipe and a larger number of taps.

11. (1) On every communication-pipe a brass or gun-metal stop-cock having the same water-way as such pipe shall be placed as near as practicable to the point where that pipe enters the holding to be supplied.

(2) The stop-cock shall be built in a brick chamber provided with a cast-iron surface cover-box so designed that it can be locked, and the key of this box shall remain under the control of the Chairman.

(3) The stop-cock shall be capable of adjustment so that the supply to the holding may be regulated thereby.

12. (1) The meter shall be placed as near to the stop-cock as possible and in a position where it can be conveniently examined.

(2) The meter must be fixed in a brick chamber covered over with a cast-iron surface-box of approved pattern.

13. Neither the stop-cock nor the meter must be placed in any private premises.

14. The Commissioners shall depute an authorized person to read every meter not less than once a quarter, and shall give notice to the occupier at least twenty-four hours before the reading is recorded.

15. (1) Every owner or occupier of any holding, in respect of which a connection has been made under these rules, shall be entitled to a supply of—

(a) 750 gallons of water per quarter for each four annas, and

(b) a further proportionate number of gallons per quarter for every additional fraction of four annas, paid by him quarterly as water-rate in respect of such holding.

(2) For all water in excess of the amount allowed under sub-rule (1) such owner or occupier shall be charged quarterly as follows :—

	Annas per 1,000 gallons.
(a) For any excess quantity of water not exceeding one-half of the amount of the allowance prescribed in sub-rule (1)	4 as.
(b) For any excess quantity of water exceeding one-half of the amount of the allowance prescribed in sub-rule (1), but not exceeding that amount ...	8 as.
(c) For any excess quantity of water exceeding the amount of the allowance prescribed in sub-rule (1), but not exceeding twice that amount ...	12 as.
(d) For any excess quantity of water exceeding twice the amount of the allowance prescribed in sub-rule (1)	Re. 1.

16. The Commissioners may cut off the connection between any water-works of the municipality and any holding to which water is supplied from such works, or may turn off such supply, in any of the following cases, namely :—

(a) if the holding is unoccupied ;

(b) if the occupier refuses to admit any officer duly empowered in that behalf into the holding for the purpose of making any examination or inspection authorized under this Act, or under any by-law or rule framed under this Act, or prevents such officer from making such examination or inspection ;

(c) if the owner or occupier of the holding touches or interferes with his meter in any way except with the permission of the Chairman, or wilfully or negligently injures or damages it;

(d) if the owner or occupier of the holding wilfully or negligently permits waste of water in such volume as will, in the opinion of the Chairman, endanger the water-supply in the neighbourhood ;

(e) if the owner or occupier of the holding shall refuse or neglect to pay any of the fees or charges imposed in accordance with these rules for a space of fourteen days after he has been served with a notice of demand for the same ;

(f) if the owner or occupier of the holding constructs or fixes any cisterns, tanks, reservoirs, taps, pipes or any other works in connection with the water-supply not authorized by these rules ;

(g) if the pipes, taps, ball-cocks, cisterns, or any other parts of the connection are, in the opinion of the Commissioners, in a leaking condition or a state of disrepair :

Provided that such disconnection or turning off of water-supply shall not relieve any person from any liabilities which he may have incurred under these rules.

In the circumstances contemplated in clause (d) an officer authorized by the Commissioners in this behalf by a general order shall have the power to turn off the supply for a period not exceeding eight hours on his previously recording his reason in writing.

17. Every tap shall be of the same size as the pipe to which it is attached and shall be of brass and of the pattern known as "Screw-down". Every tap shall be at least 3 feet above the surface of the ground beneath.

18. No cistern, tank or reservoir of any description which is intended to be supplied with water from the municipal water-works shall be permitted to any holding except with the sanction of the Commissioners in meeting, and such sanction shall distinctly specify the dimensions and capacity of the cistern, tank or reservoir allowed. The inlet to every such cistern, tank or reservoir must be controlled by an efficient ball-cock so that the discharge thereinto is completely stopped when the cistern, tank or reservoir is full. Any taps fed from such cistern, tank or reservoir must be included in the number of taps allowed under rule 10.

19. No connection shall be permitted to any holding unless and until the owner or occupier makes effective provision to the satisfaction of the Commissioners for draining all waste water away.

RESOLUTION REVIEWING THE REPORTS ON THE WORKING OF MUNICIPALITIES IN THE BENGAL PRESIDENCY (EXCEPT CALCUTTA) DURING 1917-18.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT.

Municipal Branch.

CALCUTTA, THE 27TH JANUARY 1919.

RESOLUTION—No. 287M.

READ—

Reports from the Commissioners of Divisions on the working of municipalities in the Bengal Presidency (except Calcutta) during the year 1917-18.

1. Number of municipalities.—The number of municipalities increased from 113 to 115 in consequence of the partition of Bhadreswar into the two separate municipalities of Bhadreswar and Champdani and of the partition of Halisahar into the municipalities of Halisahar and Kanchrapara.

2. Elections.—General elections were held in 22 municipalities during the year. In the majority of cases the attendance of voters was satisfactory, but there was no poll in three municipalities, and in five other cases votes were recorded in only one ward. The election at Nawabganj, of which the Commissioners had hitherto been appointed by Government, was hotly contested. The elections in two wards of the Baduria municipality had to be declared null and void for a second time by the District Magistrate owing to irregularities in election proceedings.

3. Number of ratepayers.—The number of ratepayers decreased from 321,099 to 316,563, the reduction being largest in the Presidency Division where it amounted to 4,988. The district of the 24-Parganas alone was responsible for a decrease of 4,073, which is reported to have been due chiefly to a change in the form of assessment, viz., the introduction of a rate on holdings in lieu of a tax on persons in Naihati, and to the abandonment of holdings acquired by rice mills.

The ratio of ratepayers to the population residing within municipal limits averaged 16 per cent in the Presidency as a whole and varied in individual towns from 36 per cent in Katwa to less than 4 per cent in the mill town of Titagarh. Other towns in which rates are paid by less than one-tenth of the people are Darjeeling, Narayanganj, Garden Reach, Garulia, Bhatpara and Champdani.

4. Assessment and taxation.—The incidence of taxation fell slightly and now averages Rs. 2-4-11 per head of the population. It is highest in the hill stations of Darjeeling (Rs. 8-10-7) and Kurseong (Rs. 6-13-10) and in the suburban municipality of Cossipore-Chitpur (Rs. 6-9-10). In only three other towns (Howrah, Chittagong and Mymensingh) is it above Rs. 4, while it is below Re. 1 in 44 municipalities, or two-fifths of the total number, falling in five cases to below 8 annas a head.

Only about one-sixth of the municipal population, however, pays rates, and a truer idea of the incidence of taxation can, therefore, be gained by considering the amount paid by the actual ratepayers, which averages Rs. 14-6-6 per ratepayer for the whole Presidency. The diversity for individual towns is great, the ratepayers in Darjeeling, for instance, paying nearly Rs. 132 a head, while those in some of the petty rural towns pay on the average under Rs. 2 each.

In the Presidency as a whole altogether 5½ per cent of the amount realized from holding, conservancy, lighting and water rates and taxes is paid for Government buildings. The payments represent in Darjeeling, Berhampore and Chittagong approximately one-twelfth, in Dacca one-eighth and in Rampore-Boalia nearly one-fifth of the municipal receipts from these rates, which constitute the bulk of the income from taxation. These figures serve to illustrate the fact, which is not always realized by the municipalities themselves, that, apart from its position as a controlling authority, Government has a direct interest as a ratepayer in the purity and efficiency of municipal administration.

5. Revision of assessment.—A general revision of assessment was effected in twelve municipalities, while the revision made in the previous year took effect in two other towns. In Dacca the net increase of revenue amounted to Rs. 40,451, of which Rs. 39,439 were due to the introduction of a revised scale of latrine fees. Pabna secured an increase of Rs. 7,439 and Dinajpur of Rs. 2,630, while in Nator an enhancement of the rate of taxation brought in an additional income of Rs. 2,542. The revision of assessment in Bogra resulted in an increase of Rs. 5,973, but is subject to the result of many appeals. A revision of assessment on the basis of a valuation of holdings in lieu of a tax on persons was undertaken in the Comilla municipality.

6. Collections.—The total collections fell from Rs. 45,04,800 to Rs. 44,82,680, the percentage on current demand being consequently reduced from 96 to 92. There was a decrease of Rs. 89,396 in the Burdwan Division alone, where the percentage on current demand was 85 against 96 in 1916-17; this was principally due to the inability of the Howrah municipality to collect a large proportion of its current demand owing to causes which will be referred to later. In 8 municipalities the collections were in excess of the current demand and in 15 they were over 99 per cent. On the other hand, the ratio was under 85 per cent in 8 municipalities, falling as low as 69 per cent in Bansberia and 51½ per cent in the newly formed municipality of Kanchrapara. The amount of remissions was smaller than in the previous year and represented under 3 per cent of the current demand. Only 3 municipalities remitted more than 10 per cent, viz., South Dum-Dum, Taki and Debhatta, while four remitted over 7 per cent.

There was an abnormal increase in outstanding balances, which rose from Rs. 3,75,345 to Rs. 6,12,128. Of this amount Howrah alone was responsible for Rs. 2,20,857; half of this figure is accounted for by the fact that a sum of Rs 1,10,088, which was paid on account of taxes by the East Indian Railway on the last working day of the year, could not be credited to the municipal fund during the year. A balance of Rs. 45,000 in Cossipore-Chitpur was due, as in the previous year, to the non-payment by the Corporation of Calcutta and the Eastern Bengal Railway of taxes due from them. Other municipalities which had unduly large outstandings were Burdwan, Midnapore, Hooghly-Chinsura, Serampore, Bally, Maniktala, Tollygunge, Dacca, Mymensingh, Barisal and Rampore-Boalia. No satisfactory explanation has been furnished of those large outstanding balances, which are generally due to laxity in collections and the neglect of the municipal executive to enforce punctual payments, quarter by quarter, by means, where necessary, of a regular and impartial issue of warrants.

7. Income and expenditure.—The total receipts, including opening balances, amounted to Rs. 83,58,974 as against Rs. 81,14,287 in the previous year. The increase was mainly due to grants and loans received from Government, large grants being made to the municipalities of Midnapore, Natore and Satkhira for water-works schemes, while loans aggregating 1¾ lakhs were given to Dacca and Mymensingh for similar projects. The total actual income showed an increase of Rs. 1,69,763 and amounted to Rs. 58,62,251. Receipts from rates and taxes fell from Rs. 46,07,994 to Rs. 45,59,861, but there was a slight increase in receipts from other sources.

The total expenditure rose from Rs. 65,30,795 to Rs. 66,74,302. There was a decrease of a lakh under the head of "general administration and collection charges", while the expenditure on account of public health rose by 1½ lakhs.

8. General administration and collection charges.—The decrease is mainly due to the fact that the figure for the previous year included the sums of Rs. 49,347 expended on a survey of the Howrah municipality and of Rs. 94,794 being the balance of a Government grant refunded by Narayanganj. If these sums are left out of account, there is an all-round increase, which is attributed to the rise in the price of stationery, the grant of grain compensation allowances and increments of the pay of municipal employés. The net percentage of the cost of administration on the total expenditure, however, fell from 8·6 to 8·1, the proportion varying from 2·4 per cent in Uttarpara and 4·6 in Dacca to the high figure of 33·03 in Debhatta and 24·6 per cent in North Dum-Dum.

9. Education.—The total amount spent on education was Rs. 2,61,514, or 4½ per cent of the municipal income. The expenditure was nearly Rs. 13,000 more than in the previous year, but Government grants rose by Rs. 22,000 and the receipts from other sources by Rs. 4,000; there was consequently a decrease in the amount devoted to education by the municipalities themselves. Deducting the grants made by Government and other contributions, the expenditure from the municipal fund was only Rs. 1,90,546, or 3¼ per cent of the municipal income.

The educational expenditure consists mainly of grants to private schools. In the whole of Bengal there are only 8 municipal primary schools, i.e., primary schools entirely maintained by municipalities. Some still fail to realize their obligations in regard to primary education; during the year under review the amount spent by 17 municipalities, or approximately one in seven, was less than 3·2 per cent of their ordinary income —this percentage is taken to represent the amount required for the education of half the boys of school-going age. On the other hand, 55, or nearly half the total number, spent over 5 per cent of their income, compared with 42 in the previous year, while 8 spent more than 10 per cent. On the whole, the municipal towns of Bengal are well provided with primary schools, though their standard and equipment leave much to be desired; and in some places the number is so large as to lead to overlapping, with consequent waste of money, unhealthy competition and inefficiency. Recent enquiries have shown, for instance, that there are 12 primary schools to the square mile in Howrah and Bankura, 11 in Bogra, 7 in Serampore, 5 in Midnapore, and 3 in Burdwan.

10. Water-supply.—The provision of a pure water-supply is one of the greatest needs of Bengal towns, which, however, are unable to bear the expense of constructing water-works without large grants from Government. Of late years the amount which Government is able to contribute has been curtailed by financial stringency, and the execution of many useful schemes has consequently had to be deferred; but during the year under review it was possible for Government to give substantial grants and loans, with the help of which considerable progress was made.

A grant of a lakh was made to the Midnapore municipality, where a start was made with a much needed water-supply scheme, while a project for Uttarpara was nearly completed, the expenditure during the year being Rs. 83,000. The construction of new water-works at Satkhira was pushed on; the improvement of those established at Berhampore was taken in hand; and a scheme for the supply of filtered water to Krishnagar received administrative sanction. In Dacca an important project for the improvement of the existing system was undertaken with the aid of a Government loan of a lakh, while a loan of Rs. 70,000 was given to Mymensingh for the improvement of its system. The construction of water-works, to which Government had made a substantial contribution, was also in progress at Natore. Pipe water was extended to almost all the roads in Barisal, where the public health is reported to have improved greatly in consequence of the introduction of a supply of filtered water. Government, however, regret to observe that it is also reported the management of the water-works is unsatisfactory and apathetic. The water-works at Pirojpur had to be closed owing to the impurity of the filtered water, and steps have been taken to repair the filtered beds.

The statutory rule laid down by Government requiring meters to be affixed to private house connections continued to meet with a certain amount of opposition. In Howrah a suit was instituted to test its legality and on appeal was decided in favour of the Municipal Commissioners. Legal proceedings were also instituted at Chittagong with a similar result; an appeal is now pending with the High Court.

11. Drainage.—The poverty of municipal resources and the limitation on the amounts which Government could contribute impeded progress with large schemes of drainage. Tangail was, however, able to bring a scheme to completion; while Mymensingh proceeded to take up a comprehensive project in instalments; progress was also made with work in Bhadreswar and Bhatpara, and schemes were prepared for other towns.

12. Conservancy.—A detailed sewerage scheme was approved for the town of Kurseong, and Government agreed to make a grant of Rs. 50,000 and a loan of Rs. 30,000 towards its cost. The necessity and urgency of an up-to-date sewerage scheme for the town of Dacca is forcibly illustrated in the Magistrate's report, and arrangements are being made to start work on a project which has long been ready, but which has hitherto been kept in abeyance owing to financial exigencies. The total cost is 30 lakhs, of which Government has agreed to grant 25 lakhs, the balance being met by a Government loan.

13. Public works.—The percentage of the outlay on public works to the total expenditure varied in the smaller towns from 1·6 in Champdani to 51·2 in Taki and in larger municipalities from 4·6 in Natore to 41·2 in Chandpur.

A fine building, which will serve both as a town hall and as the municipal office, was in course of construction at Darjeeling, this addition to the buildings of the town being rendered possible by the munificent offer of Rs. 1,65,000 by His Highness the Maharaja of Cooch Behar.

14. Loans.—Altogether 39 municipalities were in debt to Government at the end of the year, their total liability amounting to nearly 43 lakhs. The largest outstanding liabilities were those of Howrah (Rs. 21,92,154), Darjeeling (Rs. 6,56,114), Dacca (Rs. 3,38,801), Chittagong (Rs. 1,42,400) and Narayanganj (Rs. 1,09,111). Three municipalities took loans during the year for water-works, viz., Dacca (Rs. 1,00,000), Mymensingh (Rs. 70,000) and Uttarpara (Rs. 25,000). Kharar, Panihati and Faridpur liquidated their loans.

15. Closing balances.—The closing balances, which had fallen from Rs. 16,59,012 to Rs. 15,83,492 in 1916-17, rose to Rs. 16,84,672, and about one-third of the total number of municipalities closed the year with a balance exceeding one-quarter of the total expenditure. Five municipalities had closing balances of over a lakh, viz., Dacca (Rs. 2,25,685), Howrah (Rs. 1,85,773), Midnapore (Rs. 1,70,521), Cossipore-Chitpur (Rs. 1,03,058), Maniktala (Rs. 1,01,614) and Darjeeling (Rs. 1,00,717). The large balances in the case of Midnapore and Dacca were due mainly to the receipt of a grant and loan, respectively, which Government gave for water-supply schemes, and which could not be fully expended during the year. The comparatively large balances standing to the credit of Cossipore-Chitpur and Maniktala are not excessive, in the opinion of the Commissioner, regard being had to their needs. No explanation has been furnished for the large balance in Darjeeling.

On the other hand, a number of municipalities failed to keep adequate working balances and in 16 cases, as against 9 in the previous year, they were insufficient to meet outstanding liabilities. Jessore with an ordinary expenditure of Rs. 36,000 had a balance of Rs. 319 only, while Baduria with an expenditure of Rs. 5,000 closed the year with the exiguous sum of Rs. 8 in hand. The tendency to incur liabilities in excess of resources was most marked in the municipalities of Hooghly-Chinsura, Serampore, Pabna, Dinajpur and Barisal. The worst offender was Serampore, which had outstanding liabilities of Rs. 51,680, or nearly three-fourths of its current demand, against an actual balance of Rs. 5,619. This deplorable result is said to be due to lack of supervision over the municipal establishment.

16. Audit of accounts and embezzlements.—The accounts of most of the municipalities were audited during the year. Serious irregularities and embezzlements came to light in the municipalities of Burdwan, Hooghly-Chinsura and Serampore. The loss to the Burdwan municipality, so far as has been ascertained up to the present, amounted to Rs. 3,850; the amount embezzled in Serampore and Hooghly-Chinsura is not reported. In Rangpur two municipal employés were convicted of embezzling municipal money, and a case of embezzlement of Rs. 1,600 was also detected in Rajpur. No case of embezzlement was reported in any of the other divisions.

17. Howrah.—The current demand on account of taxes in Howrah rose by nearly a lakh, and amounted to Rs. 10,97,631. The total demand (including arrears) amounted to Rs. 11,40,347, of which only Rs. 8,79,589, or 77·1 per cent, were collected during the year. This low percentage is due partly to the fact already referred to that a payment of over a lakh could not be credited to the municipal fund within the year, partly to the slow disposal of a large number of appeals against revision of assessment and partly to delay in the Assessment Department in dealing with petitions against wrong assessments and with lists of holdings not in existence. As a result of these latter two factors over a lakh was uncollected, and there is a large accumulation of outstanding taxes which it will be difficult to realize.

The financial position of the municipality has not shown any appreciable improvement, and the remark of the Chairman that the Municipal Commissioners are in a position to meet current expenses without increasing the rates seems to be too optimistic. Normal receipts, it is true, exceeded normal expenditure by Rs. 25,000, but expenditure was restricted largely in consequence of conditions imposed by the war and the prohibitive cost of materials, as well as by the obvious necessity of maintaining financial equilibrium ; and there are many reforms of which the execution is precluded by the financial exigencies of the municipality. The water-works improvement scheme had to be postponed owing to want of funds and the high price of materials. No new drainage works involving capital expenditure could be taken up during the year and the canal scheme had to be postponed. The outlay on roads in the previous year, which was less than half of the amount estimated as necessary for their proper upkeep, was reduced by Rs. 3,000. In the year under review it was even less, and remetalling had to be suspended. The Municipal Commissioners, however, are not responsible for the reduced expenditure. They provided in their budget for a far larger amount, but could not work up to the budget provision owing to causes over which they had no control, viz., the difficulty of getting metal by rail, from which many other local bodies have suffered. The conservancy of the town is defective. The cleaning of latrines is admittedly unsatisfactory, while the absence of adequate machinery for the prompt removal of scrapings from drains, which are allowed to accumulate on the sides of the roads, is a well-founded cause of complaint. The expenditure on primary education is extremely small for a town of the size of Howrah, viz., Rs. 10,665, or 2·6 per cent of the ordinary municipal income. These facts tend to show that the municipality is unable, with its existing scale of taxation, to provide fully for its present needs, much less to provide for the development and improvement of the town on modern lines.

The Hon'ble Babu Mahendra Nath Ray continued to be the Chairman, and the Governor in Council is pleased to observe the Commissioner's commendation of the good work done by him. The Chairman himself modestly remarks that it is almost impossible for a busy professional man to discharge the heavy duties of Chairman to his full satisfaction, and the Governor in Council has all the more pleasure in acknowledging the work done by him in such time as he could spare. The License Department was reorganized during the year with satisfactory results and a consequent increase of over Rs. 14,000 in the collections. Another improvement was the reorganization of the Health Department. In recognition of the sound principle that the primary duty of a Health Officer is the prevention of disease, and not conservancy work, the Health Officer was placed in charge solely of matters connected with public health, while conservancy was handed over to the Municipal Engineer. The Chairman has also in contemplation other schemes of reorganization, which have had to be postponed for want of funds.

18. General remarks.—The district of the 24-Parganas contains nearly one-fourth of the municipalities of the Presidency and its municipalities are typical of the whole number, for some are large suburban towns in which a standard of administration similar to that of Calcutta is required, others are progressive mill towns, others are more like overgrown villages in which the conditions are rural rather than urban. The Governor in Council is pleased to observe that both the Commissioner and the District Magistrate agree that their administration shows steady improvement. An interesting and thoughtful review of the year's work is given by the District Magistrate, who writes : "On the whole, if allowance is made for the difficulties caused by the war, there has been an advance in the standard of municipal administration in most of the important municipalities. Maniktala, which a short time ago was a byword for party feeling and faction, has settled down. Its drainage problem still remains unsolved and its sanitary condition, therefore, gives rise to much unfavourable comment. But, generally, the character of the administration has improved. Cossipore-Chitpur has had a fairly uneventful year. The financial position needs to be carefully watched, and the problems of adequate water-supply and proper drainage still await solution. Like Maniktala, Cossipore-Chitpur's problems are complicated by external conditions. Of the other suburban municipalities Garden Reach is the best run, and signs of a vigorous administration are visible. Tollygunge is in great financial difficulties, being in debt to the Calcutta Corporation for a whole year's water-rate. An effort is now being made to put matters right, but there is great lack of foresight and vigour in the administration. The South Suburban Municipality is surprisingly backward. Further south, Budge-Budge is embarking on a scheme of improved drainage which is much needed. The mill municipalities continue to prosper and the relations between the Indian and European Commissioners have been most friendly. The other riparian municipalities call for no remark, their poverty preventing them from embarking on any ambitious schemes.

"Most of the municipalities away from the Hooghly consist of groups of rural villages, and the administration generally is feeble. Usually there are many more miles of metalled roads than can be properly maintained and, save a latrine service of varying efficiency, almost none of the ordinary conveniences of municipal life are available. Drainage almost everywhere is bad, and in the few places where a drainage system has been introduced at a considerable cost the results are almost nil. Lighting is poor or non-existent. Unfortunately, too, the administration of many of these municipalities is in the hands of Commissioners who are generally non-resident, but who take a great deal of trouble to obtain posts, the duties of which they cannot discharge. In other cases the most influential local resident is the successful candidate for the post of Chairman and, having obtained it, leaves everything to the Vice-Chairman or the office staff, which in too many cases becomes the real local executive, with evil results."

Mr. Prentice adds—and the Governor in Council would invite the attention of all municipal Commissioners to his remarks—"Administrative improvement can be easily brought about if only those who aspire to and obtain office recognize that office entails work as well as confers dignity and that, as trustees for the public, they are bound to see that the public money is fairly collected and also spent to the best advantage, that the staff are the servants of the public, and not their masters, as is too often the case, that the requirements of the law are met and that correspondence is disposed of with reasonable despatch. In short, there must be much more attention to the detail and drudgery of administration".

In Nadia the District Magistrate points out that party spirit, which is so frequently decried as an obstacle to progress, is often of real service as the opposition presses for improvement of the administration. Berhampore is undertaking the improvement of its water-supply and drainage systems, but want of funds prevents appreciable progress in either direction. A recent inspection by the Examiner of Local Accounts shows that the financial position of Khulna has gone from bad to worse.

The Commissioner of Burdwan reports that the municipalities in his Division were fairly well managed with the exception of Burdwan, Hooghly-Chinsura, Serampore and Bansberia. The continued maladministration of Burdwan and Hooghly-Chinsura has compelled Government to take the extreme step of ordering the supersession of the Municipal Commissioners. The administration of Serampore was characterized by the same grave defects as that of Burdwan and Hooghly-Chinsura. Lack of supervision led to the accumulation of heavy arrears of taxes, serious irregularities, embezzlement and excessive outstanding liabilities. The liabilities, as already mentioned, aggregated Rs. 51,680, or nearly three-fourths of the current demand, while the actual balance in hand amounted to Rs. 5,619. Bansberia is said to be the worst managed of the small municipalities, and the District Magistrate describes its administration as deplorable. The Governor in Council considers it necessary to draw the special attention of the Municipal Commissioners of both Serampore and Bansberia to these remarks, and to administer a grave warning as to the necessity of reform.

The Commissioner of Rajshahi gives a favourable account of the municipalities in his Division, which, with few exceptions, continued to do good work. The most notable exception is Rampore-Boalia, which, as in previous years, suffered from general feebleness and want of enterprise. Natore in the same district set an example which the headquarters town might well follow, for, in spite of greater difficulties, it was well administered without friction.

Darjeeling kept up its usual high standard of administration, and the Municipal Commissioners were conspicuous for a keen sense of public spirit and for the harmony with which they disposed of business.

The reports on municipalities in Eastern Bengal are generally jejune and give no clear and comprehensive conspectus of their work. The same defect has characterized their annual reports for some time past, and the Governor in Council suspects that it is due to want of that intimate knowledge which can only be gained from inspections. Mymensingh has shown a progressive spirit, and increased taxation has enabled the Municipal Commissioners to take up important improvements. The other municipalities in the Mymensingh District are unprogressive. Some of them show a strong tendency to evade their responsibilities, in particular by trying to shift the burden of maintaining municipal roads on to the District Board. Comilla has decided to substitute a rate on holdings for a tax on persons with a consequent increase of revenue, and the Municipal Commissioners have in view several schemes of improvement. In Noakhali the problems of the Commissioners are complicated by the possibility of the town being swept away by the sea.

19. Inspections.—The Governor in Council regrets to observe that none of the municipalities in the Chittagong Division were inspected by District Magistrates during the year. The record in the Dacca Division is scarcely more satisfactory, only 5 out of 17 municipalities being inspected by District Magistrates. On the other hand, there was, with a few exceptions, no neglect of this important duty in North and West Bengal. The Governor in Council desires to draw the attention of all District Officers to the need of thorough and regular inspection of the municipalities in their districts.

20. The names of the following gentlemen have been specially brought to the notice of Government by the Commissioners of Divisions on account of the good work done by them in municipal administration, and the Governor in Council desires to express his appreciation of their public spirit :—

CHAPTER IX.

Account Rules—(Judicial).

NOTE 1.—These Rules (framed under the Chapter Act) are for observance by Judicial, Magisterial, and all Civil officers, not in direct account with the Accountant-General, in the receipt and payment of money.

NOTE 2.—The Rules were originally issued with C. O. No. 4 of 5th March, 1881. Amending Rules are noted in the margin.

NOTE 3.—The Account forms referred to in the Rules will be found in Volume II, Appendix A-I, Nos. 1 to 37.

NOTE 4.—The appendices at the end of the Chapter are intended for the guidance of officers in carrying out the Rules.

Application of the rules.

1. The following rules prescribe the procedure for the receipt and payment of money, and for keeping accounts, to be observed by officers exercising judicial powers and dealing with money in that capacity. These rules do not apply to the High Court, or to the Presidency Small Cause Court; nor do they apply to the subordinates of the Magistrate of the District, because such of them as are stationed in the interior of the district exercise also Collectorate powers and keep their accounts under Treasury rules, and the transactions of those at head-quarters are included in those of the Magistrate. They apply to all Judges, Additional Judges, Subordinate Judges, Munsifs, Small Cause Court Judges, and Magistrates of Districts, and these are all included under the general term "Judge."

NOTE 1.—The Rules apply to Judges of Small Cause Courts (other than the Sealdah Court) as if they were District Judges (vide Rule 3), and not as if subordinate to District Judges.—(Accountant-General's No. 279, dated 4th June 1881.)

NOTE 2.—The Judge of the Small Cause Court at Sealdah has been exempted from these rules as there is no Treasury at Sealdah, and the Judge keeps a small cash chest, rendering accounts to the Accountant-General direct.—(Deputy Accountant-General's No. 183, dated 30th April 1881.)

2. While the rules generally are applicable to all the officers just mentioned, a special procedure is laid down, where necessary, for Courts not situated at or near a Treasury or Sub-Treasury. Such Courts are in the Rules designated "Out-stations," which term must be held to include Courts at or near Sub-Treasuries during such time as the Sub-Treasuries may be temporarily closed owing to the absence of the Subdivisional Officer from his head-quarters.

The "District Judge."

3. (a) In these Rules the term "District Judge" signifies the officer whose accounts are rendered to the Accountant-General, either for his own Court only, or for his own and subordinate Courts. Any officer may be vested with the powers of a District Judge for the purposes of these Rules; and in any district in which a District Judge is not for the time being resident they shall be exercised by the principal Civil Judicial Officer at head-quarters.

NOTE.—Only one set of returns should be sent to the District Judge for the Courts whose accounts are kept together, and not a separate set for each Court.—(Accountant-General's No. 141-A., dated 26th April 1881.)

(b) In Districts such as Malda, Bogra, etc., where there is no District Judge, the principal Civil Judicial Officers at the head-quarters are the officers invested with the powers of a District Judge for the purposes of accounts; and they will keep and render the accounts of all the Civil Courts in their respective districts. A District Judge cannot delegate his powers as regards accounts to any of his subordinates. What he can do, when absolutely necessary, is to place any of the officers subordinate to him in charge of accounts, without in any way relieving himself of responsibility for the due accounting for all receipts and payments. When this is done, the Judge's establishment will do all the work in connection with the accounts, the subordinate officer will sign the papers as if he were placed in charge of the current duties of the Judge's Court, and to the Chief Ministerial officer of the District Judge's Court (but of no other Court at head-quarters stations) may be delegated the duty of passing chalans.

The "Judge in charge."

4. The term "Judge in charge" is used to designate the officer who, when there are two or more Courts at one station, supervises the single set of accounts maintained for all such Courts. When there is but one Court at a station, the Judge thereof is the "Judge in charge" of his own accounts.

Accountant-General's letter Nos. 101-A and 141-A, dated 26th April 1881. Redraf ed 1917

NOTE.—At head-quarters stations the accounts for all Courts shall be kept in the District Judge's Court. At subdivisions and out-stations, the accounts of all Courts shall be kept in the office of the Munsif placed by the District Judge in charge of the accounts of that station, and to his office shall be attached the staff of the Accounts Department.

Heads of Account.

5. The following are the heads of account in the public accounts under which the money received and paid by Judicial Officers, or under their orders, is classified:—

Rule No. 1 of 21st February 1896

(a) Civil or criminal deposits, including rent deposits and compensation for land taken up for public purposes.

Rule No. 14 of 23rd September 1890

NOTE 1.—Any sum deposited in Court under section 14 (1) of the Succession Certificate Act, 1889, with an application for a certificate or for the extension of a certificate, must be classed under Civil deposits.

NOTE 2.—See Note 3 to Rule 19.

(b) Fines (judicial); refunds of the same.

NOTE.—For refunds of fines, see Rule 46 and Note 1 thereto.

(c) Stamp duty and penalties realized in Court. Refunds of the value of court-fee stamps.

NOTE.—For refunds, see Notes to Rule 33, and Rules 46 and 47 and Notes thereto.

(d) Value of the unclaimed property of intestates and others credited to Government.

NOTE.—District Judges' Courts alone deal with the unclaimed property of intestates. The value thereof cannot be credited to Government until the time limited by law has expired (vide Rule 102). For refunds under heads (d) to (g), see Rule 46 and Note 2 thereto.

Rule No. 4 of 9th August 1894. [Clauses (e) to (h).]

(e) Other general fees, fines, and forfeitures, i.e., general forfeitures and forfeitures of earnest money by defaulting bidders.

(f) Record-room receipts, i.e., searching fees, copying fees, and comparing fees.

NOTE.—When receipts under this head are realized in stamps, they need not be entered in the accounts as cash receipts

(g) Miscellaneous receipts, i.e., sale-proceeds of forms and other items.

NOTE 1.—Details of amounts credited as "other" should invariably be furnished to the Treasury Officer.

NOTE 2.—Service-books are sold direct from the Treasury to parties requiring them; there can, therefore, be no cash receipts on this account

NOTE 3.—Under this head should be credited money received as expenses of Government servants summoned as witnesses in their official capacity, in cases to which Government is a party, when their pay exceeds Rs. 10 per mensem or when their head-quarters are situate more than 5 miles from the Court—vide Note 3, under clause (i), below. Rule No 13 of 1918.

(h) Sale-proceeds of old stores and materials.

NOTE 1.—Receipts under this head are credited to the head "XXV—Miscellaneous" in the Treasury accounts.

NOTE 2.—The Treasury Officer should invariably be informed of the nature of the items, e.g., whether furniture or stores.

(i) Peremptory receipts, i.e., witnesses' expenses, prisoners' diet-money, boat-hire, costs of adjournments, Amins' travelling allowance, fees payable to Commissioners for taking evidence, postage, and other peremptory receipts.

NOTE 1.—Money orders or postal notes for the payment of witnesses' expenses, or of any other of the peremptory items falling under clause (i) shall be made payable to the cashier of the Court to which the money is remitted. The Cashier will receive the money as provided in Rule 26, and will deal with it as directed in Rule 32. C. O. No. 3 of 23rd January 1885.

In the case of money orders, the number of the suit and other necessary particulars shall be entered in the coupon which is now attached to all money orders.

NOTE 2.—The Civil Court shall not receive postage stamps in payment of travelling and other expenses of witnesses. C. O. No. 9 of 18th September 1883

NOTE 3.—When Government Officers are summoned to appear as witnesses in Civil Courts in their official capacity in cases to which Government is a party, all sums recovered under Order XVI of the Code of Civil Procedure on account of their travelling and other expenses, should be paid into the Treasury, a certificate of attendance only being given to them. When, however, the pay of the Government servants does not exceed Rs. 10 per mensem or when their head-quarters are situate within 5 miles of the Court all amounts recovered on account of their travelling and other expenses should be paid in full to them, a certificate of payment being at the same time granted. G. L. No 23 of 3rd December 1891 Amended by Rule No. 13 of 1918.

NOTE 4.—As regards money received for payment of postage and postage stamps received, see notes to Rules 32 and 35.

NOTE 5.—Landlords' fees and costs of transmission levied under section 13 (1) of the Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885, as amended by Bengal Act 1 of 1907, shall be received in cash and dealt with as peremptory receipts. Every sum so received shall, on receipt by the Cashier, be forthwith paid in separately by him into the Treasury as a Revenue Deposit to the credit of the Collector. One copy of the chalan shall be made over by the Cashier to the Court into which the amount was paid, to be filed with the record of the case to which it relates, and a duplicate copy of the chalan shall be sent to the Collector with the notices to be served by him. G. L. No. 1 of 9th March 1908

The process-fees for the service of notices required under the said section shall also be levied in cash, and shall be paid into the Treasury to the credit of Government with chalans separate from those used for the landlords' fees, duplicate copies of the chalans being sent to the Collector with the notices, and third copies being filed with the record. G O. No. 11 of 1911

NOTE 6.—The cost of photographic enlargements of finger prints made by the Finger Print Bureau of the Criminal Investigation Department as well as the pay and fees of the Finger Print Expert, when summoned to give evidence at the instance of a private party, shall be received in cash and dealt with as peremptory receipts. All sums so received shall, on receipt by the Cashier, be forthwith paid in separately by him into the Treasury as a receipt of the Police Department. A chalan in triplicate shall be prepared, of which one copy shall be kept in the Court, another forwarded with the cash to the Treasury, and the third sent to the office of the Inspector-General of Police with a duplicate of the Court's certificate in Form No. (M) 161, at page 224, Volume II. Rule No. 3 of 1915.

NOTE 7.—For payments of sums received under head (i), see Rule 12.

6. From the list of headings in Rule 5 it will appear that the rules apply only to money received by an officer in his judicial capacity. They do not apply to Local Fund receipts and payments, nor to money received by way of permanent advance, or upon establishment or contingent bills (see Rule 35). As regards Local Funds there is a separate system of rules; and as regards other items, a Judicial Officer should deal with them under the rules applicable to other officers.

General principles.

7. The receipts and payments under head (a) must appear in the Court's account in detail, but in the Treasury account in which a personal ledger account only is maintained for this head, the daily totals of receipts and payments made at the Court and the individual items of receipts and payments at the Treasury will appear. All receipts and payments under heads (b) and (c) and (h) above must appear in the Court's accounts and in the Treasury accounts in detail. An account in detail of all receipts under heads (e) to (g) must be kept in the Court, but only the daily totals of each kind of receipts will appear in the Treasury books. All receipts and payments under head (i) will be made on the responsibility of the Cashier, whose security must be sufficient to cover any amount in his hands. They will not appear at all Amended by Rule No 4 of 9th August 1894. Further amended in 1903 and 1917.

in the Treasury accounts, but the balance in the hands of the Cashier must be noted daily in the cash-book, as well as the balances of any other moneys with which he may be entrusted (e.g., permanent advance or pay of establishment).

NOTE.—Fractions of a pie are not to be entered in the Court's accounts, and they should neither be received nor paid.—(H. C. Pros., August 1898, No. 35.)

8. An exception to rule 7 is allowed in cases where money has to be paid by one person to another, and both are present in Court. In such cases the money may be passed direct from the one to the other under the sanction of the Court, the fact being noted in the record of the case. Such transactions are not to appear in the accounts at all. Care must, however, be taken to see that no officer of the Court receives or becomes in any way responsible for the money, and that no receipt for it is given by the Court or any officer of Government. This procedure may conveniently be followed in cases where judgment-debtors are prepared to satisfy the claims of judgment-creditors, where costs of the day are allowed by the Court, or where sums in excess of those paid into Court are to be paid to witnesses.

9. Judges will, as far as possible, in their transactions with the public, avoid the direct receipt and payment of money under head (c) of rule 5. Cash must, however, be received—

(a) when the Court is bound by law to accept payment either absolutely or up to a given time (vide section 55, and order XXI, rules 81 and 85, of the Code of Civil Procedure), and in every such case the money shall be received even although tendered after the hour prescribed by rule 15;

(b) when the proceeds of movable property sold in execution (Order XXI, rule 77, of the Code of Civil Procedure) are realized after the hour prescribed in rule 15;

(c) at out-stations in the case of rent deposits under section 46, Landlord and Tenant Procedure Act, 1869, and sections 61 and 62, Bengal Tenancy Act, 1885; and

Rule No. 14 of 23rd September 1890.

(d) any sum deposited under section 14 (1) of the Succession Certificate Act, 1889, must be received in cash, even though tendered after the hour prescribed by rule 15.

Amended by Rule No 2 of 28th May 1896.

10. At out-stations cash transactions under head (a) of Rule 5 are allowed. Money should, however, be received in cash only when, having regard to the balance in hand (which should not ordinarily exceed Rs. 500), this can conveniently be done. Payments of small sums should ordinarily be made out of cash in hand, but large payments should be made in cash, only if this can be done conveniently, and if it is better thus to disburse the balance of cash in hand than to remit it to the Treasury.

11. Judges of Small Cause Courts, and Munsifs exercising Small Cause Court powers, though their Courts are situated within daily reach of a Treasury, may, by special order of the High Court, be empowered to receive and pay in cash small sums coming under head (a) of rule 5. The sums so paid shall not in any case exceed Rs. 100 in amount.

Amended in 1908, and further amended 1917.

12. Money under heads (b) to (i) of rule 5 may ordinarily be received in cash in all Courts. As explained in the notes to rule 46, repayments under heads (b) to (g) should ordinarily be made only through the Treasury. Repayments of deposits in favour of Wards' estates will be made at the Treasury only, and not in cash, but by transfer to the credit of the personal ledger account of the estate concerned. (See notes to rules 36 and 42.) Under head (i) payments will ordinarily be made in cash by the Cashier on his own responsibility. No refunds should be made on account of head (h)

13. Except in the case of Courts at out-stations the whole cash balance must be remitted to the Treasury* as provided by rule 54 below, at the close of each day. At out-stations the entire cash balance must be so remitted on the last day of the month, and from time to time on such other days in the course of the month as may be convenient. Should, however, the cash balance at any out-station be less than Rs. 25 at the end of any month, the officer concerned may send a special report of the circumstances to the Collector of the district and keep the balance in hand for remittance during the following month. Under no circumstances shall the balance of cash in hand be allowed to exceed Rs. 500 unless the special permission of the Court has been secured to accumulate the same up to a higher limit.

*Or to a Branch Bank—vide Note to Rule 58.

Rule No. 15 of 27th November 1891. Amended 1910.

NOTE.—In the case of the following Munsifs of masonry construction, which are provided with safes of English manufacture, the balance of cash in hand may be allowed to accumulate up to a limit of Rs. 1,000, viz. :— Rules Nos. 2 of 28th May 1896; 8 of 19th September 1898; 5 of 1909; 4 of 1913; 4 and 6 of 1917; and 9 of 1918.

14. If, after a remittance, and before further cash has come in, payments in cash are necessary they should be made from the permanent advance.

15. For the purposes of these rules in all Courts the "day" must be taken to close at 2 P.M. and the next "day" to extend from that hour to 2 P.M. of the following calendar day. Between 2 and 3 P.M. the accounts shall be made up, and no transaction shall take place in Court. If, under exceptional circumstances, any transactions have to be allowed after 3 P.M. they must be entered in the Court's accounts bearing date the next open day.

NOTE.—On the last working day of each month, or when the Treasury closes at 1 P.M., it is necessary that the accounts be closed at noon and, in this case, the next day shall extend from noon till 2 P.M. of the following calendar day.

16. The "month," for the purposes of these rules, shall be taken to close, in Courts at District Headquarters, at the end of the last account day of the month; in Courts at Sub-Treasuries, at 2 P.M. on the day on which the accounts of the Sub-Divisional Treasury are finally closed for the month; and at out-stations at 2 P.M. of the last day on which the accounts can reach the Treasury in time for incorporation with the Treasury accounts for the last day of the month.

19. Any person desirous of paying money into Court or, in the case of collections made by any officer of the Court, the officer who has realized the money shall be furnished, free of cost, with three forms of chalan [form No. (M) 1], in each of which he must enter in the Vernacular or English the particulars required from him. One of the chalans, herein called the original chalan, shall bear the Court-fee stamp (if any) required by law.

[1] For Supplementary rules as to receipts under heads (b) to (h) see rules 99 to 106.

NOTE 1.—In the case of deposit chalans care must be taken to enter fully the nature of the deposit, the number of the suit or execution case (if any), the name of the person on whose behalf the money is paid in and of the person to whom it is to be paid over, etc.

G. O. No. 10 of 12th May 1877.

NOTE 2.—No stamp is required for a tender of money which a party is bound to pay into Court in the progress of a suit or to complete a purchase as the Court cannot refuse the tender.

In cases where the payment is voluntary, such as deposits made on account of rent, or by a mortgager and the like, a stamp should be required ; but, if the application or petition be duly stamped, a second fee should not be exacted for the chalan.

Rule No. 14 of 23rd September 1890.

NOTE 3.—In the case of sums deposited under section 14 (l) of the Succession Certificate Act, 1889, the deposit chalans must show that the amount is deposited to the credit of the Judge.

Rule No. 1 of 21st February 1896.

NOTE 4.—(a) All payments into Court for deposit under the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, shall be made by means of cheques drawn by the Land Acquisition Officer in favour of the presiding officer of the Court to credit of Civil Court deposits. The transactions will be passed through the Court's accounts in the same way as a deposit in cash.

(b) The cheques of the Land Acquisition Officer shall be accompanied by receipts, in triplicate, in form No. (M) 2, duly filled up, of which one will be retained by the Court for record, and the other two returned, duly signed, to the Collector. Payments of the amounts deposited shall be made under the rules for the payment of Civil Court deposits.

[N.B.—These receipts should be regarded as chalans and dealt with in the matter of numbering and registration in the same manner as chalans tendered with other Civil deposits. It is not intended that there should be a separate register for them, the register of chalans being sufficient for the purpose] .

(c) When a Court awards any compensation in excess of the Land Acquisition Officer's award the further payment due shall also be made into the Court by means of a cheque and the procedure prescribed in the preceding paragraph shall be followed ; form No. (M) 2 being used with the necessary changes in order to give full particulars of the order of the Court.

(d) Investments under sections 32 and 33 of the Act, of money deposited in Court, shall be arranged for, in the case of Government securities, in communication between the Court and the Civil Accountant-General concerned, and purchases of land should be effected under the Court's orders through the Collector or other Revenue authority of the district. The Accountant-General will inform the Court what sum should be remitted in order to enable him to make the investment, and this amount will be paid from the deposits in Court.

20. The person desirous of paying in the money, having filled up the forms of chalan, shall present them to the chief ministerial officer of the Court mentioned in rule 18. The latter shall then ascertain that the amount tendered is correct, and is due, from the person on whose account it is tendered to the person to whom it is stated to be payable and, after correcting the forms of chalan, if necessary, shall sign part I, and pass the forms on to the Accountant of the Court, or set of Courts, who, having filled up part II, shall number and register them in a Register of Chalans [form No. (M) 16]. In column 3 he shall enter the name of the person actually tendering the money, and of the person on whose behalf it is tendered. In column 4 he shall enter the name of the person (if any) to whom the money is payable, and all the other particulars stated in the chalan and necessary for subsequently posting up the Register of Deposit Receipts.

Registry of chalans. Entries to be approved by Judge in charge.

21. A separate index number shall be given to each chalan. The numbers in a consecutive series shall be entered both in the chalan and in the register. The Accountant shall be careful to enter in the chalan the particular heading under rule 5 to which the receipt belongs.

Amended by rule No. 13 of 15th September 1890.

22. The register and the chalans shall then be laid before the Judge in charge, and he shall initial each entry as he passes the chalans. The three chalans shall then be returned to the party tendering the money, and shall be his authority to pay the same into the Court or into the Treasury.

Amplified 1917.

NOTE.—At sub-divisions and out-stations the Judge in charge may, with the previous sanction of the District Judge, delegate to the chief ministerial officer of his Court the duty of passing chalans.

23. No person is required to take out a chalan till he is actually ready to pay in the money for which he takes it, but a chalan, once having been taken out, must be presented without delay. The order to the Treasury Officer must, therefore, be limited in its operation to the day upon which the chalan is made over to the applicant or, if the transaction occurs after the accounts are closed (rule 15), to the next open day. This is distinctly provided for in the form of order. In case of failure to tender the money at the Treasury within the time limited the tenderer must obtain, by written application, an order from the Court extending the time.

NOTE.—When a chalan is issued on the Treasury it may be acted upon till 3 P M. of the day following that on which it is issued, if so ordered by the Court. But, when the chalan is for the receipt of money at the Court, it should be restricted in its operation to the day of issue—(vide Accountant-General's No. 452, dated the 9th August 1882).

24. In the case of out-stations the order to the Treasury Officer shall be so dated as to allow sufficient time to the payee to reach the Treasury, but not more time than is necessary for this purpose shall be granted.

Heads (f), (g), and (i) of rule 5.

25. Receipts under heads (f) and (g) of rule 5 (searching, copying, or comparing fees, sale-proceeds of forms, and other receipts), when payable in cash, shall be tendered in the first place to the Accountant, and noted by him in a special register [form No. (M) 17]. The Accountant shall enter the name of the tenderer, the amount to be paid, and the number and date in the foil and counterfoil of the register, shall then detach the right-hand portion, and make it over to the tenderer for presentation, with the money, to the Cashier. Amended in 1908.

26. Peremptory receipts under head (i) of rule 5 shall be tendered to the Cashier direct without the intervention of the Accountant. A chalan is not required for such payments.

Receipt of money by Cashier.

27. The Cashier, on receiving a chalan in triplicate addressed to him under rule 20, or a payment slip issued by the Accountant under rule 25, or a tender of money under rule 26, shall accept the money, and at once enter the amount as a receipt in the appropriate cash-book (rules 32 and 33). Amended by rule No. 13 of 15th September 1890.

28 (a) When chalans have been so passed he shall keep two copies and return the third copy, with his receipt enfaced upon it. This receipt shall be produced in Court by the person paying the money when it is necessary for him to have satisfaction entered upon the record of the case to which he is a party, or when it is necessary to have a sale confirmed or notices issued upon the landlord in cases of rent deposits, or upon the creditor in cases of debt due to a mortgage creditor, and the like. Of the two copies of the chalan retained by the Cashier one shall be filed with the record of the case to which the person paying the money is a party. Rule No. 10 of 26th November 1901.

(b) In the same way, on presentation of the chalan (in triplicate) at the Treasury, as prescribed in rule 23, and on payment of the money, the payer shall receive, as an acknowledgment, one of the three chalans signed; by the Treasury Officer, if the amount be Rs. 500 or more—by the Accountant and Treasurer, if less than that sum. Of the two copies of the chalan retained by the Treasury Officer one copy shall be forwarded to the Judge in charge, together with the Advice Lists referred to in rule 61, in order that it may be filed with the record of the case in connection with which the deposit was made.

29. (a) When, under clauses (a) and (b) of rule 9 above a tender is made of money which must, by law, be received, the payment shall be made direct into Court in cash, but only under the express order of the presiding officer, who shall himself sign the chalans and see that the money is duly entered in the accounts in the manner prescribed in rule 15. C. O. No. 6 of 9th May 1890.

(b) The Sale Account Register [form No. (M) 32] shall be filled up in every case by the Nazir or other officer holding the sale, and shall be presented by him at the close of the day to the presiding officer of the Court under the orders of which the sale has been held.

NOTE.—The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure render it necessary that cash should sometimes be received by the Nazir, even where sales are held at headquarters, where there is a Treasury. It is, therefore, very important that all Judges should see that the cash so received is duly forwarded to the Treasury and credited in account, and it is the object of the Sale Account Register to bring to the notice of the Judges all such cash transactions that they may satisfy themselves as to the regular and immediate disposal of the proceeds.

30. In the case of payment slips the Cashier shall countersign the slip, which the applicant is to retain as a voucher, and, when a copy has been applied for, his authority to take delivery of the same when ready.

31. When money is tendered under rule 26 the Cashier shall enter the amount in the foil and counterfoil of a bound book [form No. (M) 28] of receipts numbered in serial order. He shall then tear off the counterfoil, sign it, and give it to the payer as his voucher.

Peremptory Cash-books.

Amended in 1917.

32. To exhibit the peremptory receipts and payments [head (i) of rule 5], for which the Cashier is responsible, and of which the Accountant keeps no record, the Cashier shall maintain two registers in forms No. (M) 29 (i) and (M) 29 (ii), in which each class of such receipts and payments shall be separately exhibited—those relating to witnesses' expenses in register (M) 29 (i) and those relating to other items in the appropriate columns of register (M) 29 (ii). A balance of both registers shall be struck at the close of each day, and the totals shall be written both in words and figures.

NOTE.—Money received for payment of postage should be shown along with other peremptory receipts in the Cashier's Peremptory Cash-books—(Accountant-General's No. 101A., dated the 26th April 1881.) As regards postage stamps received see note to rule 35.

General Cash-book.

Amended in 1917.

33. The Cashier's general cash-book shall be maintained in form No. (M) 30, and shall exhibit in detail all receipts and repayments under heads (a) to (h). Receipts and payments under head (i) shall not be carried to the General Cash-book in gross, but the balances of the Peremptory Cash-books shall be exhibited therein, in words as well as figures, as directed below.

NOTE 1.—Being restricted to transactions in actual cash the General Abstract Cash-book is not to show receipts in the form of Court-fee labels, or refunds of the value of these, which, under rule 47 are ordinarily payable only at the Treasury.

NOTE 2.—But if any refunds are made on account of the value of these stamps out of the cash in the Court [and this is allowable if the amount does not exceed Rs. 5 (see rule 47)], they should be included in the cash-book like other payments in cash.—(Accountant-General's No. 43T.M., dated the 28th April 1882.)

Accountant's check on Petty Receipts.

Amended in 1908

34. At the close of each day the Cashier shall submit to the Accountant his General Cash-book, and the Accountant shall check the entries of receipts under heads (f) and (g) of rule 5 with those on the counterfoil of his register. The Accountant shall then prepare a chalan in form No. (M) 1 of the whole amount received by the Cashier, distinguishing each kind of receipt separately, and shall enter it in the Register of Chalans [Form No. (M) 16] as an amount received in Court. The amount in the Register of Chalans must tally with the Cashier's receipts under heads (a) to (h).

Amended in 1908.

NOTE 1.—The "whole amount received by the Cashier" refers to the whole of petty receipts for which no chalan is required to be prepared until the close of the day. After they are checked by the Accountant with the entries on the counterfoil of the Special Register in form No. (M) 17 they must be distinguished in the chalan, one from the other, as "searching fees", "copying fees", "comparing fees", etc. [vide rule 5 (f) and (g)], and entered in the Register of Chalans [form No. (M) 16] in the column headed "Amount received in Court". The total in this column must include the Cashier's receipts under all the heads (a) to (h) shown in his General Cash-book (vide rule 33).—(Accountant-General's No. 764, dated the 29th November 1881.)

NOTE 2.—The chalan referred to above should be signed by the Cashier.—(Accountant-General's No. T.M. 503, dated the 9th October 1903.)

Daily Balance.

Amended in 1917.

35. The Cashier shall then strike a balance in his General Cash-book (to be entered in words, as well as figures) and enter below it, in separate entries, the balances struck in the Peremptory Cash-book. It is advisable, for purposes of record, that he should be required also to enter here a note of the money held by him upon any other account, such as for contingent expenditure, or for salaries of establishment. These form no substantive part of the judicial accounts, but the Judge ought to have in a single view a statement of all the money in the Cashier's possession. This statement may be made as follows:—

Balance of General Cash-book, as above—

Peremptory balance	Register (i) ...	0	0	0
Establishment pay undistributed		0	0	0

NOTE.—Postage stamps received by way of remittance should not be mixed up with cash receipts. An account should be kept separately in the form of a plus and minus memo., the stamps being added as they are received, and deducted when they are sold or otherwise disposed of, and the balance in hand should be entered daily, as directed above, in the General Cash-book.

Application for payment.

36. (a) Persons desiring to draw money deposited in Court and payable to them shall submit to the chief ministerial officer of the Court under whose decree or order the money was tendered an application in form No. (M) 4 or, in the case of a rent deposit, in form No. (M) 5. One copy of such form shall be supplied free of charge. In this form the applicant shall enter all particulars necessary for the identification of the credit. Any number of deposits made in the same case may be withdrawn on a single application, but the number or date and amount of each deposit must be separately and clearly stated. A separate application must be made for deposits in separate cases. Rule No. 4 of 15th March 1898.

NOTE 1.—If the party entitled to the money does not appear in person the applicant must satisfy the Court that he is duly authorized by an instrument in writing to draw the money for the person so entitled.

NOTE 2.—The applicant must comply strictly with the terms of the order under which the money is claimed. Thus, one of a number of joint decree-holders cannot be allowed to take out what he calls his share in the decretal amount; they must all join in the application unless there has been an order for distribution.

This note is not intended to prohibit the payment of the entire amount of deposit to one of a number of joint decree-holders, or to one of joint landholders on the certificate of the Court under whose orders the money was received, that the amount is payable to him for himself and for all the others, whose names should be mentioned. What is intended to be barred is the payment of this amount in instalments to the several decree-holders separately unless there has been an order for distribution.—(Accountant-General's No. 45T.M., dated the 28th April 1882.)

NOTE 3.—In the case of an application for payment of a deposit in favour of a wards estate, which will be paid not in cash, but by transfer at the Treasury to the personal ledger account of the estate concerned (see note to rule 42), the manager of the estate, or his duly authorized agent, in making his application, should insert the words "by transfer" in column 6 of part I of the form (M) 4. If the personal ledger account of the estate is maintained at a Treasury other than that at which the repayment of the deposit is to be made a money-order form, duly filled in in favour of the Treasury Officer who maintains the account, should accompany the application in order that the amount may be remitted, less money-order commission. Inserted 1917.

(b) In cases in which Court-fee stamps are purchased by the Nazir from deposits the final order for the payment of such deposits must contain a direction to the Treasury Officer to pay the amount in stamps to the Nazir of the Judge to whose credit it was deposited and to transfer the amount of deposit to stamp revenue. Rule No. 11 of 31st March 1892.

NOTE 1.—A duplicate of the application need not be filed with the record. All that is necessary is that, before passing on the application to the Accountant, the chief ministerial officer shall note the order for the payment on the records of the case so that a second claim for the amount may not be passed —(Accountant-General's No. 93, dated the 3rd July 1883.)

NOTE 2.—This rule should not be held to apply to outlying Munsifis at places where there is no Treasury. In such cases the Munsifs should purchase stamps from local stamp-vendors, for cash, out of the deposit money in their hands.—(H. C. Progs., June 1892, Nos. 166, 167.)

Audit of application.

37. The chief ministerial officer shall compare the application with the record of the case, and carefully test the validity of the claim. If he finds that the name of the payee has been correctly given, and that there is no objection to the payment of the money on the ground of attachment or otherwise, he shall make enquiry as to the identity of the applicant and, if satisfied of such identity, shall sign the certificate at the foot of part I of the application and, after obtaining the signature of the presiding officer to it, pass on the application so signed to the Accountant of the Court, or group of Courts. Such Accountant shall compare the contents of the application Rule No. 4 of 15th March 1898. (Substituting rules 37 to 39.)

with the Register of Deposit Receipts, and shall satisfy himself that the amount as shown has been received and is still unpaid, that the name of the claimant corresponds with the name of the payee entered in the register, and that no order for the attachment of the money is in force. If the deposit has been transferred to the Clearance Register (rules 87 and 88) such Clearance Register shall be deemed to be the Register of Deposit Receipts within the meaning of this rule and rules 41 to 44.

NOTE.—The chief ministerial officer will enter in the order sheet of the record of the case a note that a payment order has been issued so that a second claim for the amount may not be passed. This note should be signed by that officer, and also by the presiding officer.

38. If the record of the case has been despatched to the record-room of the District Judge under the orders of the High Court relating to the periodical despatch of records by subordinate judicial officers* the presiding officer of the Court to which the application is made shall forward it to the District Judge, whose record-keeper will certify, under countersignature of that officer, that a specified sum of money is due to the applicant. On receipt of such certificate the chief ministerial officer of the subordinate Court shall make enquiry as to the identity of the applicant and, if satisfied of such identity, shall sign the certificate at the foot of part I of the application and further deal with it in the manner prescribed by rule 37.

* See chapter III, rules 41 and 42

Rule No 4 of 1898 Amended in 1917

NOTE 1.—The record-keeper will enter in the order sheet of the record of the case a note that a payment order has been issued so that a second claim for the amount may not be passed. This note should be signed by that officer, and also by the District Judge or by such judicial officer at headquarters as the District Judge may appoint for the performance of this duty.

NOTE 2.—See rule 2, chapter VI, regarding the postage for such documents.

C. O. No. 7 of 1917.

NOTE 3.—If the amount certified by the District Judge's record-keeper does not agree with the amount stated in the application the chief ministerial officer of the subordinate Court should require the applicant, if satisfied with his identity, to submit an amended application on which the payment order may be issued.

39. Whenever, after despatch of the record of a case to the district record-room, any subordinate Court passes an order for the attachment of money in deposit in the case intimation thereof shall be forthwith sent to the District Judge. The District Judge shall thereupon cause such information to be noted in the order sheet of the case under the signature of the record-keeper and under his countersignature.

40. If the application for payment is found to be incorrect or defective the Accountant shall note the error or defect, and return it to the applicant for correction by him, or for reference by the applicant to the Court.

Payment Orders and Registry.

41. If the application is found to be correct, and the deposit has not lapsed, the Accountant shall fill up the second part of the application form, post the transaction in the Register of Payment Orders [Form No. (M) 18], number it with its proper index number, and make the requisite entry in the Register of Deposit Receipts. Finally, the application, with the Register of Payment Orders and the Register of Deposit Receipts, shall be laid before the Judge in charge.

Approval by Judge in charge.

42. Before passing the application for payment the Judge in charge shall satisfy himself, in the first instance, that the requirements of rule 37 have been complied with. He shall further satisfy himself, by personal inspection of his Register of Deposits, that the balance at credit of the particular deposit is sufficient to meet the payment, and that no order for the attachment of the money has been noted. If the result of the scrutiny is satisfactory he may sign the order for the payment of the amount, either from the local Treasury or from his Court, as prescribed in rules 9 to 12, and shall attest with his initials the note of the order of payment made in the Register of Deposit Receipts. He shall also initial the entries in the Register of Payment Orders [Form No. (M) 18]. The payment order shall then be made over to the applicant for presentation to the Cashier if the money is to be paid in Court, or to the Treasury Officer if it is to be paid by such officer.

NOTE.—Deposits in favour of an estate under the management of the Court of Wards should be paid not in cash from the Court, but at the Treasury by transfer to the credit of the personal ledger account maintained there for the estate concerned. The payment order should, therefore, be addressed to the Treasury Officer and should authorize him to "pay as above by transfer credit to the personal ledger account of Wards estate ," or (if the personal ledger account of the estate is maintained at a Treasury other than that from which the repayment of the deposit is made, in which case a money-order form, duly filled in in favour of the Treasury Officer who keeps the account for the amount, less money-order commission, must accompany the application) to "pay as above by transfer credit to Post Office in order that the amount may be remitted, less money-order commission, to the Treasury Officer, for credit to the personal ledger account of Wards' estate ". Inserted 1917.

43. When the money sought to be withdrawn is in deposit, not in the Court to which the application is made, but in another Court—as for example, where two or more Courts at one station are combined for the purposes of accounts—in every such case the duty of the Court to which the application is made shall be merely to receive such application and forward it to the Court of the Judge in charge, with a certificate, made after examination of the record, as provided in rule 37, that the applicant is the proper party to receive payment of the amount claimed. In any case in which the amount has been transferred from the credit of the original payee to that of the claimant this fact should be stated. This certificate shall be compared with the Deposit Register in the office of the Judge in charge. Such register, if the sum is shown therein to be in deposit, will inform the Judge whether there is any bar to payment. If there is no such bar the payment order may be issued by the Judge in charge, and the fact of its issue shall be communicated to the Court upon whose certificate the application was passed in order to enable it to enter satisfaction for the amount upon the record of the case. Rule No. 4 of 15th March 1898.

NOTE 1.—The certificate should be given on the payment order, that is to say, in the tripartite form No. (M) 4, vol. II. at foot of part I, in the place intended for it; and in recording the payments in the Register of Repayments particulars may be entered as to the Court under whose orders the payments have been made.—(Accountant-General's No 331T.B., dated the 5th September 1881, read with his No 42T.M., dated the 8th April 1882.)

NOTE 2.—When money realized under the decree of one Court is attached at the instance of another Court the application for payment should be made to the Court attaching the money. Such Court, after receiving the application, should forward it to the Court under whose decree the money is realised and, if there be no objection to the payment of the money to the applicant, the latter Court should deal with it under this rule; or, if the record of the case has been despatched to the district record-room, under rule 38. The Court so dealing with the application should also report to the attaching Court or, if the application has been dealt with under rule 38, also to the District Court that the amount claimed has been transferred from the credit of the original payee to that of the claimant.

Lapse of Order.

44. (a) An order for payment from the local Treasury is valid for ten days only, and may not be cashed after the expiry of ten clear days subsequent to the date thereof. An order which has not been paid within ten days as aforesaid may be presented to the Court which issued it, and such Court may re-enface thereupon a new payment order, which shall remain valid for ten clear days immediately after the date thereof. When the last day of any such period of ten days is a day on which the Treasury is closed the order may be cashed on the day on which such Treasury reopens.

NOTE.—An order for payment of money at the Court should be restricted in its operation to the day of issue. And, when money is to be paid immediately, the order of payment should be issued on the Cashier of the Court—(Accountant-General's No. 452, dated the 9th August 1882).

(b) When such order as aforesaid is for a sum exceeding Rs. 100 it should be included in a "Daily Advice List", in form No. (M) 10, to be issued by the Court making the order to the local Treasury where the cheque is to paid. Rule No. 3 of 22nd February 1898.

(c) When the Treasury accounts are closed on the 31st day of March in each year every order for payment issued on or before that date shall lapse absolutely; and Treasury Officers are forbidden to cash after the 31st March orders issued on or before that date. An order which has lapsed under this clause cannot be renewed, but a new order may be obtained upon delivering up the old order and making a fresh application under rule 36.

NOTE.—Judges should warn persons who apply for orders at the end of March of the effect of this rule, and tell them to wait till April 1st unless they mean to cash immediately any order that they may obtain.

(d) Immediately after the 31st day of March in each year the Judge in charge shall ascertain what payment orders issued on or before that date are still uncashed and shall mark them off under his initial in the registers (1) of Payment Orders, and (2) of Deposit Receipts as "cancelled under rule 44 (c)."

Lapsed Deposits.

45. When an application is made to draw money at credit under a deposit which has lapsed under rule 94, but the payment of which is otherwise unobjectionable, the Accountant shall prepare a special form of application [Form No. (M) 6] which, when passed by the Judge in charge after the examination prescribed by rule 42, shall be dealt with under rule 97.

Refunds under heads (b) to (h) of rule 5.

Amended in 1908.

46. When an application is made for the refund of a fine or a miscellaneous receipt [heads (b) to (g) of rule 5] the payment order shall be prepared by the Accountant in form No. (M) 7 after checking the application by a reference to the Fine Register or Miscellaneous Receipt Register (rule 99); and the Judge in charge, at the time of passing the refund order, shall note the repayment against the entry of the receipt in such register. The payment order shall also be noted in the Register of Payment Orders [Form No. (M) 18] and initialled by the Judge in charge. No refund should be made from the receipts under head (h) of rule 5.

NOTE 1.—As regards stamp duty and penalties see rule 101. While they may be realized in Court it will be observed that, under section 39 of the Stamp Act, they can be refunded only by the Collector. Form No. (M) 7 should be used for certificates for refund. For refunds of the value of Court-fee stamps see following rule.

NOTE 2.—Refunds under heads (d) to (g) of rule 5 can be made only through the Treasury.

47. Application for the refund of the value of Court-fee stamps is to be made to the chief ministerial officer, who shall compare the application with the record, and if he finds that a refund is due, shall draft and sign an order on the back of the paper to which the Court-fee stamps are affixed. The papers must then be passed on to the Accountant, who shall prepare a payment order in form No. (M) 8 or No. (M) 9, as the case may require, and shall enter the particulars in the Register of Payment Orders [form No. (M) 18]. The application, with the other papers and the register, shall then be laid before the judical officer who, if satisfied that the proceedings are in order, may sign the order of refund on the back of the stamped paper and the payment order and initial the entry in the register. The payment order shall then be made over to the applicant for presentation at the Treasury or, if the amount do not exceed Rs. 5, to the Cashier of the Court.

NOTE 1.—Petty refunds of the value of Court-fee stamps may be paid out of cash in the Court on vouchers in form No. (M) 9 and charged in the Cash-book.—(See notes to rule 33).

NOTE 2.—Court-fees realized in stamps may, under certain circumstances, be refunded by order of the Court.

NOTE 3.—No general rule can be laid down respecting the refund of the value of Court-fee stamps in cases where the fees have been paid into Court for the issue of processes and such processes have not issued. Each case must be left to the discretion of the Court, and decided on its merits. Where the amount is large it may well be refunded.—(H. C. Progs., June 1882, Nos. 496 and 497.)

NOTE 4.—In any exceptional case in which the paper to which the Court-fee stamps are affixed has been destroyed under the Rules for the Destruction of Records (see chapter III, rule 68) of the Court authorizing the payment should satisfy itself that the amount claimed is due, and record the order for refund on the application, which may be filed. In cases of this nature, it is objectionable to record a copy of the refund order in form No. (M) 9 for it is an order upon the Treasury, and there is risk of its being presented for payment.—(Accountant-General's No. 661, dated the 21st August 1881.)

NOTE 5.—The procedure laid down in this rule is for the refund of Court-fee stamps when application for such refund is made to a Court which keeps its own accounts (see rule 43).—(Accountant-General's No. 324 dated the 16th June 1881.)

NOTE 6.—Where there are two or more Civil Courts at one station, the Judge in charge, i.e., the officer in whose Court the combined accounts of all the Courts at the station are kept, should sign the refund order (Accountant-General's No. 156A., dated the 30th April 1881), and initial the Register of Payment Orders.

NOTE 7.—After receipt of the Treasury Advice List the Judge in charge should register the payment order in the Register of the Refund of the Value of Court-fee Stamps [Form No. (M) 28].—Accountant-General's No. 327, dated the 17th June 1881.)

48. In so far as concerns the accounts system it is invariably necessary to trace each item of payment under the Court's orders back to its corresponding item of receipt; in other words, to connect each item of a Court's debit in the Treasury with the corresponding item of credit, however far in time the two may be separated from each other. Accordingly the Court must take care to furnish itself and the Treasury with the necessary particulars for this purpose.

Payments by Cashier.

49. In the case of payment orders directed to the Cashier the payment must be entered by the Cashier in the General Cash-book, the payment order being retained by the Cashier as his voucher.

NOTE.—The Cashier should cancel the vouchers, as soon as he pays them, by writing on the face Paid" with his initials. A "Paid" stamp should not be used as that indicates the subsequent discharge at the Treasury.

Courts near Treasuries.

50. In Courts situated within daily reach of a Treasury the Accountant shall, after the close of business each day, make the proper entries in the Treasury Pass-book [Form No. (M) 19], showing in detail the sums received from and paid to the public in cash. The receipts shall be entered on the right-hand side, and are to consist of the sums entered in column 5 of the Register of Chalans [Form No. (M) 16] headed "Amount received in Court". The payments shall be entered on the left-hand side, and are to consist of the sums shown in column 5 of the Register of Payment Orders [Form No. (M) 18] headed "Amount cashed in Court".

NOTE.—The remittances to the Treasury at the close of each day, as well as the particulars of each payment to the public, must be entered in column 3 of the form of Pass-book No. (M) 19. To facilitate the calculation of the amount to be remitted to the Treasury at the close of each day's business two lines are provided in the form, one to show the total of receipts and payments at the Court, and the other the total for the day according to the receipt and payment sides. The receipts and payments at the Court being first entered and added up the difference between the total of receipts and that of payments will, if the receipts exceed the payments, be entered on the left side as remittance to the Treasury, or if the payments exceed the receipts on the left side as remittance from the Treasury. The total for the day will then be made up for both sides, which will agree together. The number of the chalan or payment order, on the back of which the amount to be remitted to, or received from, the Treasury is noted, may be shown against the entry made below the total of payments or receipts, but the head of account need not be noted in the Pass-book against the entries, nor need the entries be initialled by the Treasury Officer. Rule No. 8 of 28th July 1884.

51. Every chalan and payment order for money received or paid at Court under heads (a) to (h) shall be shown in detail in the Pass-book, and the head of account shall be noted against each, so as to enable the Treasury Officer to bring the transactions in detail upon his books and classify them correctly. Amended in 1908.

NOTE.—It is necessary to show in the Pass-book the totals only of each chalan and payment order. Each chalan may contain any number of items provided they belong to the same head of account.

Examination by Judge in Charge.

52. The Judge in-charge shall examine the accounts by comparing (1) the Registers of Chalans and Payment Orders (amounts received and paid in Court), with the Cashier's General Cash-book; (2) the Treasury Pass-book, with both; and (3) the balances shown in the Peremptory Cash-books, with those shown in the General Abstract Cash-book.

Daily remittances.

Amended by rules No. 15 of 5th November 1890; No. 5 of 23rd March 1898, and No. 11 of 20th December 1901. Further amended in 1917.

53. The balances of the Cashier's accounts in respect of diet-money and other peremptory receipts should be observed every day in passing the General Cash-book. To prevent excessive accumulations under this head the Judge in charge shall fix amounts which the balances in the hands of the Cashier on account of (i) witnesses' expenses, and (ii) other items of peremptory receipts, respectively, shall not be permitted to exceed. Whenever the balance shown in either Peremptory Cash-book exceeds the maximum so fixed the Judge in charge shall cause the excess to be transferred to civil deposit. Amounts so transferred shall be treated in the same manner as money received in Court, and shall be entered in detail in the Cashier's General Cash-book, both on the credit and debit sides, and also on the credit side of the Peremptory Cash Register to which they belong. A single chalan, in form No. (M) 1, shall be prepared under rule 34 by the Accountant and signed by the Cashier for the sum so transferred, but this chalan need not specify in detail the individual receipts of which the sum transferred is composed. Columns 1, 2, and 3 of part I of the chalan will be left blank in column 4 will be entered "witnesses' expenses" or "peremptory cash", as the case may be, and in column 6 will be entered "items Nos. in Peremptory Cash-book". Similar entries will be made in columns 3 and 4 of Register No. (M) 16—Chalan Register—and in columns 4 and 5 of Register No. (M) 20 (i) or 20 (ii), as the case may be. Should the money be subsequently required it shall be withdrawn from deposits in the manner described above and credited in the appopriate Peremptory Cash-book. If such sums remain in deposit for three years they must be carried to credit of Government under rule 94, relating to "Lapsed Deposits".

NOTE.—The oldest item or items not likely to be soon repaid should be transferred to deposits when transfers are effected under this rule.

54. (a) Having intialled the accounts of the day and signed the Cash-book the Judge in charge shall send the Pass-book to the Treasury*, together with the net amount in cash and all the chalans and payment Orders. This remittance must be entered in the Cash-book as a payment of the day upon which it is made.

*Or to a Branch Bank, vide note to Rule 58.

(b) It is important that this be done before the business of the new day commences, and the Cashier should have in hand, after each such remittance, only the balance of the peremptory cash transactions and the other balances referred to in rule 35.

NOTE.—The total of chalans of the day for money received in cash by the Court, minus the total of payment orders cashed at the Court, will represent the balance of cash to be remitted to the Treasury. The amount so remitted will be noted on the back of the last chalan entered in the Pass-book [Form No. (M) 19] in order to avoid the separate chalan which otherwise would be required by the Treasury Officer.

Courts not near treasuries.

Amended in 1908.

55. At out-stations the Cash-book shall be balanced as prescribed above, and the balances, both that of the receipts and payments under heads (a) to (h) and that of peremptory transactions, shall be carried forward to the next day's account. The accounts shall be balanced, compared, and signed every day in the manner prescribed in rule 52 save that, instead of comparing the Treasury Pass-book with the accounts, the Judge in charge shall see that the Court balances are brought forward and shall, at least once a week, ascertain that the money is actually in possession of the cashier.

Periodical remittances.

Amended by rule No. 15 of 27th November 1891.

56. On the last day of the month, and from time to time, as occasion may arise (see rule 13), the Treasury Pass-book shall be made up, showing all receipts and payments at the Court since the last remittance to the Treasury.† Its accuracy having been tested it shall be forwarded to the Treasury with all chalans and payment orders. If the receipts have exceeded the payments the cash excess shall be sent to the Treasury unless such excess does not amount to Rs. 25, in which case it may be remitted in the following month; if the contrary, the cash deficit shall be received from the Treasury; in either case the cashier will have, after the completion of the transaction, in addition to the balance of peremptory cash transactions, only the permanent advance allowed to the Court for carrying on its payments at a distance from the Treasury.

†Or to a Branch Bank, vide note to rule 58.

Adjustment with Treasury.

57. The last day for remittance in each month must be so fixed that the final payment or receipt of money at the Treasury may come within the month's accounts at the Treasury or Sub-treasury (see rule 70) as otherwise the monthly accounts of the Judge in charge and those of the Treasury will not agree. Any transactions at the Court after this remittance is made, although shown under their proper dates, should be treated as if they belonged to the ensuing month's accounts registers and returns.

Rules regarding Remittances.

58. It is the duty of the Judge in charge to see that money remitted from his Court actually reaches the Treasury and is acknowledged by the Treasury Officer in the pass-book.

NOTE.—Where the Court remits to a Branch Bank direct the Agent of the Branch Bank should acknowledge the receipt of the remittance in the pass-book. (H. C. Progs., February 1893, No. 243.)

59. In making such remittances the police rules as to sending an escort with the money must be duly observed.

NOTE.—In the case of Munsifs which are at the headquarters of districts or subdivisions the Civil Court peons should be employed to take charge of remittances to the local Treasury. In the case of Munsifs situated in the interior of districts and subdivisions remittances should be made under Police custody. During the absence of the Subdivisional Officer remittances to the District Treasury (vide rule 60) should also be made under Police custody. Rule No. 2 of 28th May 1896.

60. During the absence on tour of Subdivisional Officers, and the consequent closing of their Treasuries, Munsifs must be guided by the preceding rules applicable to officers at stations where there are no Treasuries, and must make remittances of surplus cash, if necessary, to the District Treasury. They will take advantage of the periodical returns of Subdivisional Officers to headquarters to reduce the cash balances in their hands as much as possible, due regard being had to their probable requirements.

Treasury Advice List.

61. At the close of business each day the Treasury Officer, whether Sadar or Subdivisional, shall prepare Advice Lists, in Form No. (M) 11, of all such chalans and payment orders of each Judge in charge as have been brought upon the Treasury accounts in the course of the day, and shall forward them to such Judges in charge, respectively, together, with the Chalans referred to in clause (b) of rule 28. In these lists shall be entered in detail such chalans and payment orders as have been received or paid at the Treasury or Sub-treasury in cash, while those brought into the Treasury account from the pass-book (rule 54) shall be included in a single total on each side, with the description "as per your pass-book dated——." Amended by rule No. 10 of 26th November 1901.

NOTE.—If the Court is close to the Treasury, so that the Judge's registers referred to in rule 63 can be sent daily to be compared and initialled by the Treasury Officer, this procedure may be adopted in lieu of the Daily Advice List, if found more convenient.

62. The list prepared at the Sadar Treasury for the District Judge shall include, besides the moneys received and paid on account of the Judge's own Court, those transactions also which belong to his subordinate Courts. These amounts, however, need not be entered in detail, but may be included in a single total of receipts and of payments for each Court, including pass-book transactions brought into account.

Comparison by Judge.

63. On receipt of this Advice List the Judge in charge shall cause the particulars of the chalans and payment orders shown in it to be compared with the details recorded in his registers of chalans and payment orders [Forms No. (M) 16 and No. (M) 18], and shall further cause the date of actual credit and payment, as certified by the Treasury Officer, to be entered in the column prescribed for that purpose.

64. These entries must be initialled by the Judge in charge when he checks the posting in the Deposit Registers, as prescribed in rule 66.

Separation of petty deposits	... 65	Notes of claims, etc, ...	... 68
Posting	... 66	Registers of Repayments ...	... 69

Separation of petty deposits.

65. Two registers of Deposit Receipts shall be kept in form No. (M) 20, and two of Deposit Repayments in form No. (M) 21. One of these shall be termed the Register of A Deposits, and there shall be entered therein all deposits originally exceeding Rs 5. The other shall be termed the Register of B Deposits, and there shall be entered therein all deposits not originally exceeding Rs. 5. Both registers shall be kept in the same form, and shall be posted in the same manner, but with separate series of numbers (see next rule), distinguished by the initial letters A and B, respectively.

Posting.

66. As soon as the Treasury Advice List is received (rule 61) the Deposit Register will be posted in the following manner for the date to which it refers. In the first place, all cash transactions in Court on that date shall be posted, the receipts being copied from the Register of Chalans (column 5), and the payments from the Register of Payment Orders (column 5). Transactions at the Treasury shall then be written up from the Advice List, the entries in this list being compared with those in registers No. (M) 16 and No. (M) 18.

G. L. No. 8 of 5th May 1888.

NOTE.—The date of granting the payment order should be entered in the repayment columns in the Registers of Deposit Receipts, and the date of actual payment in column 4 of the Registers of Deposits Repaid.

Registers of Receipts.

67. All items of deposit in these registers must, as directed above, be numbered in an annual consecutive series of numbers commencing on the 1st April and ending with the last day of March in each official year. Only the first eight columns shall be filled in at first, the other columns being intended for the record of subsequent repayments.

Notes of claims, etc.

68. As it is important that the Deposit Registers in the Accountant's department should set forth in respect of each item all information necessary in order to deal at once with applications to draw money all attachment, processes, and transfer orders relating to decrees, and all orders as to the substitution of parties which affect decretal and other moneys in deposit, shall be noted at the time in the Deposit Register. The Sarishtadar, or some other specified subordinate under his supervision, shall be made responsible for this duty.

NOTE.—Whether the Sarishtadar's responsibility is, or is not, to end with the communication to the Accountant or Accountant's muharrir is a matter left to the discretion of each Court, but some specific order should be recorded.

Registers of Repayments.

69. The Registers of Deposit Repayments [form No. (M) 21] shall be posted from the Treasury Advice List and the Payment Order Registers, as directed above.

Closing for the month.

70. (a) The Registers of Deposit Receipts and Deposit Repayments in Courts at a sadar station shall be totalled and closed on the last day of each month upon which the Sadar Treasury remains open, and in sub-divisional stations on the day on which the accounts of the Sub-divisional Treasury are finally closed for the month, in such a way that the period and the transactions included in the Court's books and returns may correspond exactly with those included in the Treasury books and returns.

(b) Care must be taken to make the final remittance to the Treasury in such time that it may be entered in the accounts of the Treasury for the month to which it belongs.

(c) In each of the Registers of Deposit Receipts prescribed by rule 65 a plus and minus memorandum must be drawn up at the end of the month's entries in the following form :—

Balance of deposits from last month
Received during the month, as per register
Total ...
Repayment, as per register
Balance of deposits at end of month

Section VI.—Control over Subordinate Courts.

(Rules 71 to 83.)

Responsibility.

71. Every Judge is responsible for all payments of deposits made on his certificate or under his orders. In the case of receipts and payments of petty or B deposits no detailed check is exercised over his proceedings, the accounts which he is required to render of these showing totals only. In the case of A deposits, however, all sums received, and not paid out during the month in which they have been received, and the balance of such of these deposits as have been partly paid out, must be reported to the District Judge and must be included in the officer's accounts, and in his return to the Accountant-General.

NOTE.—If the District Judge thinks it absolutely necessary he may delegate the duty of passing chalans to the chief ministerial officer of his Court, and place any of the officers subordinate to him in charge of accounts, in the same way as a Deputy Collector is placed in charge of a Treasury, but on the distinct understanding that the District Judge will not be relieved of the responsibility for the due accounting of all money received and paid. All returns will be signed by the District Judge.—(Accountant-General's No. 14 A., dated the 26th April 1881.)

Daily returns of subordinate Courts.

72. Every day, after the Treasury Advice has been received and the deposit and other registers have been written up and checked with it, two statements showing the transactions of the date to which it refers shall be prepared by the Judge in charge and forwarded to the District Judge. The first of these statements [form No. (M) 12] shall show the total amount of the entries in the Deposit Registers and the totals of all other transactions brought on the Registers (see Rule 105). The second shall be an extract from Part I of the Register of Deposits Repaid [Form No. (M) 21], giving the particulars of repayments on account of deposit received during previous months. At the foot of the first statement the Judge in charge shall certify that his Registers of B Deposits are written up to date and are in order.

NOTE 1.—It will be observed that these returns are intended to exhibit actual receipts and payments, and that they are, therefore, to be compiled from the Deposit Register, and not from the Registers of Chalans and Payment Orders.

NOTE 2.—The Subordinate Courts referred to in rules 71 and 72 are those which keep their own accounts and the accounts of other Courts as well—vide rule 43.—(Accountant-General's No. 141A., dated the 26th April 1881.)

NOTE 3.—The advices of the payments of deposits appertaining to the Subordinate Courts at the sadar station should be issued from the District Judge's Court.—(Accountant-General's No. 141A., dated the 26th April 1881.)

NOTE 4.—The certificate referred to in this rule is not required from Small Cause Court Judges as they are not subordinate to District Judges in the matter of accounts.—(Accountant-General's No. 279, dated the 4th June 1881.)

73. At out-stations some delay in submitting the daily returns is unavoidable, but this delay should not exceed the time necessary for the Treasury Advice List to reach the Court. The date on which the returns are actually signed should be noted on them by the Judge in charge.

Verification by Judge in charge.

74. At the time of signing the returns the Judge in charge should have before him the Registers of Receipts of Chalans and Payment Orders, the Registers of Receipts and payments of Deposits, and the Treasury Advice List; and, after comparison, he should attest the entries in column 8 of Registers No. (M) 16 and No. (M) 18 by placing his initials in column 9, and the entries in the Registers of Deposit Receipts and payments by placing his initials in columns 7 and 14, respectively.

Examination by District Judge.

75. The statements furnished by the Subordinate Court shall, when received in the District Judge's office, be compared with the corresponding Advice List supplied to him by the Treasury Officers, under rule 62. In the case of out-stations the totals for the whole month supplied by the Judge in charge must agree with the totals for the whole month supplied by the Treasury Officer if the rules regarding periodical remittances have been correctly followed. In the course of the month the former totals will ordinarily exceed the latter, and the difference must be taken to represent cash transactions advised by the Court, but not yet brought on the Treasury books. In the case of Courts near Treasuries no such discrepancies should occur if the rules are properly observed. When any such are noticed immediate steps must be taken, under the District Judge's orders, to reconcile them.

Judge's Register of Totals.

76. After examination the totals of deposits received and paid shall be posted into a register to be kept by the District Judge in Form No. (M) 23. This Register contains two sets of columns, one set relating to A Deposits and the other to B Deposits. Separate portions of the Register for the month must be allotted to each Subordinate Court, that is, for each Subordinate Court a number of pages, according to the probable work, must be assigned in the leaves devoted to that particular month. The entries in respect of each Subordinate Court will thus come continuously and in order of date and they must be totalled at the end of the month.

77. In the portion of the Register which relates to B Deposits a column has been provided for a daily balance which must be struck by adding together the preceding day's balance and receipts and deducting the payments. The object of the daily balance is to afford the District Judge a ready means of controlling Subordinate Courts in the receipt and payment of small deposits, as any excess of payments over receipts will be at once detected.

Posting Repayments of A Deposits.

78. (a) Taking up next the detailed Daily Register of Deposits Repaid [Form No. (M) 21], the repayments must be posted against the corresponding entries in the Judge's Daily Register of Deposits received [Form No. (M) 20], and must be intialled by the District Judge or, under his orders, by the chief ministerial officer of his Court, in the same manner as repayments authorized by himself. They must also, at the same time, be copied into his Register of Deposit Repayments [Form No. (M) 21].

(b) As each payment is noted in the Judge's Register the district number (rule 82) against which the payment is charged must be noted in the Subordinate Court's return.

NOTE.—In noting the repayments care should be taken to see that the amounts thus reported as repaid are actually repayable, and that amounts which should be credited to Government are not repaid to individuals.

Monthly Return.

79. (a) At the end of the month there shall be furnished by the Subordinate Courts to the District Judge a statement of all A Deposits received, but not wholly repaid, during the month. This statement will be an extract from the Register of Deposit Receipts [Form No. (M) 20], omitting the items which have been wholly repaid during the same month. Of deposits received and partially repaid in the same month the unpaid balance only is to be shown in this statement. The dates of despatch from the subordinate Court and of receipt by the District Court shall be noted on this statement.

Explanation.—An A deposit, the balance of which has been reduced below Rs. 5 by a payment made in the same month, is to be included among the A, and not among the B, deposits.

(b) On the 31st March of each year the subordinate Courts shall, in addition, submit to the District Court a certificate that all uncashed orders to be cancelled under rule 44 (c) have been marked off in their registers.

Plus and Minus Memorandum.

80. There shall be appended to the monthly statement of deposit receipts a plus and minus memorandum in the following form :— Rule No. 4 of 1908.

		Rs.	A.	P.

Certificate.

Certified that, on a comparison of Treasury Advices with postings therefrom in the Registers of Chalans, of Payment Orders, of Deposit Receipts, and of Repayments the amounts entered above as received and paid are correct.

NOTE 1.—The repayments of B deposits received in the year of account, and in the year next preceding, should be shown separately.

NOTE 2.—This certificate is not required from Small Cause Court Judges who are not subordinate to District Judges in matters of account.

Examination by District Judge.

81. On receipt of the monthly statement and the plus and minus memorandum the register [form No. (M) 23] shall be compared therewith. First, as regards A deposits the total of the column headed "Repaid on account of current month" should agree with the amount shown in the plus and minus memorandum ; and, when this amount is deducted from the total of the column headed "Total amount received", the balance ought to agree exactly with the total of the Statement of Outstanding A Deposits received from the Court to which the figures relate. Second, as regards B deposits the balance itself can be tested in detail only once a year, when the yearly statement under rule 91 is received; but every month the difference between the opening and the closing balance should be equal to the difference between the receipts and payments reported in the plus and minus memorandum.

Posting receipts of A deposits.

Rule No. 12 of 1st June 1885.

82. The subordinate Courts' monthly detailed Statement of A Deposits Received shall be attached by the District Judge to his own Register of Deposits Received after he has closed the accounts of the Civil Courts at the sadar station. The District Judge will also number the deposits in the subordinate Courts' return in continuation of his own series.

NOTE.—The Judge should examine the receipts, so as to see that no item has been improperly held in deposit and, if he finds amounts so held which should be credited to Government, he should direct the subordinate Court accordingly.

83. The District Judge's Registers of Deposits exceeding Rs. 5 received and repaid thus include each month not only those of his own Court, but also of all subordinate Courts, excepting only the sums received and repaid in such Courts during the same month.

Returns of deposits received.

Amended by rule No 2 of 24th January 1902.

84. On the 12th of each month an Extract Register of Deposit Receipts exceeding Rs. 5 shall be prepared by the District Judge in form No. (M) 15, and forwarded to the Treasury Officer for transmission, after a comparison with his cash accounts, to the Accountant-General. This extract register will be a copy of the enties made during the month in his register [form No. (M) 20], and will contain all such items of more than Rs. 5 each as were deposited in his own Court and in Courts subordinate to him, omitting all those which were wholly repaid during the month, and showing, in the case of those partially repaid during the month, the unpaid balance only. The Sadar Court entries should appear first; then—after a line or break—the entries of each subordinate Court, separately headed by the name of the subordinate Court. At the foot of this register deposits received and repaid during the month, and deposits received for sums of Rs. 5 each and less, are to be shown in separate totals for each Court, without details. This extract register should be despatched punctually on the 12th of the month unless in the case of the larger districts a later date is fixed. The whole of the entries for each Court should be consecutive and separated from those of the other Courts by a space and heading.

Returns of deposits repaid.

mended by rules o. 4 of 11th ugust 1893, and o. 2 of 24th nuary 1902.

85. A monthly extract from his Register of Deposit Payments [form No. (M) 21] of sums above Rs. 5 shall be forwarded in the same form by the Judge to the Treasury Officer for transmission, after comparison with his lists of payments, to the Accountant-General. The District Judge shall include in this extract (1) the details of repayments on account of deposits of previous months, whether made in his own Court or entered by him from the statements of subordinate Courts (rule 76); (2) a single total for each Court of the repayments of the current month's deposits, whether made at the District or subordinate Courts, which must agree with the total of receipts on the same account; and (3) the totals for each Court of the repayments on account of deposits of Rs. 5 and less received during the year of account and the year next preceding.

Like the Extract Register of Receipts this return will keep each Court's entries in separate series. The extract will be prepared on the same printed form as the register, and should be posted as shown below :—

Plus and Minus memorandum.

86. (a) A plus and minus memorandum in the form prescribed in rule 80, but including the figures of the subordinate Courts, as well as those of the District Judge's own Court, shall be appended to the Statement of Deposit Receipts

(b) This plus and minus memorandum is to show as repayments the actual repayments at the Treasury, and is further to show the Treasury balance outstanding.

NOTE.—It will be found convenient to keep in a separate register a copy of this plus and minus memorandum, with further memoranda of the details from which the figures have been arrived at. It is important that there should be no difficulty at any time in reconciling the figures of the Court with those of the Treasury.

Section VIII.—Annual Clearance Register of Deposits.[1]

(Rules 87 to 93.)

	RULES.		RULES.
Clearance Register ...	... 87, 88	District Judge	90
Subordinate Courts ...	... 89	Verification of Petty Deposit Balances ...	91-93

Clearance Register.[1]

87. (a) At the end of each year the Registers of A Deposits received in the next preceding year shall be closed by transcribing into the last column, headed "Transferred to Clearance Register," every balance which exceeds Rs. 5. An annual Clearance Register shall then be drawn up in form No. (M) 22 showing all these balances against their original numbers—showing, in other words, all the unpaid balances of A Deposits of the preceding account year next but one. For example, the Clearance Register of April 1923 will show all unpaid balances of A Deposits received in 1921-22

(b) Of balances which do not exceed Rs. 5 a separate list shall be made out under rule 94 below.

88. The items in this account having been carefully compared with the corresponding balances in the original Register of Deposits Received [form No. (M) 20] the last-named document shall be laid aside, and future repayments recorded only in the Clearance Register.

NOTE.—If against any of the items transferred to the Clearance Register, a repayment order has been issued and cancelled under rule 44 (c) a note to that effect must be made in the Clearance Register so that, if application for repayment is again made, an order may not be issued without recalling the original cancelled one.

[1] The words "Clearance Register," wherever they occur in these rules, were substituted for the original words "Account Particulars" by H. C. Progs., February 1893, No. 407.

Return by Subordinate Courts.

89. A copy of the clearance register shall be sent by the subordinate Courts to the District Judge, and by him carefully compared with the entries in his Register of Receipts. Any discrepancies found must be investigated and corrected.

Return by District Judge.

90. The clearance register of the District Judge necessarily includes the items in the several clearance registers of the subordinate Courts, and a copy of it shall be sent to the Accountant-General. The due date for its despatch shall be the 30th April, by which time the Judge should have received and compared the clearance registers of his subordinate Courts.

Verification of petty deposit balance.

91. In order to verify the balance of B deposits each Court shall make a list of the unpaid balances of receipts of the past twelve months and, by actual summation of these balances, find the total amount outstanding on account of the past year's deposits. Each Court is required to submit, along with the Clearance Register of A Deposits, a certificate that the balance of B Deposits of the past year has been found by actual summation to be Rs.—.

92. The balance found under the last rule, together with the total of the list prepared under rule 91 (2), must equal the total balance of petty deposits on March 31st, and must be so verified—

(1) by each Court with the forward balance in the plus and minus memorandum; and

(2) by the District Judge, with the balances of the subordinate Court brought forward in register No. (M) 23.

93. The District Judge, having verified the balance certificates of the subordinate Courts, shall endorse each with the certificate "Examined and found correct", and shall certify the fact of having done so upon the Statements of Lapsed Deposits sent to the Accountant-General under rule 95.

Section IX.—Lapse of Deposits.

	Rules		Rules.
Lapse of deposits	94	Correction of balance ...	96
Statements	95	Refunds ...	97,98

Lapse of deposits.

94. On 31st March of each year, the following unpaid balances of deposits lapse to Government, and are to be so written off in the Clearance Register and Registers of Receipts, respectively:—

(1) of A deposits, first, all balances of deposits of the last account year but one which do not exceed Rs. 5 and are, therefore, not carried forward under rule 87 into the clearance register; these balances should be marked "Lapsed" in the Register of Receipts; and secondly, all balances of deposits outstanding over three complete years—that is, all balances in the clearance register prepared two years before; these are to be marked off in the last column of the clearance register;

(2) of B deposits the balances of all deposits outstanding over one complete year—that is, the balances which, in the case of deposits over Rs. 5, are transferred to the clearance register under rule 87; these are to be marked off in the last column of the Registers of Receipts.

Example.—The balances which lapse on the 31st March 1922 are—

(a) all balances not exceeding Rs. 5 of A deposits received in 1920-21;
(b) all balances of A deposits received in 1918-19; and
(c) all balances of B deposits received in 1920-21.

Statements of lapsed deposits.

95. (a) Three statements of the balances to be written off shall be prepared in form No. (M) 14, one for each of the three classes (a), (b). and (c), specified in the Example under rule 94. These statements shall be submitted along with the clearance register. Those of the subordinate Court must be compared by the District Judge with his own registers, and discrepancies, if found, must be reconciled. Those of the District Judge must include, under the District Judge's numbers, the lapsed balances of A deposits of the subordinate Courts.

(b) As regards B deposits the statements received from the subordinate Courts must be copied into the District Judge's statement, with a separate total for each Court, the originals being filed for future reference.

NOTE.—The note under rule 88 applies to these statements of lapsed deposits also.

Correction of balance.

96. These statements must all be submitted during April, and the totals thereof must be deducted by a separate entry from the plus and minus memorandum, drawn up at the end of April, so that the plus and minus memorandum may show only the balance actually outstanding upon the registers of the Court concerned.

Refund of lapsed deposits.

97. When payment of a deposit lapsed under rule 94 is required by a person entitled thereto application shall be made through the District Judge, who shall examine the claim and, if he find it correct, shall forward an application in form No. (M) 6 to the Accountant-General. Several deposit numbers may be included in a single application if they are payable to the same person. The Accountant-General's letter of authority, when received, shall be noted against the items in the clearance register (or original register in the case of a B deposit) so as to prevent a second application. This letter shall then be passed for payment at the Treasury, as prescribed in the form. No other record of these refunds is necessary; and such payments are not to be shown in the plus and minus memorandum.

98. If the letter of authority received from the Accountant-General is not claimed by the payee within twelve months from the date thereof it shall be returned to the office of origin.

Section X.—Supplementary rules as to receipts under heads (b) to (h) of rule 5.

	Rules.		Rules
Registers	99	Control of Subordinate Courts ...	105
Credits to Government	100	Monthly Returns	106
Receipts under heads (c) to (h) ...	101-104	Verification of stock of saleable forms ...	107

NOTE.—For rules as to refunds under heads (b) to (g) of rule 5, see rules 46 to 48.

Registers.

99. Every Judge in charge shall maintain (1) a Register of Judicial Fines in form No. (M) 24; (2) a Register of Stamp Duty and Penalties in form No. (M) 25; (3) a Register of the Refund of the Value of Court-fee Stamps in form No. (M) 26; and (4) a Register of Miscellaneous Receipts in Form No. (M) 27. In the first, second, and fourth of these registers all receipts are to be posted which do not come under head (a) (Deposits) or head (i) (Peremptory Receipts) of rule 5. The entries shall be made and checked in the same way as the entries in the Register of Deposit Receipts of the Subordinate Courts.

Credits to Government.

100. It is the duty of every Judge to see that sums which are in deposit, but which under any rule or law are forfeited, or become the property of Government (e.g., earnest-money forfeited or intestate property unclaimed), are duly credited to Government. In every such case the shall be prepared simultaneously (1) a payment order addressed to the Cashier and directing payment of the deposit "by transfer as per chalan No. of this date", and (2) a chalan crediting it to the proper head. Such payment order and chalan shall be registered and dealt with in every way as if cash were paid out of, and received into, Court.

Receipts under heads (a) to (h) of rule 5.

101. (a) With regard to stamp duty and penalties attention should be given to sections 39, 45, and the other sections in chapter IV of the Indian Stamp Act, 1899. The duty and the penalty must always be separately credited.

C. O No. 16 of 4th December 1876, rule No. 18 of 22nd September 1892; and G. L No. 7 of 6th May 1898.

(b) Form No. (M) 3 shall be used for the certificates to be sent to Collectors under section 38 of the Stamp Act on account of duty and penalty levied by Civil Courts on instruments which, though originally unstamped or insufficiently stamped, may be admitted under the provisions of sections 35 and 37 of that Act.

102. With regard to unclaimed property of intestates or others it will be seen from the form that register No. (M) 27 deals only with receipts under this head which have remained in deposit for the prescribed period. A register showing the property in detail must be kept in Civil Courts in form No. (M) 31.

C. O No 11 of 6th March 1898

NOTE 1.—Any cash belonging to an intestate's estate which may be received in Court, from whatever source derived, must be paid into the Treasury at once, and no such cash must be allowed to remain in the hands of the Nazir.

NOTE 2.—On the receipt of unclaimed property of persons dying intestate the Nazir must make the requisite entries in the register in form No. (M) 31, volume II, and these entries must be compared with the police chalan by the Sarishtadar and the Accountant. If cash forms part of the property, or if part of the property, being perishable, is sold before the expiry of the year prescribed by law, such cash or sale-proceeds must, after entry in the register just mentioned, be put in deposit till the time arrives for paying them over to claimants or crediting them to Government.

NOTE 3.—When any property in the custody of the Court is sold the sale account must invariably be checked with the register by the Sarishtadar and the Accountant, and the Judge must, from time to time, test the work of his subordinates by personally examining the sale accounts in some cases taken at random.

C. O. No 128 of 16th May 1851

NOTE 4.—The Judge should pay the expense of conveying intestate property to the sadar station from his permanent advance, and charge the same in his contingent bill, subject to reimbursement from the eventual proceeds of the sale of the property, or, in cases where a claim to heirship is established, either by payment by the heir before the property is delivered to him, or by the sale of such portion of the property as may cover the expense.

Amended in 1908

103. Under head (e) (Other general fees, fines, and forfeitures) of rule 5 shall be comprised all receipts not falling within any of the other principal heads of receipt, e.g., forfeiture of earnest-money.

104. Receipts under the head of account, mentioned in rule 103, are at once credited at the Treasury to Government. They are not to be retained intermediately in deposit either at the Court or at the Treasury.

Control of Subordinate Courts.

105. The receipts of subordinate Courts under heads (b) to (h) of rule 5 are included in the Daily Statement sent to the District Judge under rule 72, and are also included in the Daily Advice from the Treasury received by the District Judge under rule 62. The Judge must effect a comparison between these two, and see that in each month the total amount advised as paid into the Treasury agrees with the total amount realized by the subordinate Courts.

Monthly Returns.

106. At the close of the month every Judge in charge shall prepare lists, in forms Nos. (M) 24, (M) 25, and (M) 27, of all the receipts, forfeitures, or duty, under heads (b) to (h) of rule 5, paid by him into the Treasury. Subordinate Courts shall forward their lists, in duplicate, to the District Judge, and the District Judge shall add the totals of these lists at the foot of his own list and, appending one of the copies received by him from each subordinate Court, shall forward the whole to the Accountant-General for check against the Treasury accounts.

Verification of stock of saleable forms.

107. The stock[1] of saleable forms in all Civil Courts subordinate to the High Court shall be verified half-yearly, issues being checked from the entries in column 12 of the Register of Miscellaneous Receipts [form No. (M) 27]. A certificate in the form given below, duly signed by the presiding officer of the Court, shall be submitted by subordinate Courts to the District Judge at the close of each half-year; and these returns, when received, should be forwarded by the District Judge, together with the return of his own Court, to the Controller of Printing, Stationery and Stamps, Calcutta. Rule No 2 of 1903 [see head (g) r 5] Modified 1910

CERTIFICATE.

Certified that the stock of saleable forms shown in the above return to be in hand on the has been duly verified and found correct.

Accountant and Cashier.

108. In carrying out these rules care must be taken by all judicial officers that, in respect of cash transactions in Court, distinct officers are employed as Accountant and Cashier. In other words, the same officer shall not keep the Registers of Chalans and Payment Orders, Deposit Registers, etc., and also receive and pay the money.

NOTE.—A Naib Nazir or a clerk may be appointed as Cashier provided (i) that he is expressly so designated, (ii) that his duties and responsibilities are made clear, and (iii) that he gives the necessary security. Such appointments should be made in cases where the Nazir, owing to the pressure of other work, is unable to discharge the duties of Cashier in strict accordance with the instructions contained in the Court's general letter No. 1 of the 29th January 1902. G. L. No 3 of 29th April 1903.

Language of accounts.

109. Every judicial officer shall, save with the express permission of the District Judge, keep his accounts in English; and it must be distinctly recorded by him whether the Sarishtadar is, or is not, responsible for a general control and supervision over the Accountant. Modified 1910

NOTE.—At headquarters stations the Sarishtadar of the District Judge, and at sub-divisions and out-stations the Sarishtadar of the "Judge in charge," should be required to inspect periodically and carefully the Nazir's account books. The discovery of any defects, of a breach of the High Court's account rules, or of the instructions given in the notes to rule 110 and to forms Nos. (M) 28 and (M) 29, should be promptly brought to the notice of the "Judge in charge." In the case of Courts in the interior of the district the fact should, without delay, be brought to the notice of the District Judge. G. L. No 7 of 8th August 1896 Modified 1917

Forms.

110. The whole of the necessary forms and account books are to be obtained through the Forms Department, and each Court is responsible for maintaining a proper printed stock of all the forms[2] herein prescribed, and for submitting timely indents according to the rules in force from time to time. Should there be any offices in which the accounts are not kept in English the necessary forms for use therein shall be printed in biglot form, and be provided with headings in English and the Vernacular. Manuscript forms are prohibited. Modified 1910

NOTE.—All account books should be paged before they are brought into use. G. L. No 7 of 8th August 1896.

Daily examination of accounts.

111. The accounts and registers, of which a list is given in appendices I and II annexed to these rules, must be compared daily by the Judge in charge; and this rule is on no account to be neglected as its observance is essential to the integrity of the transactions and the correctness of the books. The notes at the foot of the forms indicate how the verification is to be made.

NOTE 1 Where a person or firm mentioned in the List has more than one address in the country or group of countries under which the name of the person or firm appears all dealings in that country, or in any country in the group with such person or firm are prohibited, even in cases where one only of the addresses, or one only of the countries, is specifically mentioned.

NOTE 2. Trading is prohibited under the Trading with the Enemy Proclamations of 25th June, and 10th November 1915 (which were republished by the Government of India as notifications in the Commerce and Industry Department, Nos. 12221-W and 861-W., dated respectively the 24th July and 11th December 1915). with any person or firm of enemy nationality resident or carrying on business in China, Siam, Persia Morocco, Siberia or Portuguese East Africa. Persons or firms are, therefore, prohibited from trading with any person or firm of enemy nationality in any of those countries, even though such person or firm is not mentioned by name in the above Schedule.

NOTE 3. It is not unusual for firms in Holland and the Netherland East Indies to be registered under names commencing with descriptive terms such as "Handel Maatschappy" (Trading Company) or "Naamlooze Venootschap" (Limited Liability Company). In such cases it has been found more convenient to publish the firm under its proper name followed by the general descriptive term "Handel Maatschappy" or "Naamlooze Venootschap" (N.V.) or in the case of an English company. For instance, Handel Maatschappy van den Berg & Company, and Naamlooze Venootschap de Komeet v.h Dumoncean Freres will be found under "Berg" and "Komeet" respectively, and not under "Handel" or "Naamlooze."

DEATH OF THE LATE Mr. EDEN.

The PRESIDENT said :—

"Gentlemen, since the Council last met we are the poorer by the death of one of our members, the late Mr. Eden. I feel sure that it will be your wish that there should appear upon the records of our proceedings a few words marking our sense of the loss which we have sustained.

For nearly 40 years the deceased gentleman, lived and worked in Calcutta, and during that time he was connected with, and took an active part in, the public life of the city which he had made his home. He was a prominent member of the Calcutta Trades Association which he served in the capacity of Master in 1903-04 and as Honorary Treasurer from 1916-18. He was appointed a Presidency Magistrate in Calcutta in 1901 and served the city as a Municipal Commissioner from 1900 to 1903. In 1909-10 he gave further proof of his readiness to shoulder his share of work and responsibility on behalf of the public by serving as a Port Commissioner, and in 1916 he became a member of this Council. He died in harness swept from our midst with startling suddenness and we deeply deplore his loss. As a member of this Council he was always conscientious and unassuming, courteous and sincere, and it is indeed with feelings of deep sorrow that I contemplate our loss."

The Hon'ble Mr. CARTER said :—

"I should like to associate the members of the mercantile community in the sincere regret which Your Excellency has expressed in the sudden death of our colleague, Mr. Eden. I have probably known Mr. Eden longer than most of the members of the Council, and I feel that in his death I have lost a real friend. He was a man of sterling qualities and held very decided views; he appeared at times to those who did not know him somewhat rough in his manner, but he was a warm-hearted and firm friend, and candid in his opinions. He did not often rise to speak in this Council but, when he did, his subject had been carefully prepared, and his remarks were forcible and to the point. The European members of this Council have lost a firm supporter at a time when they can least afford to lose one of their members. Mr. Eden took a prominent part in the affairs of this city, and was also a keen shikari and golfer. He had been a resident of Calcutta for nearly forty years, and after many years of hard work he was just coming to the time when he had laid his business on a firm foundation and was looking forward to a few years of rest. His son, I am sure, will follow in his father's footsteps, as he has already made his mark on the battlefields of East Africa; to him and to his widowed mother we offer our sincere sympathy."

The Hon'ble Mr. P. C. MITTER said :—

"My lord, I desire to associate myself with the remarks with regard to the death of the Hon'ble Mr. Eden. Although on many points the late Mr. Eden and I did not see eye to eye yet I was always assured that he approcahed every question with an open mind. My lord, I do not desire to add to my remarks. I have only to conclude by saying that this Council undoubtedly feels a sad loss in the death of the Hon'ble Mr. Eden."

STARRED QUESTIONS.

The following questions which had been starred were put and answered :—

By the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar:—

(a) Are the Government aware that an organization called the Indian Civil Service Association has been formed in this country? What are the aims and objects and constitution of this Association? Where is its head office and who are its office bearers?

The Indian Civil Service Association.

Questions and Answers.

(b) Are the Government considering the desirability of making a thorough inquiry into the above matter and of issuing an official communiqué on the subject?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. KERR:—

"(a) The Indian Civil Service Association was formed in Bengal in 1894. The objects of the Association are—

(1) to deal with questions affecting the interests of the Indian Civil Service as a body;

(2) to promote unity among its members; and

(3) to ascertain and formulate the views of the Indian Civil Service on matters in connection with which, in the opinion of the Association, a knowledge of the views of the Service would be useful to Government.

After the territorial readjustments of 1912, a separate branch of the Association was formed in Bihar and Orissa. Membership of the Bengal Branch is open to all officers of the Indian Civil Service serving in Bengal and Assam. There are at present 130 members of the Bengal branch, of whom eleven are Indians. The Association has no regular office Its affairs are managed by a General Committee of five members elected annually The members of the existing Committee are—

Mr. K. C. De.
Mr. A. H. Cuming.
Mr. H. P. Duval
Mr A J Chotzner
Mr J A L. Swan

Mr. H M Veitch is the Honorary Secretary.

(b) In view of the information given in this reply, Government do not consider it necessary to issue a communiqué on the subject"

Government grant and improvement of certain Educational Services.

(a) Have the Government of Bengal made any use of the 9 lakhs of rupees granted by the Government of India for the improvement of the salaries of the teachers of the Upper and Lower Subordinate Educational Services and their training? If so, how has the money been distributed?

(b) Have the Government submitted the scheme which they proposed for the improvement of the Upper and Lower Subordinate Educational Services? If so, will the Government be pleased to lay the scheme on the table?

(c) Can the Government state approximately the period within which the scheme is likely to be given effect to?

(d) Is it a fact that a sum of about Rs. 3 lakhs has been recommended for the improvement of the salaries of the two services? If so, has any portion of the money been utilised for the purpose?

Questions and Answers.

(e) If for any reason Government are unable to give effect to their scheme immediately, are the Government considering the advisability of granting the teachers in these two services certain provisional allowances out of the sum provided for the scheme so as to enable them to tide over the difficulties of the present situation?

(f) Do the Government propose to raise the minimum pay of the Provincial Educational Service to at least Rs. 250 a month? If not, are they considering the advisability of granting some compensation to the few Headmasters who have been promoted to that service?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

(a) The suggestion that the Government of India have made a grant of 9 lakhs for the improvement of the salaries of the teachers of the Subordinate Educational Service and Lower Subordinate Educational Service and their training is not correct. The grant has been made for the improvement of the training and pay of teachers in primary and secondary schools in the Bengal Presidency, which is a very different matter, inasmuch as the great majority of the teachers in those schools are not Government servants and do not belong to the Subordinate Educational Service or the Lower Subordinate Educational Service.

(b) It was explained in the Hon'ble Sir S. P. Sinha's speech at the meeting of the Bengal Legislative Council held on Tuesday, the 20th November, 1917, that an inquiry would be made into the question of the reorganisation of the Subordinate Educational Service and the Lower Subordinate Educational Service as soon as possible after the pay of the Provincial Educational Service and the grades thereof had been fixed. The question of the reorganisation of the higher services of the Education Department is now under the consideration of the Government of India in connection with the recommendation of the Public Services Commission. Till orders on that question are passed no scheme for the improvement of the Subordinate Educational Service and the Lower Subordinate Educational Service can be elaborated.

(c) In view of the reply to (b), no answer to (c) is called for.

(d) No sum has been recommended for the improvement of the salaries of the two services, but recommendations have been made for improving Government high schools at an estimated cost of a little over 3 lakhs. If these recommendations are accepted the Subordinate Educational Service and the Lower Subordinate Educational Service will be improved to some extent.

(e) In view of the above replies, this question does not arise.

(f) The Hon'ble Member is referred to the last sentence of the reply to (b). It is not proposed to raise the minimum pay of the Provincial Educational Service or to grant compensatory allowances to headmasters promoted to that service pending the receipt of orders on the recommendations of the Public Services Commission."

Is it a fact that the Inspector of Schools, Dacca Division, has issued an order to the effect that 50 per cent. of admissions in each class of Government high schools should be reserved for Muhammadan boys and that the remaining 50 per cent. should be open to competition between Hindu and Muhammadan students at the time of admission?

Restrictions on admissions in Government high schools in the Dacca Division.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

" In resolution No. 1227 Edn., dated the 3rd August, 1916, recorded by this Government on the report of the special committee for the improvement of Muhammadan education, it was stated that a definite percentage of places should be reserved in each Government high school for Muhammadan pupils, the percentage being determined with reference to the proportional strength and educational requirements of the Muhammadans in the district A percentage was accordingly fixed by Government for each high school in consultation with the Director of Public Instruction, who issued orders on the subject in his circular No. $\frac{16}{M\ 46\ B\ 18}$, dated the 2nd October, 1918 A copy of the circular is laid on the table. It will be seen that the number of vacancies reserved in the Dacca Collegiate School and Armenitola High School is 30 per cent., and in the other Government high schools under the Inspector of Schools, Dacca Division, 50 per cent. It will also be seen that the unreserved vacancies are first to be filled up by open competition, and that in working up to the prescribed percentage Muhammadans who have secured unreserved vacancies are to be taken into account."

Circular referred to in the answer by the Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley to question No. III (starred) asked by the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar at the Council meeting of the 21st January, 1919.

Teachers of the Rangamati Government High English School and hill allowance.

(a) Will the Government be pleased to state—

(i) whether the teachers of the Rangamati Government High English School draw a hill allowance at the rate of 20 per cent. only, though they have been paying house rent;

(ii) whether the hill allowance of all other officers, paying house rent, was increased from 20 to 30 per cent. simultaneously with the imposition of house rent in 1913?

(b) Is the delay in the grant of an increased allowance to the above-named teachers due to war economy?

(c) Are the Government considering the desirability of giving effect to the increased allowance to the above-named teachers from the date on which the allowances of other officers were increased?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY:

"(a) (i), (b) and (c) The teachers of the Rangamati Government High School are in receipt of a hill allowance at the rate of 20 per cent. of their pay. Those occupying Government buildings enjoyed the privilege of rent free quarters until 1913 when this concession was withdrawn, and at present, they have to pay rent subject to a maximum of 10 per cent. of their pay, with the exception of the headmaster, who has free quarters as Superintendent of the hostel. In 1915 a proposal was made for increasing the hill allowance to 30 per cent. of their pay, but owing to abnormal financial conditions the proposal could not be sanctioned. The Director of Public Instruction was however told that he might, if he thought fit, renew the application when normal financial conditions were restored.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY:—

"(a) The sanction of the Government of India has been given to the expenditure of Rs. 3,15,000 out of the 9 lakhs grant. The proposals made by this Government for the expenditure of the remainder, amounting to Rs. 5,85,000, have not yet received the sanction of the Government of India, and it is consequently not possible to spend this sum during the current year. Drowning of a young student near Goalundo.

(a) Are the Government in a position to state the circumstances in which a young student fell overboard from a steamer near Goalundo in December last, and was drowned?

(b) Is it a fact that this fatality was due to the railings of the steamer giving way?

(c) If so, when was the steamer last surveyed or otherwise examined by experts?

(d) Are the Government considering the desirability of instituting an inquiry into this matter?

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. COWLEY :-

"(a) and (b) It would appear that the passenger in question held an intermediate class ticket, the space apportioned to passengers of that class being on the upper deck. It is not clear what induced him to come to the lower deck which is never used for intermediate class passengers. It is stated that he was half leaning and half resting against the rail of the steamer with his back to the water. There is a movable gangway at this part which can be opened out to allow of access to the bank when calling at way-side stations. This gangway is formed of a rod with a ring at one end and a hook at the other with a pin attachment. In some unexplained manner the fastening opened out and the passenger, who was leaning against the upper rail, fell backwards overboard and was drowned.

(c) The steamer was last surveyed in December, 1917, and her passenger certificate was current up to the 22nd December, 1918; the steamer was again under survey on January 11th, 1919.

the 6th December, while the steamer Buzzard was on her way from Goalundo to Chandpur, a passenger fell overboard from the forward lower deck. The alarm was at once given to the serang, a life-buoy was thrown into the water, the steamer was stopped, turned round and a careful search made in the locality where the accident occurred, but without success. As the facts have been ascertained as far as possible it is not the intention of Government to hold any further inquiry."

(ii) that there are difficulties in the way of providing new houses owing to the high cost of building materials and the small number of sites available at a reasonable price?

(b) If so, will the Government be pleased to state—

(i) whether the Calcutta Improvement Trust contemplate taking any action to provide accommodation to the homeless and thus mitigate the hardships of eviction; and

(ii) what steps, if any, have been taken by the Improvement Trust to rehouse the displaced inhabitants of the class referred to in (a) above, or the displaced members of the working classes?

(c) Are there any legal difficulties in the way of providing accommodation? If so, are the Government considering the desirability of amending the existing law so as to provide for this?

Questions and Answers.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

" (a) The reply is in the affirmative.

(b) (i) and (c) The question has received the anxious consideration of the Board of Trustees, which is of opinion that the existing law is defective. Section 52 of the Calcutta Improvement Act empowers the Board to construct, maintain and manage dwellings for persons of the poorer and working classes who are displaced or likely to be displaced by the execution of an improvement scheme; and the Board has erected dwellings under this section. Its provisions, however, do not appear to meet the case of persons of the poorer middle classes residing in houses owned by themselves whose houses are acquired for the execution of improvement schemes Such persons are not attracted by the offer of a tenancy in tenement dwellings constructed under section 52 or even in a separate house, but wish again to own a house and also the land on which it stands. The Board also considers that it is precluded from acquiring land in order to resell it to persons displaced by its schemes; and the amount of land at its disposal is limited by the facts —

(1) that the owners of land not actually required for the execution of a scheme have a right under section 78 of the Act to retain it on payment of a fee, and

(2) that when the Board disposes of land already acquired, the previous owner has a right of pre-emption under section 81

The amount of land of which the Board is free to dispose is therefore often inconsiderable; and in a scheme such as that for the construction of the Central Avenue such sites as are at its disposal are unsuited for the residence of the poorer middle class The Board has appointed a committee to consider the whole problem of re-housing and has made a recommendation on the subject for the consideration of Government in connection with the amendment of the Act.

(b) (ii) As already mentioned in reply to (b) (i) and (c) the Board of Trustees has carried out one re-housing scheme, of which particulars will be found in paragraph 13 of its annual report for 1917 18 The Board is considering a proposal to erect another block of dwellings under section 52 of the Act and is offering land at concession rates to persons displaced by scheme No VII "

Will the Government be pleased to state whether, with reference to the recent gracious message of Her Majesty the Queen-Empress to the women of India, Government propose to adopt a new line of policy in the direction of uplifting the future motherhood of this Province by raising the status of the existing girls' schools and by making adequate provision for bringing " the means of education and knowledge " within the practical reach of married zenana purda ladies?

Questions and Answers; The Bengal Tenancy (Amendment) Bill.

Answer by the Hon'ble MR. O'MALLEY :—

"Government are fully aware of the desirability of providing for the expansion and improvement of female education and have recently made an additional allotment for the purpose of Rs. 1,80,000 out of the 5½ lakhs grant. It may be pointed out that the provision of zenana education would be no new feature of the educational policy of Government: in this connection the Hon'ble Member's attention is drawn to paragraph 513 of the last quinquennial review of the progress of education in Bengal. As regards raising the status of existing girls' schools, by which it is presumed the Hon'ble Member means the conversion of primary into secondary schools, it may be pointed out that the elementary education of girls is of paramount importance under present conditions and that such conversion can only be effected when it is justified by a demand for secondary education."

LIST OF BUSINESS—Item No. 6.

The Hon'ble KUMAR SHIB SHEKHARESWAR RAY moved that after the word "mukarrari" in line 2 of the proposed sub-section (3) of section 74 (clause 2 of the Bill) the words "or rent-free" be inserted.

He said :—

"My lord, the Select Committee have taken a very reasonable view in connection with this Bill, but I do not know why they have left out of their consideration the point raised in my amendment. I had also referred to them at an earlier stage of the Bill. It is true that the incidence of rent-free tenures are not to be found in the Bengal Tenancy Act, but I think that it is only a question of omission. As far as my information goes such tenures are governed by the Tenancy Act. As a matter of fact, rent-free tenures are still being created by proprietors and they have been elaborately dealt with in the Cess Act. As provisions have been made for permanent tenures it is but proper that similar provision should be made in respect of rent-free tenures, and I hope that my amendment will be accepted."

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING said :—

"My lord, the Hon'ble Member says that he is not aware why the Select Committee made no reference to rent-free tenures and he suggests that, as in the Bill reference has been made to the category of mukarrari tenures, rent-free tenures should not be omitted. I venture to think that the Hon'ble Member is under an entire misapprehension. The reason why no reference in this amending Bill has been made to rent-free tenures is that in the substantive part of it, namely, in clause 2, there is a reference only to section 41 of the Cess Act which deals with the liability of cultivating tenants as regards the cess which they should pay. The case of rent-free owners is covered by an entirely different section of the Cess Act; and, therefore, as this Bill does not propose to alter the conditions under which such rent-free holders pay cess, it is obvious that it is entirely unnecessary to make any reference to rent-free holders in this Bill. In fact, it is an obvious canon of legislative drafting not to put in a saving clause where it would be superfluous and unnecessary to create one; and I might go even further and say that not only is it unnecessary, but it might be misleading. The reason why you find in the Bill a saving clause regarding mukarrari tenure-holders is that the High Court pointed out with complete correctness that, while section 179 of the Bengal Tenancy Act saves such leases as were granted subsequent to the Tenancy Act, it does not save leases that were granted before the passing of the Tenancy Act. It was for that reason that the sub-clause (3) in clause 2 of the Bill has been inserted, but this reason does not apply in the slightest degree in the case of rent-free holders who are not affected by the Bill in any way and for whom no saving clause is required.

The Hon'ble Mr. P. C. MITTER said :—

"My lord, as a member of the Select Committee I would like to add one word of explanation. I entirely agree with the Hon'ble Mr. Cumming as to the reasons which the Hon'ble Member has given for not including the words "rent-free" in that particular clause which the Hon'ble Kumar Shib Shekhareswar Ray wishes to amend. Furthermore, in my view of the matter if a certain zamindar desires to create a rent-fee tenure permanently, then, if it is a tenure within the land, it is wide enough. If it is not a permanent tenure, then, as the Hon'ble Mr. Cumming has already explained it is not touched by the provisions. So, as a matter of drafting, as also as a matter of looking to the substance of the thing, I do not think the inclusion of the words is necessary."

The Hon'ble KUMAR SHIB SHEKHARESWAR RAY said :—

"My lord, the Hon'ble Mr. Mitter is a lawyer and also a zamindar ; if he thinks there is nothing wrong in this I beg to withdraw my amendment."

The motion was then, by leave of the President, with drawn.

LIST OF BUSINESS—Item No. 7.

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING moved that the Bill, as settled in Council, be passed.

HE said :—

"My lord, I do not desire to encroach on the time of the Council ; but there are two points which I should like to mention for record. One is that the motives which influenced Government in undertaking this legislation have been justified by facts which I have ascertained since the matter has come under discussion. What the High Court said was that it was not illegal to take from a cultivating raiyat more than half an anna per rupee : the maximum of the road cess and the public works cess together, as laid down by law, is one anna per rupee. Therefore, it may be presumed that anything above one anna per rupee would be illegal and was not contemplated by the High Court's decisions ; but I find that in some cases certain landlords have been taking from cultivating raiyats not only more than half an anna and under one anna, but as much as two annas per rupee, and even up to three annas per rupee. As was stated when the Bill was presented to the Council, the object of Government is to reassert the policy laid down when the Cess Act was passed namely, that the cultivating raiyats should pay not more than half an anna per rupee. The other point which at this stage I should like to mention is that even those landlords who, acting under the authority of the decisions of the civil courts, have taken more than what Government understood to be the legal maximum according the Cess Act, have a certain pricking of conscience ; for I find from their papers that they carefully do not give any receipt for any excess which they may take over and above the half-anna per rupee. Moreover, if they sue a tenant, they enter in the plaint only the maximum according to the Cess Act ; and if the tenant does not pay the excess they do not take any further steps. For these reasons, I think that this legislation is justified. I now beg formally to move that the Bill, as settled in Council, be passed."

The motion was put and agreed to.

THE BENGAL VILLAGE SELF-GOVERNMENT BILL, 1919.

The Hon'ble SIR HENRY WHEELER presented the report of the Select Committee on the Bengal Village Self-Government Bill, 1919.

The Bengal Village Self-Government Bill.

Sir Henry Wheeler.

He said :—

"My lord, I beg to present the report of the Select Committee on the Bengal Village Self-Government Bill, 1919.

"The time allowed by the Council for the deliberations of the Select Committee was found to be none too long, and it was only by crowding in fourteen meetings and protracting some of them till an inconveniently late hour in the evening that we have been able to finish our work. We have, however, got through the Bill, and I trust that we have improved it. On first sight, looking at the copy of the Bill which has now been circulated, Hon'ble Members will perhaps think that we have made a very great number of alterations, but on further examination Hon'ble Members will find that these changes reduce themselves to two or three main categories, and essentially we have not departed from the original characteristics of the measure.

"A number of changes follow from the alteration in substance which we have made (and to which I will refer again shortly) in eliminating the circle board, which renders unnecessary a certain number of clauses and has led to verbal amendments in others. Secondly, by reason of the change which we have made in nomenclature by using the words "union board" in place of 'village committee' we had to insert a number of verbal alterations. We thought on the whole that union boards, union benches, and union courts represented more accurately what these new bodies would actually be. A third type of general amendment is primarily verbal, with the object of clearing up obscurities in, and eliminating superfluities from, some of the clauses which on examination we thought to be somewhat defective. The action taken in that direction has merely been with the object of rendering the Bill more concise, more clear, and more definite, because we have got to remember that action will be taken under this Bill by men who will not be highly trained either in law or in administration. Apart from that, we have made a fair number of alterations in minor points which seemed to the Select Committee to be improvements on the original proposals, but, as I have already said, I do not think they fundamentally affect the principles on which the Bill was drawn up.

"The most important change we have made is in discarding the original idea of circle boards. I referred to that point when I moved that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee, and I will not now repeat the general arguments which I then submitted, and which, on further consideration, the Select Committee accepted. We came to the conclusion that the circle board would be somewhat superfluous, that it would not be a very large or important body which would attract keen men to serve upon it, while in so far as we might not be able to cover the whole of any one sub-division with union boards but in certain areas might have to retain the existing system, there would be confusion between the simultaneous jurisdiction of the circle board and the local board. Therefore, we decided, as the simplest thing, to stick to the local boards that we have at present. Local boards certainly would, in general, be the better for a little more activity and keenness in their proceedings; but the additional responsibilities conferred by this Bill will tend, possibly, to rectify these deficiencies, and in any case it lies largely in the power of district boards to stimulate the interest of the local boards under them by giving them more money and entrusting them with more important duties. In any case our proposals give another chance to local boards, and if there is to be brought about at any time hereafter the fundamental change of doing away with local boards without substituting, as in the original Bill, an alternative minor organization, I think that the large change of principle which would leave the district board, working, possibly, through standing committees, as the only local authority in the district, should be discussed and debated as such, and not as a side-issue on a measure of this kind.

The Bengal Village Self-Government Bill.

Sir Henry Wheeler.

"The other detailed alterations are set out in the report, and I do not wish to delay the Council by taking them through each one. I think most of the explanations speak for themselves, and I will only mention one or two that are of somewhat special importance.

"For instance, in clause 3 we have provided that before declaring local areas as 'unions' the views of the district board should be considered. This has been done in compliance with a considerable amount of opinion that was received to the effect that the district board should be brought in further as a working entity in the scheme; and for somewhat similar reasons in clause 15 we have allowed the resignation of his office by a president of a union board to be accepted by the chairman of a district board, instead of by the District Magistrate, while in clause 17, in the probably rare event of the union board failing to elect a president, we have vested his appointment also in the district board. All these changes will reduce the intervention of the District Magistrate, to which some exception was taken in the replies that have been received.

"In clause 22A we have made an important change in providing that the views of the union board shall be considered before a dafadar is appointed. It will be noticed that one of the members of the Select Committee in his note of dissent would like to give the right of the nomination of a dafadar to the union board, but the majority were not able to go as far as that, although the modification which we have made will go some way towards meeting him.

"Passing on to the duties and functions of union boards we have made various changes, largely of arrangement, in matters relating to sanitation and water-supply, and we have set out particularly in clause 28A that the preservation of public health is a duty of the union board. We have also definitely laid down that the union boards will be required to supply any local information which the District Magistrate, the district board, or the local board may require and, following the precedent of the Bengal Municipal and Local Self-Government Acts, we have added a clause whereby union boards may undertake and carry out any other local work of public utility likely to promote the health, comfort, or convenience of the public, and not otherwise provided for in this Bill. Union boards may wish to see certain things done which do not actually fall within the four corners of the existing clauses.

"In clause 29 the Council will notice that we have made an important change, and I shall be glad to know whether it commends itself to the Council; we have given district boards power to order union boards to take action under that clause, and similarly under clause 32 in respect of water-supply. The desirability of so doing was represented in various quarters, and it will give a very useful power to district boards of bringing into line union boards that show themselves rather slack; at any rate, it will be in accordance with the general policy of leaving the improvement of the health conditions of the district largely to the representatives of the district themselves, whether they sit on the union boards or on the district board.

"We have also given power to remove jungle overgrowth and dense vegetation which is considered prejudicial to health. This is a matter of great importance in this province, about which much has been written and said.

The Bengal Village Self-Government Bill.

Sir Henry Wheeler.

"We have further provided that union boards may cause burning ghats and burial places to be established. These measures of sanitation speak for themselves.

"We have also made a provision, in so far as people are ordered by union boards to do certain things in respect of sanitation, that a right of appeal shall lie, in one case, which is of a more important character, to the district board, and in another, where the matter is less important, to the local board.

"In clause 33, which previously dealt only with roads, bridges, and the like, we have inserted waterways, and in view of the conditions prevailing in large parts of Eastern Bengal this seems to me a very useful change.

"In clause 35A we have inserted a new provision giving the right of regulation of an offensive or dangerous trade or business; these can at present be dealt with within municipal limits, but they may equally well be established outside them.

"In clause 37 we have enlarged the power of union boards regarding establishments, but as a safeguard we have made the exercise of the powers of appointment and the rates of pay subject to the sanction of the local board.

"In clauses 56 and 57, which deal with the power of inspection by superior authority, we have brought in the chairmen of district and local boards so as to give them direct responsibilities over the working of the union board.

"Clause 59A contains a somewhat important change in the Bill, although it merely follows in substance an existing provision in the Chaukidari Act. When this Bill was drafted we desired to get rid of the old liability under which personal warrants could be issued against the members of chaukidari panchayats for the realization of the arrear pay of chaukidars. That has always been represented as one of the causes of unpopularity of chaukidari panchayats. The Bill, as introduced, did not, however, afford an adequate alternative, and we have, therefore, gone back to the existing provision in the chaukidari law under which the District Magistrate can send a tahsildar to collect the arrears if the union board fails to do so.

"Coming to the matter of courts and benches we have made a number of minor changes, and we have made it clear that in criminal or civil matters the benches will only deal with offences committed, or causes of action arising, within their jurisdiction.

"In clause 102A we have considered the point as to how the amount realized under a decree is to be distributed if the sum due is not realized in full, and we have adopted the principle of rateable distribution.

"In clause 105 we have made a change regarding the payment of witnesses as there was a considerable amount of opinion that 15 miles was too far to require a witness to travel without being reimbursed his expenses.

"There are various other minor points, but I think a perusal of the report of the Select Committee will explain them sufficiently to Hon'ble Members.

"The measure is not a controversial one nor, I trust, will it prove to be so when the subject is discussed in this Council. The object of all of us is the same, and our sole wish is to produce a clear and workable measure. Hon'ble Members will notice two notes of dissent attached to the report, and their existence might be taken at first sight to be contradictory to what I have just said ; but I think it will be seen on examination that these two notes merely raise minor points, some of which are arguable, and some of which (particularly in connection with the Hon'ble Rai Sri Nath Ray Bahadur's dissent, who was, unfortunately, for domestic reasons, which we all deplore, unable to attend all the meetings of the Select Committee) might possibly have been cleared up if we had been able to have further verbal discussion. The Hon'ble Babu Bhabendra Chandra Ray has raised the question of the residential qualification of voters, on both sides of which there is something to be said, while he would like to make it obligatory on the dafadar and chaukidars to obey the orders of the bench. On examination we thought that this was already sufficiently provided for under the Bill. Another point is regarding the taking over of the duties of a superseded union board. It is not one which frequently arises, and I think I shall be able to show, if it crops up in Council, that there is not much real difference in substance between us. Finally, the dissentients raise a point about the assignments to be made to union boards by Government and the district board. They would like to have something in the nature of a statutory obligation on Government and the district board to contribute towards the expenses of union boards. I think that there are great practical difficulties in the way of such a statutory provision, but it is a point worth argument and discussion in Council.

"With these observations I beg to present the report of the Select Committee."

THE BENGAL PRIMARY EDUCATION BILL, 1919.

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH RAY presented the report of the Select Committee on the Bengal Primary Education Bill, 1919.

He said :—

"My lord, the original Bill, which was circulated to Commissioners of municipalities and local authorities for opinion, contemplated making primary education compulsory. We, however, received certain opinions from the Calcutta Corporation and the Calcutta University in which it was suggested that voluntary primary education ought to precede compulsory education. The Select Committee accepted the suggestion of these influential bodies, and modified the provisions of the Bill accordingly.

"There is another suggestion also which we have considered and it is this : in the original Bill it was proposed that where education cess was to be levied primary education ought to be made free, but the members of the Select Committee thought that it would be an unwise policy not to levy fees from the boys of schools even if the education cess were levied, and so we also had to modify the provisions of that clause. These are the material alterations which have been made in the Bill."

SUPPLEMENTARY LIST OF BUSINESS.

RESOLUTION ON THE RIGHT HON'BLE SIR S. P. SINHA'S APPOINTMENT.

The Hon'ble SIR DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI moved the following resolution :—

That the grateful and dutiful thanks of the Council be conveyed through His Excellency the Viceroy to His Gracious Majesty the King-Emperor for the appointment of the Right Hon'ble Sir S. P. Sinha, P.C., KT., K.C., as the first Indian Minister of the Crown.

That the thanks of the Council be also conveyed to the Right Hon'ble the Prime Minister.

That the heartiest felicitations of the Council be conveyed to the Right Hon'ble Sir S. P. Sinha.

He said :—

"My Lord, in placing this resolution before the Council for its acceptance, I feel weight down by a sense of sorrow which the Empire at large feels at the great grief of their gracious Majesties the King-Emperor and the Queen-Empress. A brave, good and wise King who at every stage of the fateful struggle through which the Empire has just passed, has devotedly and whole-heartedly been with his people naturally commands to-day their whole-hearted sympathy, and the Empire's respectful condolence will be tendered to him in his great bereavement—the first that he had as a father.

Ordinarily, the head of a constitutional monarchy would not have much to do with a ministry appointment like the one my resolution contemplates and ordinarily such a resolution would probably be out of place. But, in the exceptional circumstances of the case, I feel,—and the Council will probably think with me,—that our grateful thanks are due to His Majesty not only for His Majesty's approval of this great step, but also for the impulse that it must have received from him, if not the actual initiative. The message of hope with which His Majesty followed up his message of sympathy in this country is being daily translated into action, steadily if slowly, and it would be worse than a blunder not to recognise the full value and the significance of the unprecedented action that has now been courageously taken.

Our thanks are also due to the Prime Minister for his part in the action, and that could be no mean a part. But for his initiative Sir S. P. Sinha's name as the first Indian Minister of the Crown could not—nay, need not—have been thought of. As Mr. Lloyd George has recently said, it is not the greatest eloquence that gets things done. We had eloquent appeals, eloquent representations, eloquent re-assurances and at times eloquent promises. The time for eloquent action has now come and some of the first steps are about to be taken. Due and dutiful gratitude should, therefore, be ungrudgingly rendered.

If non-recognition of the value of the step would be a blunder, I am free to own that over-estimation of its value would be a mistake. No one for a moment imagines that stray high honours or offices can satisfy or uplift a people. And if this step was one such, there would be less occasion or justification for the widespread rejoicings that have found expression in the press, on the platform and among public bodies and individuals. But one must recognise, and is glad to be reassured, that this step is no isolated and thoughtless measure of placation or individual preferment. It is but a part of a concerted and deliberate scheme that is fast maturing and the step, which is a great step in advance, is but a sign and a symbol of the changing times.

That Sir S. P. Sinha has been chosen for this great honour and greater responsibility is no mere accident. The first Indian Advocate-General, the first Indian Member of the Imperial Executive Council, the first Indian King's Counsel the first Hindu Privy Councillor, and one of the first Indians on the Imperial War Cabinet, was naturally one of the first to be called upon to deliberate on the victories of Peace, ever more glorious than the victories of mere War. And when the time came for giving an Indian a permanent, recognised and useful position in connection with the work of reconstruction, his name was also naturally the first. It is a great honour to India and a greater recognition of her claims that at no step or stage of the Peace Conference the Indian representatives are to be dropped out, though in all stages the Indian members will not necessarily sit as such.

And is this not largely due to the high and undoubted personal qualities of Sir S. P. Sinha, and his princely colleague? An unobtrusive and assiduous worker, without any delusions and devoid of the art of deluding, Sir S. P. Sinha is endowed with uncommon common-sense; his unbending rectitude and high ideals utterly unfitted him for scheming for place or honour, and what has come to him has come because it was bound to. Like his friend Sir P.C. Roy, one of the many belonging to the notable Presidency College days in the early eighties of the last century, that produced Sir S. P. Sinha, he has no claims or pretensions to genius. He would himself be horrified by the idea, as Sir P. C. Roy has recently been. He has the marvellous gift of hitting at the right conclusion on the shortest possible notice, and is essentially a practical man of sound views. The joy felt at his elevation is not merely personal, though he is a dear friend to many. Nor is it merely communal or provincial. It is much more, and the whole country naturally desires to felicitate him. He is one of our very own, but that is no less a claim on our good feelings, and I invite the Council to convey their heart-felt felicitations to their colleague. Whether turbanned and bejewelled for Parisian enjoyment, as an enterprising newspaper agency has imagined him in fancy, or whether in his plain habiliments, such as he ordinarily delights in, the Right Hon'ble Sir Satyendra Prosanna Sinha will prove himself a good man and true, as he has always been,—a loyal, worthy and watchful son of India, Her glory he will uplift, and her good name and prestige he will uphold in her restored place among nations, in the eyes of nations assembled for united effort for the supreme enthronement of righteousness and for the final confusion of the world-forces of disorder, some idea of whose mysterious and mischievous creed is manifest in the latest nationalisation ideas of the hated Bolshevik."

The Hon'ble BABU SURENDRA NATH RAY said :—

"My Lord, I associate myself with all that has been said by Sir Deba Prasad Sarbadhicari. It is a matter of great gratification to us that the Right Hon'ble Sir Satyendra Prosanna Sinha who was a non-official member of this Council only three years ago, and was a member of the Executive Council of Your Lordship's Government up to a week ago, has been raised to the position of Under-Secretary of State for India. The appointment, I need hardly say, is unique. It not only shows the confidence of the British Government in an Indian of ability and merit, but also shows that where such ability exists, Government desire to avail themselves of the services of such ability. The appointment will give immense opportunities to an able Indian like Sir S. P. Sinha of doing real good to his country. The appointment of Indians to the Council of the Secretary of State for India as well as to the Executive Council of the Government of India and of the Provincial Governments showed that the British Government are convinced that Indians are fit for positions of trust and responsibility. They have unmistakeably proved their fitness to take their place in the highest Councils of the Empire. The appointment is an augury of India's partnership in the Empire. To us the satisfaction is all the more greater that a Bengali gentleman has been selected at this critical time to fill such an important office. Our heartiest congratulations go forth both to the Government and to the recipient of the office."

The Hon'ble RAI RADHA CHARAN PAL BAHADUR said :—

"My Lord, I desire to associate myself with the resolution which has been moved by the Hon'ble Sir Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari In doing so, I wish to say that the appointment has struck the imagination of the people. For the first time in the history of India, full effect has been given to the gracious proclamation of our late Most Gracious Majesty the Queen which were uttered in the memorable words of 1858. My Lord, I look upon the appointment of the Right Hon'ble Sir S. P. Sinha and the high position which he has been called upon to fill, not in a personal light I consider that it is an earnest of the fulfilment of that pledge that noble pledge of the British nation, which was announced by the Right Hon'ble Mr. Montagu in the House of Commons on the 20th of August 1917, and that pledge is to lift the Indians to the position of equal partners of the British Empire I do not think, My Lord, that the appointment of an individual here and there to a high position will meet our requirements or satisfy the aspirations of the people of this country. I hold that it is an earnest attempt to lift the Indian in the scale of nations as equal partners of the British Empire. On this ground, more than on personal grounds, I offer my hearty thanks and gratitude to His Gracious Majesty the King-Emperor, to the British Cabinet and to the British people."

The Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DUTTA said :—

"I desire to associate myself with this resolution, and I do so most whole-heartedly. I do hope and I sincerely believe that the appointment of the Right Hon'ble Sir S. P. Sinha as Under-Secretary of State for India will be an advantage both to India and to the Empire to which he belongs."

The Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI said :—

"My Lord, I am glad to associate myself with this motion and I do so whole-heartedly. I endorse every word that has fallen from the Hon'ble mover and supporters of this resolution. It is an unique occasion, and we are grateful to his Majesty the King-Emperor and to the British Empire and to the British Government, and I heartily congratulate the recipient of this honour. With these words, I beg to support the resolution."

The PRESIDENT said :—

"Before putting this motion from the Chair, I cannot refrain from associating both myself and my Government with the substance of the resolution, and with the tenor of the speeches which have been made in moving and supporting it. With regard to the actual words of the motion which is now before us I associate myself and also my Government with that. I rejoice both on national and on personal grounds at this signal honour which has been conferred on Sir S. P. Sinha. I rejoice on national grounds because I see in it a striking proof and a remarkable example of the determination of

Resolutions.

Babu K. M. Chaudhuri.

His Majesty's Government to seek in ever-increasing degree the co-operation and the assistance of the prominent men of this country in the solution of those vast problems which are common to India and to Great Britain. It is sometimes said, thoughtlessly, I think, that the British Government make promises easily but that they are not quite so careful in fulfilling them. I feel certain that by the action which His Majesty on the recommendation of the Prime Minister has now taken, any suggestion that the British Government have not every intention of carrying out to the best of their ability the pledges which have recently been made in Parliament, must be dispelled. I rejoice on personal grounds because I have been fortunate enough during the time of my holding office in this country to have had associated with me in the difficult and arduous task of governing this Presidency, the invaluable assistance and advice of Sir S. P. Sinha. He was a man who never hesitated in Council with his colleagues to state frankly and fearlessly his opinions. He was a man who has always been ready to give us the best advice that he possessed. At the same time he was a man who always listened with care and courtesy to the opinions of those who might differ from him. I cannot myself conceive a more valuable or a more delightful colleague in the Government of this Presidency than the Right Hon'ble gentleman who has now been so signally honoured by His Majesty the King-Emperor."

The motion was then put and agreed to.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 10.

RESOLUTIONS

(under the rules for the discussion of matters of general public interest).

The Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that a committee be formed to inquire into the causes of the deterioration of cows in Bengal, and to report as to the best means of improving them, especially noticing if, and on what lines, legislation is advisable for the compulsory acquisition of lands for the grazing of cattle and for preventing encroachment upon customary grazing lands (if any).

He said :—

"My Lord, I believe the fact that cows in Bengal have deteriorated and are gradually deteriorating is admitted on all hands and even by the Government, as will appear from 'A survey and census of the cattle of Bengal,' edited by Mr. Blackwood, the then Director of Agriculture of Bengal, and published by the Government in 1915, and it needs no showing by me. Nor am I an expert in the subject so that I shall be able to give any further facts in connection with it. It will also appear from the said report that the want of fodder is also admitted to be one of the main causes of such deterioration. At page 15 of the report in Chapter IX headed 'Circumstances adverse to cattle breeding in Bengal' Mr. Blackwood says :—'The most important circumstance, other than climate, adverse to cattle breeding in Bengal is undoubtedly the deficiency of pasture. This fact is well known to the ordinary cultivator who usually replies when asked the reason for the degeneration of cattle, ঘাসের অভাব (the want of grass).' Again when he treats of another cause of such deterioration, viz, the deficiency of suitable breeding bulls, he says. 'The inquiries which have been made have elicited the fact that, generally speaking, bull calves are not gelded until they become fit for ploughing. Covering is therefore usually done by immature bulls. The gradual diminution in the number of brahmani bulls is due very largely to encroachment on waste lands.' It is also admitted by Mr. Blackwood, though indirectly and rather mildly, that the slaughter of brahmini bulls is another cause. At page 22 under Chapter XII headed 'brahmini Bulls' Mr. Blackwood says 'the encroachment of cultivation on waste land is perhaps the chief reason for the gradual diminution of the number of brahmani bulls, although the High Court's decision that the brahmani bull must be regarded as a res nullius.' He goes on to say 'the old system of breeding by means of sacred bulls was a good one from the point of view of the cattle themselves, because, if properly carried out it ensured that the calves dedicated to the deity were picked animals and the practice of allowing them to roam at will ensured that they were well fed and had plenty of exercise.' There is already an insufficiency in the supply of bulls and to add to it there is the further fact as said above that the brahmani bulls are regarded as res nullius. In a note by the Superintendent of the Civil Veterinary Department, Bengal, on the work done by the said department for improvement of the breeds of cattle in Bengal he says 'brahmani bulls were continued to be taken away by butchers and others from Eastern Bengal and Assam and the lower districts of the province. The evil assumed such proportions that it had a serious effect on cattle breeding' and again 'Another evil which is assuming an alarming aspect is that brahmani bulls are taken away ..... and for meat purposes.'

Resolutions.

Babu K. M. Chauhuri.

Colonel Raymond sometime ago made a suggestion for bull rearing farms. But so far as I know, very little, if at all, has been done towards that purpose. A special Committee of the Corporation of Calcutta also advised legislation for acquiring pasture lands outside Calcutta.

If then, My Lord, it is admitted that cattle are deteriorating and also the causes are known, I do not know why the Government should be slow in remedying this grievance. Bengal is an agricultural country. The people of this province are by habit chiefly a race of non-meat-eaters. They depend chiefly upon agriculture for their food and besides some sprinkling of fish, they require largely some forms of dairy products, such as butter and milk for their meagre supply of fats. Further the question of welfare of the milk-bearing cattle is intimately connected with the health and welfare of the children-folk of the country and as such, it behoves the Government as the ultimate guardian of the peoples' interest to devise means and legislation for the maintenance and improvement of the cattle of the country. The question of an ample supply of cattle-food is of paramount importance in this connection and leads to the vexed question of feasibility, advisability or otherwise of providing ample grazing grounds by legislation. This point has been touched in some details by Mr. Blackwood (vide pages 16—19) in his report. The conclusion seems to be adverse to my proposal, viz., of provision of grazing land by State legislation. Be that as it may, My Lord, it is undeniable that from time immemorial Ruling authorities and Governments in this country deemed it their sacred duty to preserve, maintain and improve the breed of the cattle of the country. For this purpose the provision of grazing lands for cattle, the restrictions upon the slaughter of domestic animals, came within the purview of State legislation. Thus we find our old Hindu legislators making provisions for the same end.

For the preservation of cattle and to improve its quality the Hindu Governments from time immemorial adopted various measures, e.g. :—

(a) The Hindu Governments compelled the communal authorities in the towns and villages to provide these local areas with belts of pasture land around them to allow the cattle of those areas to graze in these lands. These pasture grounds formed belts of grass land round villages and towns and their width varied from 100 dhanus to 400 dhanus, e.g., 400 to 1,600 cubits. Dhanu is a measure 4 cubits long.

Ref. मनुसंहिता—VIII, 237.

Kautilya—Bk. II, page 172, text lines 5—11.

The preservation of these pasture grounds was enforced by the kings who did it themselves or enforced it upon the local authorities.

(ii) They placed restrictions upon the slaughter of these animals. Cow slaughter was strictly forbidden (Kautilya, page 122) and as regards buffaloes and other animals the Government forbade the slaughter of the female and the young and the castration of males (योनिबालवधं पुंलोपघातं च प्रतिषेधयेत् Kautilya, page 407). Unnecessary slaughter was discouraged and often punished.

(iii) To improve the quality of cattle (and horses) the Government provided people with bulls for crossing purposes. (Kautilya, page 133, in connection with royal horses).

The Government discouraged castration and secured certain immunities for the brahmani bulls—and bulls dedicated to Gods—and these were allowed to graze freely and were free from molestation. Injury to these was severely punished. (Kautilya on Pasture, page 172), vide also Vivàdaratnàkara on this point quoting the authority of Manu and Jajnavalkya on this point, pages 239-40. Asiatic Society's edition.

"The object of my hon'ble friend in moving the resolution is very laudable and the comparative apathy of Government towards the question is to be regretted. I am, however, sorry that I cannot support the resolution as it stands. The subject is a complicated one and will require very careful enquiry into actual conditions which I am afraid a committee sitting in Calcutta is not the fittest body to tackle properly. The question of grazing lands is only one of the many problems that will have to be solved and it is also a moot question whether, with an increase of population, lands which can profitably be cultivated for grains or jute should be allowed to lie waste for grazing purposes. The question again of the rights of villagers to have a certain portion of the village to remain fallow in order that their cattle may graze there as against the right of the landlords to enclose waste lands is also a very delicate one and requires very careful enquiry into actual conditions before any effective legislation can be taken up. Nor can we blame the landlords for bringing waste lands into cultivation when we find that even the Government in leasing out portions of the Sunderban lands requires rent for every bigha of the land let out and does not allow any rebate or remission etc., for pasture land, etc. The proper course would be to reserve some lands for grazing purposes and while it may be urged that probably the question is not yet very acute in that area, but it is bound to be so in a few short years in those areas where the whole of the land is cultivated. Similar causes have effected the disappearance of pasture lands in other parts of Bengal.

The difficulties indicated make it clear that the questions of finding fodder of an improved and more nutritious character, as well as of a better breed of cattle, in Bengal are all the more necessary and the help of the Agricultural Department will have to be sought.

While every one is agreed as to the necessity and urgency of the fact that something should be done in regard to an adequate feeding of the cattle, there are undoubtedly differences as to how best to secure this end.

Resolutions.

Maulvi A. Kasem.

Mr. Blackwood for instance is opposed to compulsory acquisition of grazing lands: and he suggests the growing of what is known as fodder crops and the adoption of mixed farming as being more effective and welcome remedies.

Taking all circumstances into consideration it seems that it will not be advisable to go in for compulsory acquisition of lands particularly in the face of a definite economic tendency to take up as much possible of the available land for purposes of cultivation. At any rate some voluntary method of securing the object should be given a fair trial before compulsory acquisition can be thought of. Besides the huge expenditure which a scheme of compulsory acquisition will entail, if it is to solve the problem for the entire province, makes one despair

The best plan will be to entrust the matter to the care of union boards which are to be created under the Village Self-Government Bill. And it will be for them to take the initiative and carry the project through with the willing co-operation of the Government, the zaminder and the tenant.

I hope the discussions on the subject will not be in vain and that Government will try to tackle the problem and inform the Council of their plan before long."

The Hon'ble MAULVI ABUL KASEM said :—

"My Lord, I should like to associate myself with the appeal which has been made by the Hon'ble Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri for the consideration of the question of improving not only the breed of the cattle, but for the protection of the cattle as well. I am sorry that like my friend the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray I cannot support the resolution as it stands. The resolution suggests that a committee consisting of officials and non-officials should be appointed. I regret that in my opinion a committee so constituted will be practically of very little value. I think the Government should take up an enquiry into the matter, and after securing the opinions of experts as well as of lawyers should provide some means for the protection of cattle. In a country, where agriculture is the chief industry, the question of the breeding of cattle and their maintenance is a question of the greatest possible importance. My Lord, millions of cattle—cows and bullocks—are slaughtered in India to provide food for the non-Hindu population and I wonder what would be the situation if we take a vow not to take beef. How the people of India are to maintain such a large number of cattle unless some provision is made for it? My friend the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray suggests that this matter should be left to the discretion of union committees who are to deal with it in consultation with Government and zamindars, I unfortunately differ from him. I think that the question should be taken up and taken up at once by the Executive Government, because it is a question in which there is no difference of opinion between popular representatives and the members of Government, and both are anxious to see that something should be done, and Government alone is in a position to decide this question. My Lord, the permanent settlement has been a great blessing to this country, but later experience and investigation have at least shown that it is not an unmixed blessing at any rate. To the permanent settlement we are indebted for the loss of grazing ground and what is more, the silting up and of inumerable silted up tanks in the cornfields. My friend the Hon'ble Babu Surendra Nath Ray says that it is more advantageous to have every inch of land for purposes of cultivation, but I want to know how cultivition work is to be carried out if there are no cattle in the country to plough the land. Over these matters I cannot express an opinion of my own; but I think that something ought to be done, and done immediately, to see that more grazing grounds are provided for our cattle and that some means for feeding them is provided and that the quality of cattle is improved."

Resolutions.

Rai D. C. Ghosh Bahadur.

The Hon'ble RAI DEBENDER CHUNDER GHOSH Bahadur said :—

"My Lord, I want to say a few words on this resolution and at the outset I should like to state that I associate myself with the Hon'ble Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri in his desire to have a committee appointed to enquire into the causes of the deterioration of cows in Bengal and to report as to the best means of improving them. There are, of course, no two opinions on the point that cattle in Bengal—I may say in most parts of India—have deteriorated in quality as also, I believe, in numbers. It is not of much use to refer to ancient Hindu writings and it is well-known that in pre-British days every village had its Gogrash of 30 bighas of land assigned as for the use of the cattle of the village, and it may be, as stated by the Hon'ble Maulvi Abul Kasem, that one result of the permanent settlement has been to give all these pasture lands to the zamindars who have made settlements of these lands for cultivation. All these uses were not foreseen at the time of the permanent settlement, but the permanent settlement has not been an evil to the country. There might have been mistakes of this kind at the time of the permanent settlement and provisions were not made for pasture lands. I may be permitted to invite the attention of the Council to the fact that Government khas mahal lands—a very appreciable portion of this province—have not been permanently settled for purposes of revenue. In the 24-Parganas there are large tracts which are Government khas mahal—and I think I may state, subject to any correction which official gentlemen may make on this subject, that there is no provision in the Government khas mahal in that district for setting apart any land for pasture of cattle. If that be so, I think it is not the zamindars of the permanently-settled estates who are to blame for the present state of things. The present state of things was not foreseen in the 18th century, and when we became aware of the evil which has come upon the economic situation of the country, we have neglected the preservation of pasture lands. We have not been very keen—we have not been at all earnest—in remedying the evils when we have come to know of it. The Agricultural Department of Government has been in existence about 40 years, and I do not think that the Agricultural Department has seriously tackled this question. I think that is owing to the frequent changes in the personnel of that Department and the stingy way in which that Department has been supplied with the sinews of finance. Whatever might have been the reason, there is the fact that within the last 40 years very little has been done to improve the situation in this matter. Cows have deteriorated for various causes, the chief cause, of course, being the want of grazing land : and it so happens that those who have the directing hand in apportioning the monetary contributions for remedying the evil are not the persons who directly feel the difficulties which have arisen on account of the deterioration of the cattle. We, Hindus, depend greatly on cattle for our sustenance, not that we live upon the flesh of cattle but the milk of the cattle sustains us from infancy to old age and we cannot resist our neighbours, the Muhammadans, in killing cattle. Then there is the European community to be considered : they are a beef-eating race and it does not matter to them whether cows or bulls are slaughtered. In England, I believe, prime-cows are not slaughtered for purposes of beef. The contrary happens to prevail in India—at least I can speak for the town of Calcutta where an effort was made sometime ago to discourage the slaughter of prime-cows, and there was such an uproar and such a commotion that the Chairman of the Calcutta Corporation was obliged to suggest the rescinding of the by-law which required a larger fee for the slaughter of prime-cows. That was the way in which it was tried to discourage the slaughter of such cows. Well that is the state of things in Calcutta. There is a scheme before the Corporation of Calcutta for acquiring grazing lands at some distance from the town of Calcutta and to set up a dairy at a considerable cost,—the estimate is ten lakhs—to supply the town of Calcutta with pure milk. All over the country people are suffering for the deterioration of cows and after Your Lordship is able to suppress malaria the next best thing would be to take effective measures for the improvement of cattle and for increasing the food supply of the people of this land. I therefore have great pleasure in asking for a committee. A committee will be useful in discussing the various matters for or against the question and one will feel his way before embarking on a project. One gentleman has said that you cannot proceed under the Land Acquisition Act to acquire grazing lands. Well that is one of the ways, and, provided you have the money, that is the safest way of securing grazing lands. I only refer to this matter in the hope that a committee will be appointed to consider these things."

Resolutions.

The Hon'ble KHAN SAHIB AMAN ALI said :—

" My Lord, that the cultivators are feeling great inconvenience there is not the least doubt. I come from Chittagong, and I have seen that lands are measured as goban and gochat ; goban is the path reserved for the passing of cows, and gochat is the land reserved for the grazing of cattle. These lands have now been resumed by Government and have been leased to the people. I have also seen in hilly places in Chittagong that certain hills were used by cultivators for grazing their cattle. They have now been reserved and the people cannot graze their cattle there, especially the grazing of buffaloes has been forbidden, so that the cultivators are suffering very much. My submission to this Council is that some enquiry ought to be taken in hand, either by a committee or by the District Officers. I have consulted some of the agriculturists and some of officers of the Agricultural Department, and they have told me that there are means for producing fodder for cattle : in a small area fodder can be produced for a good number of cattle. If Government be pleased to enquire into the matter either by a committee or from District Officers it will be a great boon to the cultivators of this Province. I have no experience of other districts, but I have some experience of my own district Chittagong. I have also seen that when a new char is formed, grass is produced there in abundance, and that the people buy this grass and feed their cattle. But, as soon as the grass grows, Government lease the char and the cultivators greatly suffer. This is a matter of my own experience. Therefore, my submission to this Council in support of this resolution is that, either a committee be formed to enquire into the matter or that the matter be enquired into through District Officers."

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING said :—

"Sir, Government have every sympathy with the anxiety which the hon'ble gentleman has regarding the decrease in grazing reserves in Bengal. He has given details and quoted from Mr. Blackwood's survey of the position ; and he suggests legislation, although one of the authorities quoted by him deprecated such legislation.

I am afraid I must trespass somewhat on the time of this Council in giving a fuller statement of the past history of the case than has hitherto been given in this debate. But I shall refrain from straying into some of the by-paths which have been trodden by some of the previous speakers.

The resolution deals with two subjects : first, the alleged deterioration of cattle and secondly, the improvement of grazing facilities. The hon'ble mover recommends in his resolution that a committee should be appointed to examine the matter. From past experience, it is more than doubtful whether from the appointment of a committee any practical result would ensue ; and this point of view has been put forward by at least two hon'ble members who have already spoken. After all, the facts are known as far as they can be known. Undoubtedly, the condition of cattle in Bengal is not satisfactory; the causes are partly climatic and partly economic. We have recently obtained from settlement reports some interesting statistics regarding cattle. In two important districts, we find that there is one animal for every two human beings; and in two other districts the record of rights of which has been recently completed we find one for every three. Again, we find one animal for every cultivated acre in a district like Dacca. We also find two animals per cultivated acre in a district like Backerganj. In addition to that, there is Mr. Blackwood's Cattle Census Report of 1915 to which the hon'ble mover has alluded. Mr Blackwood formed general conclusions as to what the causes of the deterioration are, and I doubt whether a committee sitting at the present moment could decide anything further. Moreover, another cattle survey is due to be undertaken in January of next year. That is another reason why the appointment of a committee ad hoc is unnecessary.

Now, what are the causes so far as we can ascertain them. Primarily, the cause is an economic one:—namely, that it pays a cultivator better to grow crops than to produce cattle. There are many subsidiary causes, such as the smallness of holdings; deep ploughing is not required, hence cultivators are content to employ weak cattle; and the valuable fodder crops which we find grown in the United Provinces and in Bihar cannot be grown in a damp climate like that of Eastern Bengal. A damp climate, moreover, such as we have generally in Bengal, is unfavourable to the growth of vigorous cattle. There is also the want of good bulls; and I regret to say also that the cultivators do not give the calves sufficient milk. These are the general conclusions which were formed. As I have said, I do not think we can ascertain very much more by appointing a committee.

It has been urged in the debate that Government have not done enough; that Government are apathetic; and that the officers of Government, not being natives of the soil, do not appreciate the difficulties. I challenge all these statements. The Department of Agriculture has not been in existence in Bengal for so long a period as 40 years, as has been alleged; but the matter has engaged the attention of its officers throughout. The present policy of the Bengal Government at the Rangpur cattle farm is to follow two lines of action; one line is to ascertain what improvement can be effected by the process of selection from among indigenous cattle, and the other is to see what can be done by cross-breeding. Already there is an indication that the selection of the best cattle from acclimatised indigenous stock produces better results, both in the outturn of milk, and in bone and muscle. If this inference is supported, as time goes on, it will be desirable to create similar farms at many other places in the Presidency; and this, I suggest, is the proper line of action for the improvement of cattle as cattle.

The second main point in the resolution is as regards the improvement of grazing facilities. No member in the course of the debate has indicated the fact that this subject has been discussed very frequently both in this Council and in the Imperial Council. It is not a new subject; it has been brought up in recent years three times in the Imperial Council and four times in the Bengal Council; it was the subject of a budget resolution in this Council; it was also discussed in detail by the Commissioners at one of their annual Conferences; and the Government of India once raised the matter as an all-India question. What was the result? The Commissioners' Conference to which I have referred, could come to no practical conclusion. Some of the finest revenue officers that India has produced have handled this matter, and found themselves unable to check the effect of economic laws. It is true that the situation is different in different parts of India, and it is not the same even in different parts of this Presidency. One member has referred to the lands bordering on reserve forests in Chittagong. This is a matter of local controversy; but the solution is to allow grazing in reserved forests under such conditions as will preserve the reserved forests, and at the same time not press too hard on the cattle. The rules that have been imposed there are, I consider, fair. Then again, there is the case of char lands on the littoral of the Bay of Bengal. It is said that Government makes no arrangement there for setting apart lands for grazing purposes. That I also challenge. The rules are quite distinct on the subject; and have been recently emphasised by the Hon'ble Mr. Stevenson-Moore, the Member in charge of the Board of Revenue. In Northern Bengal you have an entirely different problem; there the policy is to encourage stall-feeding. The picture, however, which most people have in their minds when discussing this question is the state of the Central Bengal districts where grazing has been reduced to a minimum by the extension of cultivation. Now, one may apply one formula for practically the whole of these cases, and it is as follows: where fodder reserves are required, there is no spare land, and where there is land, no fodder reserves are required. Mr. Finucane, who was the first Director of Agriculture of Bengal and was one of the best revenue officers in this province, once said that it seemed to him that all that could be done in the permanently-settled areas in Bengal was to assist such zamindars as were willing to assist themselves, and that it was out of the question for Government to acquire land by purchase in permanently-settled areas. In more recent times, another Bengal officer whose knowledge of the agricultural conditions of Bengal it would be difficult to beat,—I refer to the Hon'ble Mr. Kerr, made the following statement in this Council: 'The problem is an economic one and no feasible method of solving it has yet been suggested. Waste land is being brought under cultivation because it pays better to grow crops on it than to reserve it for grazing purposes. Government has at present no control over the extension of cultivation in ordinary private estates, and legislation on the subject would effect many vested interests, and would be attended by grave difficulties.'

Allusion is made in these remarks to the fact that Government has no control over cultivators in private estates; now what do the zamindars themselves say? Mr. Blackwood consulted the Landholders' Association; and he was informed that the zamindars could do nothing practical in the matter, and that it would be difficult to persuade the tenants to retain any portion of the land even for such a beneficial object as the grazing of cattle. In a recent settlement report of the Dacca district, it is recorded that neither the cultivators nor the landholders' agents show any restraint in refraining from encroachment on the local village paths, which are stated to constitute the only grazing lands in the district. I may quote another authority, Mr. Moreland, one of the great revenue officers of an adjacent province, namely, the United Provinces. He had an unsurpassed knowledge of the economic conditions of those provinces. He expressed his opinion when this very matter was being discussed very appropriately at a Cattle Conference convened at Lucknow about 10 years ago. On that occasion the matter was considered from every point of view, but the Conference could arrive at no agreement. He said that in those provinces the larger landholders were voluntarily preserving the existing grazing grounds, but objected strongly to be compelled to do so, while smaller landholders were breaking up the land for cultivation until the necessary adjustment for prices ensured its retention for grazing. Therefore it comes to this that is from the self-interest of the people concerned that we must look for any improvement. It has already been found in actual practice in the Dacca district that the union committees from whom we expect so much at present, have exercised their influence in preventing encroachment on the footpaths which are at present the main source of grazing grounds in that district.

Resolutions.

Mr. Cumming.

The hon'ble gentleman has proposed that the propriety of legislation should be considered. This suggestion was also placed before Mr. Blackwood; and in answer to his enquiries the Landholders' Association made an entirely immature suggestion which was of doubtful legality, that Government should acquire land for grazing purposes by utilising landlords' fees which had lapsed. This suggestion was not accepted. Now as regards possible legislation, it might take one of two forms:—one form would be for the purpose of the preservation of existing lands which are at present used for grazing, and the other form would be for the purpose of the acquisition of land for the same object. Now, as regards the first type, that has already been adopted in the legislation which was proposed for Orissa when the Orissa Tenancy Bill was brought before this Council. That Bill was subsequently taken up in the Legislative Council of Bihar and Orissa; but the chapter devoted to that end was dropped. I felt personally some regret in the matter because I had a little to do with the preparation of that chapter; but at the same time I recognised that the reasons which were then given for not following up the matter, were sufficient. The other line of action would be to acquire new land for grazing. Such acquisition may again fall under two heads; it may be permissive or it may be coercive. If it were permissive, all experience shows that the legislation would be a dead letter, inasmuch as advantage would not be taken of its provisions. If coercive, then I am sure that the resentment which would be created would be out of proportion to the advantage obtained. Obviously if any village or group of villages were to come forward and say that two-thirds of the principal landlords or tenants wished a certain area to be acquired, Government would consider the matter on its merits; but so far nothing of this kind has been done, and I have very grave doubts whether such a proposal would be forthcoming.

If I have been successful in showing that this matter has been very carefully examined in the past and that every experienced officer has admitted his inability to work miracles, then it may be asked—what can be done. I may say that Government have done, and can do, three things. First of all, Government can set a good example both in temporarily-settled estates and in Government estates which are held direct. The instructions of the Board of Revenue which are now on record, should, if followed, ensure that grazing lands are maintained. In the second place, in making a record-of-rights in this Province we have found that it is admitted by general consent that certain lands are recognised as land over which the local public have communal rights, such as grazing; and where such rights have been found to exist Government have in their record-of-rights recorded that such land is held subject to such easements. A list of such lands is attached to the record of each village. In this way existing rights are stereotyped; but there is not much of this in Bengal, and for that reason I do not expect much by way of legislation, undertaken simply for the purpose of recording existing rights. In the third place, Government can pursue the policy of endeavouring to select the fittest cattle by selection from among acclimatised cattle in the province. In course of time a type will be developed which can be spread over the province; and District Boards in their turn can perform their duty in maintaining stock bulls. These are the three definite lines of action which Government can, and should, follow. As for the landlords in the permanently-settled districts in this Presidency, they must, so far as they can, on the one hand, exercise self-restraint and refrain from turning grazing land into agricultural land, for the sake of immediate gain and, on the other hand, teach cultivators that defective cattle will in the end re-act upon their own productivity and on their power of paying rent. It may be that it is only in the hard school of experience that the cultivators will learn the lesson for themselves.

Resolutions.

Babu K. M. Chaudhuri.

For these reasons, Sir, I consider, agreeing with some of the members who have spoken, that the appointment of a committee will lead to no practical result, and that there are other lines of action which are more suitable for adoption. Therefore, I must ask the Council not to accept the resolution in its present form."

The Hon'ble BABU KISORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI said :—

"My Lord, I am sorry that I am opposed by the Hon'ble Member in charge of the department in the suggestion that a committee ought to be formed, and I am also sorry that some of my friends have misunderstood me, and have thought that a committee would do no good. From the discussions I should think it has been made clear to Your Excellency that a committee is really necessary. Of course, all that individual effort can do, is being done, and that Government are alive to the question is also apparent from the fact that there was an enquiry by Mr. Blackwood who recommended that it was necessary to take some steps for the improvement of the cattle, but that legislation was not necessary; Government could not therefore do anything in the face of that report. If, however, it is a matter of interest to the Agricultural Department, for the improvement of the milk supply, and for other reasons as well, it is necessary that something should be done. Why should Government simply depend upon that report, and say that it is an economical question, and that individual effort should be depended upon. I am told that zamindars should do something; khas mahal is the best ideal for the zamindars to follow. Before zamindars can do anything, the initiative should be taken in khas mahal land by Government and they should show the way. If it is really a public question, one class alone should not be called upon to do the needful; not only the zamindars, but also the people most interested, I mean the tenants, and also the Government should come forward to take the initiative by showing the way in which it can be affected in the khas mahal lands, and for the other tracts, by legislation, if necessary. It is admitted that this is a very complicated question. If it is a complicated question, then the appointment of a committee is all the more necessary. Although Government are fully alive to the question and directed a special inquiry, and a report was submitted, yet the question was arrested because Mr. Blackwood could not come to a definite proposal, and did not agree that there was a necessity, and that legislation was the proper method of dealing with it. I am not asking for an official enquiry, I simply ask that a committee should be appointed. My suggestion is that the district officers may also do the needful if they form themselves into a committee. The District Board is not the proper authority because they have not got the funds. In the village unions some difficulties will arise as to where they should get funds. There should be co-operation between the people, the zamindars and the Government, and that question can only be dealt with in a committee. That committee could consider the question of ways and means and they could formulate proposals how the question could be approached. I am not satisfied with the reply that has been given, and I earnestly request that Your Excellency's Government should take up the question and find out means as to how this could be done. Two things are very urgently required; the breeding question and the maintenance question. As regards the breeding question, I have shown already that in former times the State maintained bulls and supplied them free of charge. Brahmini bulls served the purpose to a certain extent, but that is also discouraged now. I think that breeding farms should be started, and Mr. Blackwood stated that farms should be established and fodder crops raised and people trained. But, I want to know in what way all this can be done. If these things are necessary, I think it must be worked out by a committee who will consider the question in all its different aspects and they should submit to Government whether any legislation is necessary, and then Your Excellency's Government will be in a position to consider what steps should be taken in the matter and whether funds should be raised by co-operative movement or whether by imposition of rates on interested persons and zamindars. So I earnestly appeal that my resolution should be accepted.

Resolutions.

Babu K. M. Chaudhuri.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 11.

The Hon'ble Babu Kishori Mohan Chaudhuri moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that a committee, consisting of officials and non-officials, be appointed to inquire and report as to the best means of causing the district administration in the future to be more in touch with the public opinion of the district, especially noticing if, and on what lines, advisory committees formed of representative public men of the district should be constituted.

Resolutions.

Babu K. M. Chaudhuri.

He said :—

"My Lord, as at present constituted the district administration is a detached administration by the district officers in which the people of the district have but little voice. The official tours of the district officers and their presence at district board meetings have little effect in securing co-operation between the Government and the real leaders of the people. Practically, they rarely meet and meet for any public purposes. In these days when the necessity for the co-operation of the public with the Government is so much felt and recognised, this co-operation should not, to my mind, be left to the discretion of the district officer, but should be placed on a sure basis by the creation of a permanent institution in the nature of an advisory committee or such other body, which will by constant exchange of views and joint deliberations have a real and effective bearing on the civil administration of the district in all its important branches affecting materially the well-being of the people. Such an attempt, I understand, is being made in the excise department. That this is necessary was hinted at by the Decentralisation Commission Report long ago, and also by other Government reports. So far as I know, circulars were issued by the Government of India for promoting better understanding between the district officers and the people. Government officers have been given to understand that manifestations of grave defects of temper and repeated loss of self-control should be regarded as constituting inefficiency. But I am not quite sure if these circulars produced the desired effect. I therefore want a committee for the purpose of devising means as to how this co-operation can best be secured. If the creation of advisory committees is advised by such a committee it will also be for them to recommend what shape this advisory committee should take, what functions it should exercise and what will be its constitution. By this resolution I simply want that the district officers should be in constant touch with the leaders of public opinion in the district, so that the administration may be more sympathetically based upon co-operation. In that case the peculiar wants of the district will always be before the officers, who will also in their turn find it very easy to accomplish their tasks with the co-operation of the leaders. And I am sure that such a step will remove much misunderstanding and many mistakes which, admittedly, to our great regret, often take place under the present system. Further, this will also help to train the people up in civil administration so as to make them ready to exercise greater powers in future such as are foreshadowed in the Reform Scheme.

The gods, it is natural, my Lord, may be jealous of their powers, but if the angle of vision has changed, and sympathy rather than autocratic power is to be the keynote of the Government of the country in future, the place where it ought to begin is perhaps the district, and so that the coming reforms in the Central and Provincial Governments may be real, they ought to be preceded by a reform in the district administration.

It will perhaps be not quite out of place to quote here a passage from the Report on Constitutional Reforms by His Excellency the Viceroy and the Secretary of State for India. At page 162 of their report they say : 'It is perhaps not easy for the successful and unimaginative Englishman to realise what the rule of another race must mean to patriotic minds and the great obligation that lies upon him to treat with all possible consideration those whom he has hitherto ruled and whom he is now admitting to a share in the task of ruling.'

Resolutions.

Sir Henry Wheeler.

What I feel is that the district officer ought in future to make the leaders of the district his colleagues rather than subordinates and I am fully confident that such a step is sure to place on a surer and firmer basis the British government in India. Such a step is rendered all the more necessary by the fact that Europeans and not Indians are generally placed in charge of districts.

With these remarks I beg to move this resolution, and I earnestly appeal to Your Excellency that it may be accepted."

The Hon'ble Sir Henry Wheeler said :—

"My Lord, it is somewhat difficult to deal with this resolution on the speech which the Hon'ble Member has just delivered, because he has told us very little of the practical means which he would like us to adopt. He has enunciated some laudable sentiments about the conditions which should govern the relations between District Officers and the people, and with them I have no quarrel. But, after all, the resolution proposes definite action towards the appointment of a committee, and I should certainly like to have heard more what changes he wants, what precisely their character is to be, and what advantages exactly he thinks he would secure by adopting them. The resolution, as it stands, desires that an enquiry should devise means for causing the district administration of the future to be more in touch with the public opinion of the district. That is a very praiseworthy object, and it is an object which it is certainly the desire of Government to see fulfilled. We want to ensure that the actions of Government are based upon accurate information of the facts and conditions existing in the districts, and of the opinions of all those who are likely to be affected by whatever is done. I have advisedly said all those, because the vast majority of the people who are affected by Government action in this country are not ordinarily those whose views find most prominence through the ordinary channels. But I do not agree with the Hon'ble Member when he talks about the administration of the present day as being an absolutely detached administration—with the officials on one side and the people on the other. For one thing it is practically impossible to put a man in charge of the executive work of a district which touches so closely the lives of the people, and for him to be able to discharge his duties (even if he wished to do so) in a state of absolute detachment. We know too that this is not the case. The Collector and his officers probably tour throughout the district more than any other individual can possibly do, coming constantly into contact with the people with whose various cases, criminal, revenue or administrative, they have to deal.

However, turning to the achievement of this laudable object, I think the essential point is how further are we going to attain it, or rather how can we improve upon the existing state of affairs. The only hint which the Hon'ble Mover has given is the old idea of advisory committees for Collectors. He has not even told us on what lines he would like to see them constituted. Apparently, he would leave all that to the committee of enquiry. But the idea of advisory committee for District Officers is not a new one. As the Hon'ble Member himself mentioned, it was prominently brought to the notice of the Decentralization Commission, a body of which I happened to be the Secretary; and I therefore heard an enormous amount of evidence on this point throughout the length and breadth of India, not only from the standpoint of Bengal but from that of other provinces. The Hon'ble Member has rather hinted that the Decentralisation Commission favoured the idea of such advisory committees. The facts are, however, that (the late Mr. R. C. Dutt dissenting) the Commission arrived at the following conclusion :—

'We also agree with those witnesses who spoke against a separate advisory council for the Collector. We consider that the District Boards, which include leading officials of the district as well as representative non-officials, afford a convenient instrument for furnishing advice to the Collector upon matters which, although not included in their administrative sphere, affect the district generally, or important portions of its area or people. We understand that some Collectors do already make use of their district boards in this way; but we should like this practice extended. Consultation with the district board should not, of course, in any way preclude or diminish the Collector's private consultation with influential non-officials. Given these conditions, we see no object in calling a separate advisory council into existence; while we regard it as impossible, in present circumstances, that the Collector should share his executive responsibilities with such a body.'

Resolutions.

Sir Henry Wheeler.

That was the finding of a fairly powerful body which made a widespread enquiry into the matter, and of whom, I may say, two members started by being rather predisposed to the idea of advisory committees, but were subsequently convinced of their impracticability. But not only is that a previous authoritative finding on the point, but the whole matter was discussed in a debate in the Imperial Legislative Council in this very Chamber on the 26th February 1912, when the late Mr. Gokhale put the case for such committees with considerable force, and the Hon'ble Sir Reginald Craddock, who was then Home Member, answered him in a very able and convincing manner, demonstrating the difficulties in the way. That debate really summed up most of the arguments that are relevant. So, we have already these two findings, and I do not think the Council will be well advised, on the vague considerations which the Hon'ble Member has put before us, in again pulling this rather aged horse out of the stable and giving it another run round the course. The Hon'ble Member has in no sense referred to the various considerations that underlie the idea of advisory committees. At the very threshold, one is confronted with the question—is the committee to be advisory or executive? And when we come to analyse the views of those who favour the idea, it will generally be found that although they talk of an advisory body, they really mean an executive body. If these people are merely to be advisory, they will after a short space of time naturally say: 'What is the use of our coming here if our views carry no weight?' And as far as talking with them goes, it is perfectly open to the Collector, as matters are at present, to discuss affairs with them. Therefore, the idea of a somewhat executive body is foreshadowed, usually in the form that if the Collector cannot carry his advisory committee with him, then he must refer the points of difference to Government for orders. But even underlying such an idea there are various practical difficulties, to say nothing of the enormous delay in the disposal of business and the additional work that would be thrown on the Collector in case of disagreement between him and his council. What would be the position if they are constantly overridden by the Collector, and if the Government agreed with the Collector, as Government would in most cases be likely to do? Clearly, there would be continual cause for friction. But if the idea is to assume the practical form of an executive council for the executive work of the district, I submit there are grave objections. Then again, what sort of committee does the Hon'ble Member advocate? After all, in the debate to which I have already referred, the late Mr. Gokhale at least told the Council what he had in his mind. That was a Council of from 9 to 6 elected and 3 nominated members; and as regards the elected, he said that he would like to see the majority elected by district boards. But election by the district board would be entirely inconsistent with our present ideas regarding primary and secondary electorates, and it would be putting a body chosen for entirely different purposes to deal with business which was no particular concern of the district board. If this is inexpedient are we to have another election by the direct franchises that are contemplated under the Reforms Scheme, and, if so, what sort of men are likely to be chosen? If they are men from headquarters they will not be acquainted with the outlying portions of the district: if they are men from the interior of the district, it will be extraordinarily difficult for them to attend frequent meetings at headquarters. So there are very great practical difficulties whichever way the matter be regarded. Merely to say 'let us give the Collector an advisory committee,' and to support it by excellent arguments about the desirability of co-operation between officials and people, does not really carry us much further.

Resolutions.

Sir Henry Wheeler.

Let us consider for one moment what exactly is the kind of duties which devolve upon the Collector. There is first of all the main category of consultative work on legislative measures or important administrative acts or changes, on which Government consults the District Officer as to his views, almost invariably with the direction that he, in his turn, should consult the leading men of the district, which he almost invariably does. It cannot be said that in such matters public opinion, whether it be of the district or the province as a whole, is not ascertained. It may be that the ultimate decision of Government is not always in accordance with the views of a certain section of public opinion, but if Hon'ble Members will look at the sort of papers that came before the Select Committee the report of which I presented this morning, they will find that 80 or 90 papers are there enumerated going down even to the opinions of humble individuals. If the Collector consults the leading men of his district, and district boards and municipalities, at any rate their views are on record, and apart from consultation of that kind, we have the important channels of the press and platform and the Legislative Council itself, where the power of asking questions and bringing resolutions will be still further enhanced in the near future under the Reforms Scheme. So, in all this class of District Officer's work, I submit, public opinion makes itself already amply heard. Apart from that we come to what is the primary duty of the District Officer, i.e., his executive work, and by executive work I mean the application of laws, rules and orders to actual facts and conditions. It is not the laying down of policies, in connection with which the utility of a council may very well be argued; that is done for the most part at headquarters and in this Legislative Council: but the executive work proper, as carried out in the districts, is the application of accepted policies to local facts. I may add, incidentally, that not even in the local Government is the bulk of the executive work done in committee. It is only the most important matters that come before the local Government in Executive Council. It is probably known to Hon'ble Members as a matter of historical fact that in the old days of the Government of India all executive details used to be brought before the Government sitting as a body: but the system absolutely broke down with the development of administration, and I think it was abandoned about Lord Lawrence's time.

Taking then the executive work to which I have referred, what is the kind of executive work in which the public opinion of the district is most interested? It is surely the executive work which comes before existing local bodies, such as the making of bridges, repairs of roads, improvement of communications generally, deepening of water-ways, planting of trees, opening of hospitals and schools, etc. All these are matters which are already largely in the hands of local bodies. In all such executive work the District Officer has in some cases the assistance of the district board, while in other cases he stands entirely aloof, these being entrusted to municipalities of which he is not even a member. With the steady improvement effected by the adoption of our policy of appointing non-official chairmen of district and local boards (in municipalities chairmen, as it is, are mostly non-official), these matters will more and more pass into the hands of the people themselves, and an additional advisory committee would be entirely out of place in connection with them: and if we had an advisory committee of 9 members, mainly elected by the district board, as advocated by the late Mr. Gokhale, surely the position would become rather absurd.

Apart from this and turning to the other executive duties which the District Magistrate has to perform, I may briefly run through a few of the major heads. The first is Magisterial work which cannot obviously be done by an advisory committee, and over which control is exercised through definite channels of appeal and revision. Next, there is the control of police. The actual administration of the district police tends to pass more and more into the hands of the Superintendent of Police, as far as matters of departmental detail are concerned, and I can conceive of nothing more disastrous if in such matters references had to be made to a committee before action could be taken. In regard to jails, we know already that the District Magistrate is assisted by public opinion represented by jail visitors.

On the Revenue side, in a province like Bengal where estates are permanently settled, the actual settlement of land revenue, a point on which the late Mr. Gokhale laid great stress, is of comparatively minor importance, and where it arises in temporarily settled areas it is essentially a matter for detailed enquiry by expert officers in the villages themselves. Apart from that, with our permanently settled revenue, what are the Collector's duties? The Collector has to manage the actual collection of revenue, the conduct of revenue sales, the maintenance of the tauzi ledgers and the land-registration registers, so that the names of the landholders are accurately entered, and matters of that description. I see no place for an advisory committee in all these, while the cadastral survey is based on local enquiry in the villages dealt with, and the public opinion which the Hon'ble Member wishes to be heard is that of the villagers who gather round the assistant settlement officer and represent their cases under the village tree.

Taking other branches of a Collector's work such as excise the Hon'ble Member has himself admitted that we already have advisory committees which are consulted. Local option as regards the location of liquor shops, for instance, is the option of the locality concerned not of a central district committee. As regards Income-tax, I can scarcely believe the Hon'ble Member would like this Council of 9 to advise as to assessments but public opinion is heard locally by the assessors on whose reports the final assessments are largely based. Registration is a matter of applying rules and orders to an existing administrative system; while turning to things like co-operative credit, we again have public opinion represented in the local societies. In regard to agriculture we have again district boards who assist largely, and in connection with executive work as a whole, in the ordinary sense of the term, I submit that the place for an advisory committee is very small.

If, apart from the broad consultative functions of the Collector and the executive duties to which I have referred, it is argued that it will be nice to give the Collector some people to whom he can talk at regular intervals, I would prefer that we should continue the present system by which he is accessible to all men, talking freely with them and telling them what he has got to say, and hearing what they have got to say, not only at the district headquarters but throughout the district in the course of his periodical tours. That is the real way in which, I submit, the efficiency of district administration can best be maintained, and it is the wish of Government that the Collector should continue this practice in an extended degree.

So much on the merits of the resolution. As to the inopportuneness of this enquiry at the present time there can be little question. To take a minor objection, we are strained in all directions for men at the moment, and even when we get men back from the war, we shall be drained of others going on leave which has in many cases been long delayed, and we shall not be able to spare officers to enquire into this ancient topic. Secondly, is it an opportune moment to seek to effect this very considerable change in our present system of district administration when we have under discussion a much wider scheme of reform in the higher branches of Government, the precise details of which are yet to be known and to be applied? Whatever may be the outcome of the Reforms Proposals, they obviously will effect large changes in the present system of our administration. Surely, it is wiser to see the effect of these reforms before attempting to make, even within a smaller sphere, an equally revolutionary departure in so far as the present lines of district administration are concerned.

For these reasons, Sir, I would deprecate the adoption of this resolution."

The Hon'ble BABU KISHORI MOHAN CHAUDHURI said :—

"My Lord, I regret that I have been misunderstood. It is not my intention that the executive work should be supervised by local committees. My object is simply to ensure that the District Officers should be in touch with the real leaders of the district, and that they should consult them now and then on matters affecting the interest of the people themselves. I have been told that district boards serve the purpose to a great extent. I think I have some knowledge of the working of district boards as I was for some time on the board in my district, for some time as a member and for some time as vice-chairman, and I know that only those people who have influence with the voters are returned to the district board. The real persons who can advise or render real assistance in the administration of the district are not returned.

I am told that District Officers do their best to ascertain the opinion of the public, by issuing letters and by inviting opinions on important questions. Of course, in some cases it is done, but in the majority of cases the information is not derived from actual contact with the leaders of the people. Whatever information is derived, is derived in official tours practically from the police department, and from the people who come to meet the District Officer on business, but there is really very little opportunity of getting information from the public. As for instance the co-operative movement ; and how that movement should be spread. There are also matters of excise policy ; local committees are only now being consulted. Some committees have been formed in the districts to advise the excise department regarding the location of shops and also in other respects. As in this department, so in other departments, not really executive in their nature, but which affect the interests of the community, much can be done with the co-operation of the people. With that object in view I brought forward this resolution, but as I see there is opposition I do not like to press it, and pray that I may be allowed to withdraw it."

The resolution was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

The Hon'ble KUMAR SHIB SHEKHARESWAR RAY moved the following resolution :—

consider would be beneficial to the various landed interests in Bengal, without unduly encroaching upon their existing rights and privileges.

He said :—

"My Lord, personally, I would have very much liked to move this resolution and see it accepted by the Government because I sincerely believe that the present land laws of Bengal have entirely failed to effect a happy and harmonious solution of the difficulties between landlord and tenant, but, my Lord, I am advised by some of my friends to wait for some time more, and I cannot but listen to their advice, and though it is against my will, I beg permission of Your Excellency to withdraw the resolution."

The resolution was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

The Hon'ble KUMAR SHIB SHEKHARESWAR RAY also moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that provision be made in the next year's Budget for the delivery of religious lectures, at regular intervals, in the prisons of Bengal.

He said :—

"My Lord, this resolution does not require any lengthy speech in its support. It is now a recognised principle all over the world that the jails should be a place of correction and reclamation, and with this end in view, great care is being taken, in all civilised countries, for the moral advancement of the inmates of the prisons. In the great prisons of Sing Sing and Auburn in America and Dartmoor and Chatham in England, much has been done in this direction. Religious services and lectures are regularly held there, and ministers and chaplains have been employed who do their level best to reclaim the prisoners. Throughout his term of imprisonment, the prisoner has the benefit of religious and moral instructions, and whatever be his colour or creed, his spiritual welfare is watched over by competent men specially selected for the purpose. From the records kept there, it has been proved beyond doubt that most of the convicts come out of the jails better men. My Lord, in connection with this resolution while going through some books of reference I was struck with the noble and great achievements of philanthropic workers like Howard and Mrs. Fry and great administrators like Sir George Grey and Sir Riggles Brise. In India we have not yet got a Howard or a Mrs. Fry to take up the cause of the unfortunate prisoners, still, my Lord, in comparison with prisons in other countries, the system followed in our jails here is much superior in many respects. This is no doubt a matter of congratulation to our authorities, but one thing which invariably strikes one going through the Indian Prison Reports, is that very little, if any, attention is paid to the moral and spiritual side of an Indian prisoner's life. Two chaplains no doubt are employed at the Alipore Jail for Christians, but no other step has been taken anywhere else, in respect of prisoners professing other faiths. This is really deplorable. Indians are a God-fearing and religious people, and I daresay much could be achieved if due regard is paid to the reclamation of Indian prisoners by means of religious lectures and moral instructions. I do not know what stands in the way of making a start in this direction. If it is a question of money, I do not at all propose that the Government should undertake any huge expenditure on this account immediately, what I want is that the Government should recognise the principle of employing religious preachers for the spiritual and moral benefit of Indian prisoners. We might make a beginning with the Presidency and Central Jails. There are four Central and one Presidency Jail and the number of prisoners in them is about 7,000. They are mostly either Hindus or Muhammadans, and so, for the present, one Hindu and one Muhammadan preacher might be engaged for each of the above. Suitable men could be found on Rs. 75 to Rs. 100 per month. Thus ten preachers would cost the Government about ten to twelve thousand rupees a year. But considering the good that will be done, I hope that the Government will be pleased to find this sum. Before I conclude I express my sincerest appreciation of the action taken by the Muhammadan community in this matter. An honorary Muhammadan preacher has kindly undertaken to give religious lectures in the Alipore Jail. This is certainly a move in the right direction and an example which should be followed by the Hindus too. I am also indebted for the idea of this resolution to another gentleman of the same community, I mean the Hon'ble Dr. Suhrawardy who referred to this subject in his last Budget speech and put some interesting questions on it. I hope the Government will accept my resolution."

The Hon'ble MR. KERR said :—

"My Lord, the fundamental difficulty of this question lies in the fact that it raises the whole problem of Government's attitude towards religion in this country, the problem which is known elsewhere as the problem of Church and State. That problem is difficult enough in most countries. In India it is beset with such peculiar difficulties that at any rate for some centuries past the Government has thought it best to leave it alone. It will be generally admitted that it would be a bad policy for Government to provide religious instruction for the public in general in this country. For obvious reasons, it would be bad policy for the present Government. I might go further and say that it would be bad policy for any conceivable Government that is likely to be set up in our time. As many members of this Council are aware, even the subsidiary problem of giving moral instruction apart from religious instruction to schoolboys in schools, is beset with grave difficulties and has given rise to very wide differences of opinion. Even if it be argued that Government has responsibilities towards prisoners in jails similar to those which it has towards schoolboys in schools, I would remind the Council that the school problem is by no means solved, and the jail problem has difficulties of its own, different in kind perhaps, but not less in degree.

The proposal contained in the resolution is that provision should be made in the Budget for the delivery of religious lectures at regular intervals in the prisons of Bengal. It is contemplated, therefore, that the preachers or lecturers should be paid. Now this is a proposal which, owing to the diversity of religious creeds in this country, might entail very large financial obligations. These might be faced, if the results were sure to be satisfactory, but is there any guarantee that this would be the case? In the first place, where are we to get the preachers from? Among the Muhammadans there are, of course, devout men whose work in life is the definite preaching and teaching of the Islamic religion, and the same remark applies to the Christian religion. But I think I am right in saying that in the ordinary rural Hindu society from which the bulk of the prisoners in jails come, there is no systematic provision or organisation for religious instruction or education in the homes of the people. That being so, what sort of men could we expect to get to undertake religious instruction in jails? The multiplicity of creeds and the diversity of religious usages which are to be found among the prisoners in jails as among the outside population would make it very difficult to find an instructor who would be acceptable to any considerable number of prisoners. A further objection to paying men for work of this kind is that there would be a serious danger that the profession of jail preacher would be taken up by men who were attracted by the salary and not by pure devotion or by any religious fervour. Such men would do more harm than good. That this is not an imaginary danger is shown by experience in England a century or rather more ago. The works of contemporary novelists depict the jail preachers as the most despicable and disreputable among their characters.

Resolutions.

Kumar S. S. Ray.

These being the general difficulties surrounding the case, it is not surprising that the Government of Bengal have found it necessary to adopt a cautious attitude in regard to proposals of this kind which have come upon recent years. They have come chiefly from Muhammadans among whom, for the reasons already explained, the conditions and prospects are most favourable. The position which has been taken up by Government is that it welcomes any practicable measure which is likely to lead to the reformation of prisoners in jails and is ready to give every reasonable facility to responsible persons who are willing to undertake religious or moral teaching in jails, but it is necessary if only as a guarantee of good faith that such work should be honorary or met by private persons and Government would not be justified in defraying the expense at the cost of the State or in instituting a State-paid staff of preachers. Some advance has been made on these lines. In 1915, a celebrated itinerant Muhammadan preacher was given general authority to preach to Muhammadan prisoners in the jails of Bengal, subject to arrangements approved by the Inspector-General of Prisons. The Inspector-General has also been authorised to give facilities to other responsible persons to provide religious and moral instruction for prisoners in jails, and it is understood that a Muhammadan preacher preaches regularly to Muhammadan prisoners at the Alipore Central Jail on festival days. A few Hindu gentlemen are giving valuable assistance in the way of giving moral lectures and instruction to the boys in the Juvenile Jail. The Inspector-General would welcome further voluntary help of this kind in all classes of jails.

There is a further reason for not making any new departure in this matter at the present time. As the Council are aware the Government of India have announced that after the war a Commission is to be appointed to examine the whole question of jail administration in India. One of the main duties of this Commission will be to examine the application to Indian conditions of those reformatory aspects of prison administration which have made a considerable advance in western countries in recent years. One of the questions which the Commission will no doubt take up will be this question of moral or religious teaching in jails. They will be able to formulate a consistent line of policy for the country as a whole, and it may be that their wider experience and the wider information which will be at their disposal will enable them to show us a way of surmounting some of the difficulties which I have mentioned. Pending the result of the Commission's enquiries it would be dangerous to allow ourselves to be led astray by the analogies mentioned by the Hon'ble Member.

That then, my Lord, is the present position. For the reasons I have stated Government do not think it wise to institute a new departure in this matter at the present time. They will welcome any suitable efforts on the part of private persons for the moral and religious improvement of prisoners in jails, but Government are not prepared at present to accept such work as a legitimate charge on State funds. For these reasons, Government are unable to accept the resolution."

The Hon'ble KUMAR SRIB SHEKHARESWAR RAY said :—

"My Lord, I am grateful for the sympathetic assurances of the Hon'ble Mr. Kerr, but I am afraid I cannot see eye to eye with him in all that he has said. I do not think that the Government can be said to be interfering with the different religious faiths in India if it engages, with the consent of the people, a few instructors in jails, who would watch over the moral side of a prisoner's life. Government makes contributions to tols and muktabs and acquires lands for burning ghats and burial grounds; nobody takes any objection to that. So I do not think there would be any objection by the people if the Government engaged a few religious instructors in jails. Nor do I think that there will be any dearth of suitable men. I should therefore think that my resolution should be accepted by the Council."

Resolutions.

Rai M. C. Mitra Bahadur; Mr. Cumming.

The resolution was then put and lost.

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR moved the following resolution :—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that Government do take steps to minimise the suffering of the agriculturists in the villages within the jurisdiction of thanas Amta and Uluberia, etc., in the district of Howrah, and to give effect to the Amta drainage project recommended by Colonel Haig in 1873 by providing sufficient money in the Budget for the year 1919-20.

He said :—

"My Lord, I do not wish to speak at any length on the merits of this resolution. This subject was a matter of consideration in this Council on the 19th December 1917, and the Hon'ble Mr. Cumming then informed the Council that a scheme as modified was ready; the solution of that question was also arrived at by him. Now it is a matter for consideration whether some money ought to be provided in the budget or not. This, I submit, is the object of my resolution, and I do hope and trust that my resolution will be accepted."

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING said :—

"Your Excellency, this resolution is to the effect that money should be spent out of next year's budget on this particular project. This is really a budget resolution; and the Hon'ble Member has adopted the somewhat doubtful expedient of bringing before the Council a budget resolution in the form of a resolution on a matter of general public interest. He has thereby avoided the necessity of showing how the expenditure is to be met. As he has stated, the matter was discussed in December 1917 in this Council when it was explained that plans had been prepared and that the scheme was awaiting the allotment of funds. May I shortly recapitulate the position? He has referred to the general project drawn up by Colonel Haig in 1873. That scheme comprised three projects, of which one was finished in 1884, another in 1890 and the third is the present scheme. It was also stated at that meeting of the Council that the main obstacle to the completion of this scheme was the want of agreement amongst the zamindars. At first Government endeavoured to execute the project under the Drainage Act; Government next turned to the Embankment Act; finally as no further progress was apparent under that Act, in November last, the District Board was addressed as to whether they were prepared to carry the project through under the Sanitary Drainage Act. In December last, about a month ago, the District Board of Howrah said that they were prepared to do so, but asked that Government should help them by giving the grant of a loan. In the budget for the ensuing year Government have already included one lakh as a loan to the District Board, and another lakh which they are prepared to make as a Government contribution, and in the present month of January, Government have already appointed an engineer to perform the work. I therefore think, Sir, that the Hon'ble Member will realise that the proposal in his resolution has been anticipated by Government, if all goes well, a beginning ought to be made in the ensuing year, and in the subsequent year the scheme may be completed. I therefore ask him to reconsider the desirability of pressing his resolution."

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR said —

"My Lord, I am grateful to the Hon'ble Mr Cumming for the observations that he has made. That my resolution was anticipated by Government is a matter of gratitude to me. My object in bringing this resolution to the notice of the Government was simply that the work may be facilitated."

The PRESIDENT said —

"Does the Hon'ble Member wish to withdraw his resolution?"

The Hon'ble Member having expressed his desire, the resolution was then, by leave of the President, withdrawn.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 15.

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR also moved the following resolution —

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that a commission be appointed to record—

(a) the opinions of all orthodox Hindus (excepting those in Government employment and those under obligation to the managers of mills, factories and workshops whose religious feelings are being wounded on account of the pollution of their sacred river—the Bhagirathi, and

(b) the evidence of those Indians whose health has been affected by the use of contaminated water from the same river.

He said —

"My Lord, the Bhagirathi is regarded by the Hindus as a sacred river and she is worshipped as a goddess on the Dasahara day, which is specially set apart annually on the tenth day of the bright half of the Hindu month of Jaishtha corresponding to the latter part of May or the earlier part of June. For fuller information of the European Members of Your Excellency's Council, as to the sanctity of this river and the reverence in which the Bhagirathi is held by all sections of the Hindu community of India I would refer them to study the District Gazetteers of Howrah, Hooghly Burdwan, Murshidabad, Nadia and the 24-Parganas published by the Government of Bengal and the valuable works of researches made by the learned scholars of India, Great Britain and other countries of Europe, Asia and America specially the well-known series entitled 'Sacred Books of the East' edited by Professor Max Muller. The Hindu festival, called the Dasahara, is observed by the Hindus in honour of the goddess Ganga or Bhagirathi, and this day is declared as a public holiday by the Government of Bengal and also by the mercantile community including the Bank authorities under the Negotiable Instruments Act.

I do not wish to take up much time of the Council, and feel inclined now to discuss the matter why and how the religious feelings of the Hindus are being wounded by the pollution of the sacred water of the Bhagirathi by a very large number of mills, excepting two, from which millions of gallons of septic tank effluents are discharged daily into the sacred Bhagirathi. It will take several days to discuss the matter at length, if I quote passages from our various Sacred Books, viz., the Vedas, the Institutes of Manu, Vishnu and others, the Purans, the Ramayan, the Mahabharat and a large number of other Sāstras.

The public and the press including the Amrita Bazar Patrika and the Bengalee and prominent vernacular weeklies, viz., the Basumati, the Hitabadi and the Bangabasi, and the vernacular dailes, viz., the Nayak and the Bangalee have been strongly objecting to the pernicious practice of discharging the effluents of the septic tank latrines into the sacred Bhagirathi. The last two named papers, viz., the Nayak and the Bangalee have published two leading articles under the head of 'Ganges Water' in their town issues of the 19th September, and 26th September 1918, respectively, and I strongly commend these two articles for the kind perusal by the responsible members of Your Excellency's Government. The Nayak even goes so far as to say under bold heading types in columns 1st and 2nd of page 3 in its town issue of the 19th September referred to above, that by drinking Ganges water near Calcutta, people are made to eat the liquified excreta of the coolies of the mills. My Lord, the religious feelings of the Hindus are being as a matter of fact wounded by the discharge of the effluents of the septic tanks into the sacred Bhagirathi, and there is a growing uneasiness and discontent among all sections of the Hindu community. I learn from the District Gazetteer of Howrah (page 4, paragraph 2), edited by my esteemed friend the Hon'ble Mr. O'Malley, that the river Bhagirathi 'is also held sacred among Buddhists and we find that Warren Hastings gave the Tāshi Lāmā of Tibet some land at Ghoosery in answer to his request that he might have "some lands on the banks of the Ganges to which he might send his people to pray." The monastery erected on this land may still be seen at Bhot-bāgān.'

I quote the following lines from the Proclamation by Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen in Council to the Princes, Chiefs and people of India in 1858 : 'We do strictly charge and enjoin all those who may be in authority under us that they abstain from all interference with the religious belief or worship of any of our subjects on pain of our highest displeasure . . . . . and we will that generally, in framing and administrating the law, due regard be paid to the ancient rights, usages, and customs of India.'

The following lines from the Imperial message to Princes and peoples of India read by His Excellency the Viceroy in Durbar at Jodhpur on the 2nd November 1908, 'If errors have occurred, the agents of my Government have spared no pains and no self-sacrifice to correct them ; if abuses have been proved, vigorous hands have laboured to apply a remedy. . . . . .

'The law itself has been administered without disrespect to creed or caste, or to usages and ideas rooted in your civilisations ; it has been simplified in form, and its machinery adjusted to the requirements of ancient communities slowly entering a new world.

'Important classes among you, representing ideas that have been fostered and encouraged by British rule, claim equality in citizenship, and greater share in legislation and Government. The politic satisfaction of such a claim will strengthen, not impair, existing authority and power. Administration will be all the more efficient if the officers who conduct it have greater opportunities of regular contact with those whom it affects. . . . . .

ever committed to rulers and subjects in any State or Empire of recorded time.'

(Vide Appendices A and B, pages 244 to 246 of the Oxford Student's History of India by Vincent A. Smith, M.A., I.C.S., retired, 4th edition, Oxford, 1913.)

Will Your Excellency's Government kindly explain to the Hindu communities why their religious feelings are being presistently wounded and their religious beliefs disrespected? It is not a wise and prudent policy on the part of the Government to state that 'Government are not responsible for remedying defects in private installations.' Why does the Sanitary Commissioner, on behalf of Government, grant sanction to the construction of septic tank latrines? Why have the Bengal Factories Rules, 1912, been framed in open defiance of Royal Proclamations referred to above?

The religious aspects of the question of allowing the managers of the jute mills to discharge the effluents of the septic tank latrines into the sacred Bhagirathi was not fully discussed by the committee appointed by the Government of Bengal in April 1904. The views expressed by Babu Jogesh Chandra Sastri were not strictly in accordance with the sacred injunctions of the Hindu Sāstras and his statements were not verified by the learned Mahamahopadhya Pundits of Bengal and other parts of India. On the contrary the valuable opinions of the learned Pundits, which were based upon the correct interpretations of the Hindu Sāstras, were utterly ignored by the said committee and the Government has been misled in this connection. According to the instructions contained in the sacred Koran of the Mussalmans, the water of the river, lakes, etc., should not be contaminated. What would be the feelings of the pious Christian ladies and gentlemen, if the sacred water of the Jordan is polluted by millions of gallons of effluents from the septic tank latrines? Here I must not forget to offer our hearfelt gratitude on behalf of the Hindu communities of India to Messrs. Angus Jute Company, a leading American firm in Calcutta, and Messrs. Kettlewell Bullen and Company, a prominent British firm in Calcutta, for not discharging the effluents of the septic tanks into the sacred Bhagirathi. The actions of these two Companies are just in obedience to the pious wish expressed by our beloved King-Emperor on the eve of Their Majesties' departure from Calcutta on the 8th January 1912, in the following memorable words in reply to Farewell Address by the members of the Bengal Legislative Council on behalf of the people of Bengal :—

'In bidding you farewell, the Queen-Empress and I fervently pray that all my subjects in Bengal, of whatever race or creed, united by the ties of sympathy and brotherly love, may, under Divine guidance, ever strive towards the advancement of their common happiness, contentment and general well-being.'

The Hon'ble Sir John Woodroffe, KT., M.A., B.C.L., of the High Court, Calcutta, in his address at the Sun Rise Club said : 'Religion of power is the most vital necessity in India's struggle for self-realisation.' In his note in reply to a question issued by the University Commission of 1917-18, the Hon'ble Justice Woodroffe remarked :—'It is not necessary to enquire into the questions of the respective superiority of the civilisation of East and West. It is sufficient to hold that Indian civilisation is the best for the people whose forefathers have evolved it. Let us stop all attempts, direct or indirect, whether political or religious, to impose our beliefs and practices on a people to whom they are foreign.'

Revival of Hinduism will not hamper the growth of the commercial prosperity of Bengal or India.

Resolutions.

Babu S. N. Mukharji.

With these words I commend this resolution to Your Excellency's Council, and I hope and trust that it will be accepted by Your Excellency's Government and the standing grievance of the Hindu community will be at an end in the near future."

The Hon'ble Babu Siv Narayan Mukharji said:—

"My Lord, at the September meeting of this Council I took it upon myself to support a motion brought forward by the Hon'ble Rai Mahendra Chandra Mitra Bahadur, dealing with the pollution of the waters of the Ganges by means of the effluents from the several mills situate on its banks. Although at that time the Hon'ble mover of the resolution dealt principally with the sanitary aspect of the question, Hindu as I am, I could not resist the temptation of giving it my whole-hearted support by looking at the matter from a religious view-point—by, in fact, investing the academic character of the controversy with the authority of old-world beliefs sanctified by time and handed down by tradition. The Hon'ble mover, though schooled in the art of making the worse appear the better cause, did not succeed in pressing home his charge, and the blow aimed at a system acknowledged on all hands as the veritable cause of the pollution of the river was so ingeniously parried as to strike the dealer himself by a curious process of rebound. The armour forged with the aid of official steel having thus successfully withstood the charge the Hon'ble mover has changed his tactics and has taken up his coign of vantage, inviolable because sacrosanct, behind the ramparts of conventional religion. Representing as I do, if not the blindly orthodox, at least the advanced, sections of the Hindu community, it is not without some diffidence that I venture to embark on the stormy sea of controversy and join issue on a point which is synchronous with the dawn of civilization and, for that matter, bears on it the impress of man's primæval gropings after the supernatural.

My Lord, I am afraid I shall be tiring the patience of this Council if I were to quote chapter and verse from recognised authorities to show that worship, which is another name for the outburst of the feeling of adoration, owed its origin first to a feeling of wonder and then to a sense of gratefulness. We find in the hymns of the Rig Veda:

'Accept, O Ganga, Yamuna, Saraswati, etc., my praise'.

Not content simply with singing hymns to these rivers our Aryan ancestors bestowed on each of them the epithet of mother.

Writes Max Muller:

> 'The rivers are called mothers! Why not? Do they not feed the meadows and the cattle on them? Does not our very life depend on the rivers not failing us with their water at the proper season?'

That at the back of what is wrongly termed fetishism there was, ever since the birth of intelligence, something higher, nobler and subtler, the recognition of which amounted to the genesis of the first crude theory of Pantheism—a theory which afterwards reached its culmination in the Vedanta philosophy—is more than borne out by the testimony of Christian Missionaries before whom a present-day Southal, when interrogated, declared that the Chando (Sun) who had created the world was not the visible Chando he saw but the invisible one behind it. This was the case with the primitive races all the world over, the Egyptians, the Greeks, the Romans and the rest. The ancients, according to Prodicus, considered sun, moon, rivers and springs, and, in general, all that are useful to us, as gods, as the Egyptians the Nile. Bread was worshipped as Demeter, wine as Dionysos, water as Poseidon, fire as Hephaestos.

Resolutions.

Babu S. N. Mukherji.

Herodotus in speaking of the Persians says that they sacrificed to the sun, the moon, the earth, fire, water, etc. 'We contemplate with awe', writes Seneca, in one of his letters, 'the heads and sources of the greater rivers. We erect altars to a rivulet which suddenly and vigorously breaks forth from the dark. We worship the springs of hot water, and certain lakes are sacred to us on account of their darkness and unfathomable depth.' This, therefore, is a common trait in the infancy of nations—a trait which, because it is present at one time or other in the life of nations, does not detract from the position they may afterwards hold in the scale of nations. But, for a people remarkable for subtlety of intellect, depth of penetration into the mysteries of life and death, and metaphysical comprehension in general, to have continued to hold views upon which their ancestors in the far-away past had built their faith may savour of contradiction in terms. 'But,' says Schopenhauer, 'religion is truth allegorically and mythically expressed, and thereby made possible and digestible to mankind at large. For mankind could by no means digest it pure and unadulterated, just as we cannot live in pure oxygen, but require an addition of ⅘ths of nitrogen.' 'If we want to know,' writes Max Müller, 'what the ancients thought when they spoke of a river the answer is they thought of it exactly what they called it, and they called it, as we know, in different ways, either the runner (sarit) or the noisy (nadi).' This identification of the dynamical life of the universe with God was part of their theory of the Cosmos, part of their philosophical system. 'Ekam sat vipra bahudu vadanti'—'there is but one, though the poets call it by many names.'

I have already gone too far afield, and have called to my aid the authority of antiquarians, oriental scholars, and philosophers to prove that our Aryan ancestors paid homage to the Ganges. We find in the Greek historians, Strabo and the rest, mention of the Ganges as the river that was worshipped by the Hindus. In place of their one self-abnegating stoic of a Diogenes, they found thousands of Gymnosophists capable of seeing through the veil of mysticism, and finding out that it was not stones and trees, as Macaulay mistakenly declared, but the noumenon behind the phenomenon to which the Hindus bent their knee and paid religious homage. Lest I should raise a smile in the Hon'ble Members by my advocacy of the cause of what goes by the name of superstition I would take the liberty to quote a well-known passage in proof of the cultural heights attained by our ancestors :

'Faults this nation may have, but God forbid we should pass judgment upon people who framed their laws and institutions prior to our insect origin of yesterday. With all the faults of their nature, and errors of their institutions, their institutions, which act so powerfully on their natures, have two material characteristics which entitle them to respect ; first great force and stability ; and next, excellent moral and civil effects.'

What evokes our admiration and excites our wonder is that while experimental science was not yet even dreamt of the Ganges should of all rivers have been awarded its meed of praise as the 'most potent purifier in the world.' This supreme quality of the river it was that procured for it the place of honour in the estimation of the far-sighted rishis of old. A well-known American traveller has recorded his experience about the germ-killing properties of the Ganges :—

'Mr. Hankin, the Scientist in the employ of the Government at Agra, concluded to examine the water. He went to Benares to make his tests. He got water at the mouths of the sewers where they empty into the river at the bathing ghats ; a cubic centimetre of it contained millions of cholera germs ; at the end of six hours they were all dead.'

Resolutions.

Rai S. N. Ray Bahadur.

This is one of the many instances of the Hindu sages of old having dived into the secrets of Nature unaided by the most powerful scientific instruments of observation. So great was the reputation of the ancient Hindu sages, not only for their powers of introspection, their visions beatific, but for their keen-eyed insight into the kernel of material objects—tangible, semi-tangible, and intangible—that their words had the weight of gospel truths. But, my Lord, this supreme attribute of the Ganges, so potent as a germ-killer under normal conditions, has begun to disappear under the enormous strain of millions of tons of septic tank effluents that find their way into it day out day in. We, who happen to live in the country, and are in daily touch with the masses, and know their feelings, are in a position to assure Your Excellency that if it were not for the fact that they are a long-suffering people, ready even to accept what they consider outrages on their religion as inevitable, the common people and the women-folk who are never tired but are often only too glad to travel miles on foot from the interior, in summer and in winter, to have a bath in the river, would have made bold, if it were possible, to come all the way to this city of palaces, and with folded hands implore Your Excellency to save their mother Ganges from desecration. In laying it down that nothing can pollute the waters of the Ganges the authors of the Hindu religious books did not contemplate the existence of septic tanks and all that they signify. They did, however, forecast that a time would come when the river would lose its sanctity. While, therefore, I know that in supporting the cause of the people and, for that matter, of their religious feelings, I shall be leading a forlorn hope, I feel all the more a call to give the motion of my hon'ble colleague my whole-hearted support, in the hope that having regard to the modest nature of the recommendation which this Council has been asked to make, our appeal will not fail to strike a sympathetic chord in the minds of the hon'ble members."

The Hon'ble Rai Sri Nath Ray Bahadur said :—

"My Lord, I am sorry I am unable to support the resolution moved by my hon'ble friend, as it deals with the question from the standpoint of Hindu orthodoxy. On the ground of principle religion should not be mixed up with civic questions as far as possible. The pollution of the waters of the Bhagirathi is an important sanitary question and should be looked at from that point of view alone. No advantage will be gained by importing in the discussion the aspect of religion. There is positive danger in the attempt in a mixed assembly like the Bengal Legislative Council. It has become a practice to appeal to the religious feelings of the people in matters from which religion may fairly be kept out. The cry of 'religion in danger' is now-adays heard in season and out of season, and that harmless permissive measure, I mean Mr. Patel's bill, which aims purely at widening the bounds of social freedom, is attacked from this point. In Benares, the holiest of the holy cities of the Hindus on the Ganges, a good deal of the pollution of the river water has been going on from a long time, but no one ever objected to the same on the ground of religion, though from a purely sanitary point it should be stopped. Besides, in looking at the question from the religious stand-point, there is risk of the sanitary aspect being disregarded, for what is pollution in this sacred sense may not be insanitary at all and it is not possible now, if it ever was, to prevent this sort of pollution.

My hon'ble colleague wants to have the opinion of the orthodox Hindus on the subject, but orthodoxy has become a very cheap material nowadays. It is in the lips of many though it is seldom found lower down. No useful purpose will be served in encouraging a cant.

But I hope I shall not be misunderstood. I yield to none in my anxiety to protect the Bhagirathi from being insanitary. I would welcome any committee to investigate the point. There is positive danger to the purity of the river from the outflow of the sceptic tanks belonging to the jute mills. It is desirable that the Government should institute an enquiry into the matter as soon as possible."

The Hon'ble the MAHARAJADHIRAJA BAHADUR OF BURDWAN said :—

"Sir, this is the third resolution on the subject of the pollution of the Bhagirathi which the hon'ble mover has brought forward within the last four months. In September of last year he dealt with the question of the septic tank installations along the banks of the river. In reply, whilst Government could not accept the resolution, they agreed to amend the rules in such a way as to make it clear that the inspection of these installations was one of the prescribed and prime duties of the Inspector of Septic Tanks. Then in November we had the resolution moved by the same hon'ble gentleman about the pollution of the water by trade waste and refuse. Here again Government, whilst opposing the resolution, undertook to institute a full enquiry into the sources of pollution, the extent of pollution and the measures necessary to prevent and mitigate the evils.

The hon'ble mover has now broken new ground. His suggestion, which perhaps he considers to be a very humble one, is that a Commission should go about taking the evidence of persons living along the banks of the river asking them in the first place how they are and, secondly, whether they think that the river has been so polluted as to hurt their religious feelings. Before I express an opinion on the extraordinary request which this resolution conveys, I wish to point out that, in the first place, the enquiry which the Government undertook to institute in November last would cover this question to a certain extent so far as the finding out of the sources of pollution and the extent of it are concerned. For one of the specific points which such an enquiry will deal with would be the hygenic effects of the different kinds of contamination now going on.

Turning now to the question as to whether such a Commission, as proposed by the hon'ble mover, would serve any useful purpose or not, I must confess that it is strange to me that the futility of such a proposal did not strike the hon'ble mover. Is such a Commission to be composed of Doctors? If not, who are to decide whether the health of the people concerned had been affected by the drinking of the water of the Hooghly, or by other causes? Then again is mere record of evidence to be the guiding principle? If so, what will such evidence be worth! For all that a large number of the people affected could say would be that they were ill at a certain time and that they thought that the water was bad. Surely such evidence would not be worth the paper it was written on; and it is hard to imagine a greater waste of time for a body of Doctors than to be walking up and down the banks of the Bhagirathi from Calcutta to Lalgola recording evidence of such a kind from a vast heterogeneous population, especially when it is known to be a well established fact that a large number of these people suffer from many diseases which have nothing to do with the pollution of the river water.

Now let me turn once again to the first part of the resolution. I cannot help thinking that the proposal instead of serving any useful purpose may in fact do more harm than good. Government are well aware of the general feelings of Hindus about the sanctity of the Bhagirathi, and I may say that the Government went into the religious point of view too some years ago and have already got the authorities of the Pundits who are versed in the Shastras and who are undoubtedly the best authorities on the subject. The Select Committee which was appointed to enquire into the working of septic tank installations in 1904 examined several pandits, such as Jogesh Chandra

Resolutions.

The Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan.

Shastri, Satish Chandra Vidyabhushan, Kali Prasanna Bhattacharji, Mahamahopadhaya Rajkrishna Tarkapanchanan and Rajani Kanta Vidyaratna as well as other orthodox Hindu gentlemen. Two of these, I admit, were Government servants, and the hon'ble mover would therefore rule out any opinion they might have given, but the rest were not Government servants. Their evidence was published in a supplement to the Calcutta Gazette in January 1905, which any one who wishes may read it; any one who does will find that the pandits were not altogether agreed as to the possibility of pollution of the sacred water of the Bhagirathi. In view of these facts and in view of the well established fact that the sanctity of the Ganges is based more on spiritual grounds than mundane and which to an orthodox Hindu like the learned Rai Bahadur must also be apparent, it is most surprising to me that the hon'ble mover by bringing in this resolution proposes to deal with the sanctity of the Ganges in such an unorthodox manner.

Ever since creation sullage of every kind has flown into the river Ganges from its source at Hardwar down to its mouth in the Sunderbans and will continue to do so even if India were to make great strides in the near future in matters of hygiene and sanitation, for it is no easy thing—nay impracticable—to expect the hundreds and thousands of villagers living on the river banks and where there are no possibilities of septic tanks even to resist the temptation of going to the river for their ablutions after their morning operations on its banks or in the meadows near by; and I hope therefore that the hon'ble mover will not come forward perhaps with another of his happy suggestions that we should have a standing army of stalwart up-countrymen to prosecute these invaders on the holiness of the Ganges, for he must be well aware that if we were to do this we would require a second army to simultaneously prevent the men of the first army from going into the river for the very purpose for which they had been appointed to check. I would therefore strongly urge the Hon'ble Member not to base the sanctity of the Bhagirathi on such frivolous grounds, especially when pollutions of a much more dangerous character do take place where there are no septic tanks.

On behalf therefore of Government I am bound to oppose the resolution as being not only unnecessary but as one which is likely to rouse the religious susceptibilities of a large number of ignorant people which might possibly cause an unhealthy and mischievous agitation.

The whole question of septic tank installations has been thrashed out. After the report of the 1904 Commission was received Government obtained the services of an expert Sanitary Engineer, Dr. Gilbert Fowler, who dealt with the question exhaustively in his report. As a result of this an Inspector of Septic Tanks was appointed, and Government approved the principal recommendations of Dr. Fowler as to the construction and maintenance of septic tank latrines, and issued instructions to secure their proper working. It was, in fact decided that, subject to proper safeguards and due provision for the purification of the effluents, there was no objection to septic tank latrines. Rules under the Factories Act have also been issued, because it is recognised that special precautions are necessary where there is a large labour force gathered together. If you are not to have a septic tank system, what substitute can you have? Does the hon'ble mover propose that a body of quarter million persons should be allowed to indulge in open-air defecation, which in the areas where there are no septic tanks is a grave source of contamination? Apart from this I would remind the hon'ble mover that on his last resolution an undertaking was given to make a special inquiry as to the extent of pollution, all the different sources of pollution, trade waste, trade refuse, defecation on the river bank, etc., their hygenic effects and the legislation necessary to prevent pollution. Such an inquiry would only be prejudiced by the appointment of a roving Commission recording evidence about people's religious feelings and bodily health, and on this account too Government must oppose the motion."

The Hon'ble RAI MAHENDRA CHANDRA MITRA BAHADUR said :—

"My Lord, I have listened to the speech of the Hon'ble the Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan, but I must say that it is a very disappointing one. His arguments have not convinced me that I am in the wrong box. The object of my moving this resolution is that an inquiry should be made. That is what I humbly suggested to the Council. My Lord, when representatives of the people come before the Council to move resolutions they do not do it on their own responsibility. Moved as I was by the orthodox Hindus of the locality where many thousands of Hindus and orthodox Brahmins live, I thought it necessary that I should represent the matter to the Council and also to Your Excellency. There cannot be any doubt as to the sanctity of the river Bagirathi and if the water of that river is contaminated, as I have represented to Your Excellency's Government, then it becomes a serious question after all. If I have moved the Council on two or three different occasions, I thought it necessary that it should be done and that it should be brought to the notice of Your Excellency's Government. As far as it is known, there are 38 mills in this locality, in the lower part of Bengal, and if the wastage and effluents from septic tank latrines of these mills are thrown into the river, then in whatever way my resolution is viewed, I submit most humbly that it does wound the religious feelings of the Hindus. If an inquiry is made by a committee and if evidence is recorded, I am quite sure that there would be one united voice of learned pundits and orthodox Hindus that such an act is inconsistent with the religious ideas and hurts the sentiments of the orthodox Hindus. In that view of the matter, as a representative of the Hindu subjects under Your Excellency's charge, I do repeat to the best of my ability and with all the emphasis at my command that the present pernicious practice of discharging the effluents from septic tank latrines into the sacred Bagirathi does attack Hindu sentiment and Hindu religious ideas. The reason of my putting before the Council various books of authority was simply to satisfy the Council that the river is polluted and Hindu religious sentiment is attacked. I am perfectly aware that in 1904 there was an inquiry made, but that inquiry was a provisional one; the opinions of a few pundits were recorded and the result was an unsatisfactory one. It is said by the Hon'ble Member in charge that it is no use recording evidence at all. But I say that it is the only thing necessary for the Council and for Your Excellency's Government to ascertain the real facts of the case. If I alone represent the matter, it may be considered as an ex parte one, but if I am supported by evidence of those upon whom the inquiring officers can rely it will be a great help to Government in coming to a satisfactory conclusion. Evidences ought not to be disregarded in the way that the Hon'ble Member in charge has done. I solicit Your Excellency's Council to consider for one moment that the object of the inquiry is to ascertain facts, to sift facts, and if these facts are brought about by evidence, then it will be a very satisfactory thing. But how such an inquiry ought to be held is a matter for Your Excellency's Government to consider. It was said on the last occasion that an inquiry was to be made. Now, I submit, what was the reason for such an inquiry? That an inquiry should be necessary is an argument entirely in my favour. And if an inquiry is to be made, it should not be partial and private but comprehensive and public one. That is the object of my moving this resolution before the Council. It will appear that as regards the contamination of the water of the Bhagirathi there cannot be any doubt whatever. Your Excellency's Sanitary Commissioner has declared on various occasions that the water of this river is contaminated. Indeed, his good sense so much prevailed that he circularised the local officers saying that the water of the Bhagirathi should not be used by the people who live in the locality. If the river water was not contaminated, then, what was the necessity of issuing such a circular? This shows that the river water is contaminated, and if that is so, then on sanitary grounds at least I have a very strong case before the Council. If the question is considered upon sanitary grounds, then I stand upon a higher plane and I suggest that a public inquiry should be made. I again invite the attention of the Council that it is against the policy of the Government to hurt the religious sentiment of the people, and I believe there is not a Hindu who would disagree with me when I say that the sanctity of the Bhagirathi should be respected. When a comprehensive inquiry is made on the subject then the Government will be in a position to question why it is that I have brought the resolution for the consideration of the Council to-day. My Lord, it is not my intention to take Your Excellency's time unnecessarily. But I submit that I have faithfully represented the views of the Hindu community in this matter and if I have done so, no one ought to complain against me."

Resolutions.

Khan Sahib Aman Ali.

The motion was then put and lost.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 16.

The Hon'ble KHAN SAHIB AMAN ALI moved the following resolution:—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that all practitioners who passed from non-recognised medical institutions be allowed to appear in the final licentiate examination of the State Medical Faculty to be held in May, 1919, along with the candidates who were plucked in one or two subjects in the said examination held in November, 1916.

He said:—

"My Lord, the resolution which stands in my name is a very simple one. The Hon'ble Sir Henry Wheeler in the September meeting of the Council told us that no one could be registered as a qualified doctor unless he passed the prescribed examination. My resolution is to get permission for passing the prescribed examination, which seems in no way to interfere with the desire of the Government. The Hon'ble Member also said that students who hold certificates from un-recognised schools are quacks, but I respectfully differ from him, and put in the figures of the results of examination with which I have been supplied by the Secretary of the State Medical Faculty, Bengal. These figures prove that the students who have passed during the concession period are greater in number than those from the Government schools, so it may not be said that unauthorised schools were producing quacks instead of doctors.

My Lord, the certificate-holders from the unauthorised schools are a great boon to the country and they have served heretofore in several mills, gardens and companies, but now they are removed from those bodies as their certificates, according to law, carry no weight with the Government. In this way their profession has greatly suffered, though the Hon'ble Sir Henry Wheeler had said in his speech in September that their profession is not affected in any other way, except in this, that they cannot represent themselves (to be what they are not). This means that they are not recognised as doctors under the Act, though they have been practising for many years.

My Lord, when their certificates are not recognised by Government, why did mill-owners, farmers and Government servants call them for their services, and if for good reputation they are called, the patient shall have to take shelter of recognised doctors for certificates. This is another hardship for the patient, if they again go to the recognised doctors, why should they grant certificates when they did not treat them This being the state of things it cannot be said that unautho rised doctors' profession has not suffered.

Sir Nilratan Sarkar.

My Lord, I have not got the number of the candidates who got permission to appear in the prescribed examination during the concession period. I believe their number to be a large one, and they for some reason or another could not appear in the examination ; if we add to that number those who could not get timely notice being residents of villages far distant from Calcutta, the number will be still greater. It is for the benefit of stu lents who got permission, but could not appear in the examination, and those who could not get notice, being residents of distant villages, I am placing the resolution before Your Excellency's Government for consideration.

My Lord, this House is well aware that we are badly in want of good doctors. If the permission prayed herein is accorded, it will give us a considerable number of recognised doctors and remove the wants under which we are labouring.

My Lord, various epidemics, such as influenza, war fever, cholera and malaria are ravaging the province, and Your Excellency's Government are very anxious for the lives of the people, and the number of qualified doctors being small Your Excellency's Government could not meet the requisite wants in different places. If the resolution I have the honour to move be accepte l, it will help in a great measure to allay the anxiety Your Excellency's Government is feeling now.

My Lord, the passed students from unauthorised schools are many and in the last examination during the concession period they have proved that they are not quacks ; if the concession asked for in my resolution be accepted, the number of qualified doctors will increase in large numbers. It may be asked why they did not take advantage of the time conceded to them. My answer to that is, that they are residents of villages where the light of notice does not go and they were in the dark ; secondly, the concession was allowed on very short notice.

My Lord, supposing that they are guilty of lashes, Your Excellency's Government might overlook the same in consi leration that the numbers of sufferers are not small, and that on the other hand, the public will derive great benefit by these doctors by being treated by them when they will pass.

My Lord, this House is fully aware of the needs of qualified doctors throughout the province. My resolution is an attempt for the production of such doctors. Such being the state of things I place my resolution before the merciful consideration of Government and of this House."

The Hon'ble Sir NILRATAN SARKAR said :—

"My Lord, I confess that I find it extremely difficult to realise the scope of the phrase 'non-recognised medical institutions' in the resolution. The term implies a large number of medical institutions, some defunct, other existing, some of them teaching homeopathic medicines, some of them teaching kabiraji medicine, some other again teaching in low standards the rational system of western medicine, and there may be some teaching the Unani system of medicine. I do not understand whether it is suggested that the State Medical Faculty should provide for conducting examinations in all these different branches of medicine and pseudo-medicine. Then, my Lord, if it is contemplated that these schools teaching the approved western system of medicine, then arises the question of standard. The State Medical Faculty combining their efforts with those of the Council of Medical Registration have helped in the creation of order out of chaos in medical practice and medical profession, and it would be a pity if their efforts are frustrated in this way. My Lord, to seek for a hall-mark for dross instead of gold, is not to do good to anybody, but to do a world of harm to a large section of the people, for after all, it is they who suffer, some in money, many more in health, and not a small number in life. On these grounds, I think it my duty to oppose the resolution which will have the effect of whittling down whatever standard there is in our medical qualifications."

The Hon'ble Sir HENRY WHEELER said :—

"My Lord, I must apologise for, after so short an interval, taking up the time of the Council a second time on the subject of Medical Legislation in Bengal, but for the cause of it, I am not responsible.

As the Council are aware we discussed the matter on two occasions last year, once in January 1918 and again in September. On the first occasion Mr. Donald, who replied on behalf of the local Government, pointed out to the Council that the path of concession was a slippery path, and I submit that all that has since happened amply bears out the truth of that statement. Because such and such a concession was made in one direction, we are now pressed for concessions in other directions, and if we accepted the different proposals that have been put before us from time to time, we should give away entirely the whole object for which these Acts were passed. On the occasion of the last debate I explained what these Acts were, and I do not wish to repeat what I then said, except to remind the Council that there is the Act of 1914, which set up a machinery for the registration of recognised practitioners and an authority for their supervision, while examinations were shortly afterwards instituted under the auspices of the Faculty. The second Act—the Medical Degrees Act—prohibits unauthorised people using colourable imitations of recognised degrees, and penalises the use or grant of them. That is, in outline, the policy of these two Acts, and with special reference to the subject of concessions, it is well to remember that we started with concessions. There was the first concession—and I refer to it in order to make it clear to the Council that the Act has been administered in a reasonably generous way—of the transitory clause, which originally was meant to enable existing practitioners to go up within a period of two years for the Faculty examinations, and if they could pass, to get registered. That was the scope of it as intended by the Government of India. The Government of Lord Carmichael extended that concession to students of unrecognised schools who passed out prior to the 16th March 1916, thus giving a second concession which, in effect, went further than the Government of India meant to go. But the two years then allowed did not cover the full number of examinations which they might be interpreted to have contemplated, and admission to another examination in November 1916 was conceded. In the resolution of January 1918, two requests were made, first that certain students of the Belgachia College should be allowed to go up for the Faculty examination, and secondly, that those who had failed to pass in one or two subjects at the examination of November 1916 should be allowed another chance of qualifying. For the reasons given by Mr. Donald, we were unable to accept that part of the resolution which had reference to Belgachia, but in order to meet the views of the Council, and to show our reasonableness, we granted a concession not only to the extent of giving a chance of one examination to those who had failed but of giving the chance of four. We have again only recently extended that concession up to the November examination of this year. Nevertheless we were further pressed last September to make registrable the Belgachia qualification, and I then explained why this could not be done. I do not wish to go over the same arguments again, although I was not successful in convincing the Council at that time. Now it is asked that all practitioners who passed from non-recognised medical institutions should be allowed to appear in the final licentiate examination of the State Medical Faculty to be held in May 1919, and I have no doubt that if we agreed to that and some of them failed, as most certainly a very large number would fail, we will be asked to hold another examination and so on till we go further down the slippery path of concession.

Resolutions.

Sir Henry Wheeler.

I am afraid I must again take the Council back to the original intention of this legislation, since it seems to be thought in some quarters that the local Government has no reason for its action except, apparently, an unreasonable desire to prevent certain innocent students from following a legitimate career which otherwise lay open to them. The facts, however, are otherwise. The action which eventually resulted in the Act of 1914, and which originated in this province in the discussions of 1908, was definitely taken at the request of the Syndicate of the Calcutta University, the medical section of the Asiatic Society, the Indian Medical Gazette (which practically voices the opinion of the medical profession), and a memorial signed by 49 leading Indian medical practitioners of Calcutta. It was taken in the interests of medical education, and at the instance of the recognised medical profession. The subsequent action which was recommended was largely influenced by a report of the late Sir Pardey Lukis on the so-called unrecognised schools, and I know of no more able and clear-headed man, and no truer friend of the real interests of medical education in this country, than Sir Pardey Lukis. He enquired into all the facts, and on previous occasions we have been content to mention chiefly that the type of instructions given in these institutions was held to be thoroughly unsatisfactory. Even now I have no wish to rake up ancient history, but on the other hand, I want to show to the Council what the kind of education which we are now asked to recognise really was. Accordingly I will read a few extracts from his report. His first note refers to Belgachia, but as Belgachia is now a recognised school, I will pass that by. Regarding another of these self-constituted medical schools in Calcutta, he wrote, however, as follows :—

'The founder himself appears to constitute practically the whole staff of this institution ; there are no proper arrangements for either practical or clinical teaching ; there is no hospital, and very few cases attend the small, outpatient department. Nevertheless it can boast of from 150 to 200 students upon whom it bestows the diploma of V. L. M. S. (Vernacular Licentiate in Medicine and Surgery), which is exactly the same title as that obtained by the pupils of the Government Medical School at Sealdah. Indeed, I am credibly informed that students of the Campbell Medical School, who were expelled after the strike of 1906, entered themselves at once at this institution and obtained their diplomas as V. L. M. S. in the short space of six months.'

I pass on to his remark about another school—

'The hostel attached to this school has a service of about 30 beds ; there are a certain number of class rooms ; and dissections are carried on in a haphazard fashion in a tumble-down bungalow.

'The fellowship (F. C. P. S.) is only obtainable, after examination, by members of two years' standing, but the standard of preliminary education for the licentiate class (L. C. P. S.) is very low ; all that is required is that the student should have passed the middle English or middle vernacular, or the Government examination for military medical pupils. Moreover candidates are admitted to both the first and second licentiate examinations on their merely producing evidence of having attended courses of lectures at "a school of medicine recognised by the college." It is very easy, therefore, for failed students from other institutions to obtain their diplomas; as examinations are held quarterly, the amount of time spent in attaining their object is, to say the least of it, not excessive.

Resolutions.

Sir Henry Wheeler.

'I know of at least one instance in which this happened. In 1905, two second-year military students were expelled from the Medical College for "ragging." They found shelter in this institution, and in the space of one year blossomed forth as duly qualified men with the license of L. C. P. S.

'This enterprising college has recently made a distinctly novel departure, and is now advertising the fact that for the convenience of gentlemen working in Government, mercantile and other offices, and desiring to undergo a thorough and complete training in medicine, the committee have decided to start evening classes, and that lectures will be delivered in all subjects from 6 to 8 P.M. daily.'

Coming to a third institution, he remarked as follows :—

'This has an accommodation for six in-patients: the beds however were rarely occupied, as patients were obliged to provide their own food. On first starting there were 150 students on the rolls, and by 1907 the number had increased to 300. . . . . The number of beds was later increased to 16. . . . . but for the reason given above, the sixteen beds have hitherto remained practically unoccupied, and the only opportunities for clinical instruction are afforded by the out-patient department where there is a daily average attendance of about 50 patients. A few class-rooms are provided, but there is no dissecting room, museum or library, and the teaching is entirely theoretical, being illustrated merely by diagrams.

'This institution, notwithstanding its many disadvantages, advertises itself as "aiming at imparting a sound knowledge of the healing art principally on Allopathic lines, and at investigating into truths underlying that art."

'It grants the three titles of L. C. P. S., M. C. P. S., and F. C. P. S., and announces that the M. C. P. S. is equivalent to the M. B.'

Finally, with reference to a fourth institution, he said :—

'Notwithstanding the fact that there are at present practically no teaching appliances or facilities of any kind, this college advertises that instruction is given in various abstruse subjects, such as balneology and electro-therapeutics, that are taught nowhere else in India. . . . . .

Not being satisfied merely with the L. C. P. S., M. C. P. S. and F. C. P. S. of the other Colleges, ... it announces that in addition to all these it is prepared to confer the diploma of L. M. S. (Nat.), which is a colorable imitation of that which is issued to its licentiates by the University of Calcutta, and with reference to which the Syndicate has already made representations to Government. Moreover, although this college has not yet been in existence for twelve months, a considerable number of diplomas have already been granted, and were distributed at the recent "Foundation Day" celebration. It is obvious that the successful candidates cannot possibly have completed their training in this short space of time; they must, therefore, have been recruited from amongst the failed or rusticated students of other colleges.'

I apologise for the length of these extracts, but they seem to me to give a vivid picture, in the words of an able administrator now deceased, of what the position was regarding which he made proposals at that time. If we are now to accept this resolution and allow students who have passed out from institutions of that character to appear at the Faculty Examination,

Resolutions.

Khan Sahib Aman Ali; Babu A. C. Datta.

I submit that we shall absolutely discard all that has been previously done by our predecessors with ample justification. If, again, we are to allow these students to go up for the examination, what is to prevent similar institutions springing up and students coming forward and saying 'Oh, let us too go up for the examination.' The Hon'ble Mover justifies his proposal by saying 'I am merely asking for permission for these students to appear at an examination; the country wants doctors, and that is why I ask for this.' But I put it to the Council whether a sound system of medical education has any real value at all. If medical education is merely a matter of passing examinations, then let us do away with our rules and regulations and merely hold examinations twice a year, and on the result grant licenses to kill or cure.

I would refer here to a minor point. If we are to accept this resolution, the students of the Belgachia College in its unregenerate days will be allowed to go up for the examination, although this is not a privilege enjoyed by its students now that great improvements have been effected in it. To say the least, this would be somewhat illogical.

The final point I would submit to the Council for consideration is that the Faculty created under the Act of 1914, has attempted to get its membership recognised at Home, and if successful, this will eminently be to the benefit of those who pass its examination. They have not yet succeeded in doing so, as the English authorities apparently have not sufficient confidence in the standards that are taught here. One other province, I am told, is trying to raise its standard to get over that difficulty. But if here anything is done which is calculated to prejudice even our existing standard, it will certainly be known at Home; and we shall be told that if we are going to allow anybody and everybody to go up for the examination, it is impossible to afford it recognition.

For all these reasons, I can only take up the position which I took in September 1918, and advise this Council not to accept this resolution."

The Hon'ble KHAN SAHIB AMAN ALI said:—

"My Lord, on the face of the opposition which has come from Government I would only say that the students of unrecognised schools, such as the College of Physicians and Surgeons of India and the National Medical College, who went up for the last examination produced a very good result. The students for whom I am pleading will not appear at the Faculty Examination if they do not think themselves qualified. I am asking for an extension of time as Government have already given time, but the thing is that the students who pass from unrecognised colleges have also read the same standard as those who have been plucked in the examination of 1916. My resolution does not ask for further time and in that view I place my resolution for the consideration of this Council."

The resolution was then put and lost.

LIST OF BUSINESS—ITEM No. 17.

The Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DATTA moved the following resolution:—

This Council recommends to the Governor in Council that all détenus interned in Bengal under the Defence of India (Criminal Law Amendment) Act, 1915, be now set at liberty.

Resolutions.

Babu A. C. Datta.

He said :—

"My Lord, much has been said and written in and outside this Council chamber on this question of internment. Much has been said on behalf of the Government and much more on behalf of the people.

The Government had made many attempts to explain their position to the people and to satisfy them that the policy of internment was forced upon them and was justified by the course of events. On the other hand, it has been throughout insisted by, and on behalf of, the people that young men have been interned without much discrimination, and that amongst the interned there are many who do not deserve the punishment. But it must be confessed that the Government has so far failed to convince the people, and the people also feel that they have so far failed to convince the Government. Their views and versions are still poles asunder The controversy has sometimes been bitter and acrimonious. The utterances made on behalf of the Government have not infrequently been mortifying to the people. On the contrary, the agitation of the people and their representatives very often irritated the Government. I am prepared to confess that in the course of this controversy we sometimes employed language which in all conscience was strong. But at the same time it must be said that our language was strong because we felt strongly in the matter. What is language but a medium of expression of what we feel ? Whatever may be said on behalf of the Government as to the merits of the controversy there is one thing which must be admitted, viz , that the feeling of the people was and is very keen on the question and that they honestly believe that many have been interned who should not have been interned When the feeling is so keen and so widespread, it is the duty of the people's representives to make it known to the Government. That is a duty which we owe as much to the Government as to the people. I do maintain, My Lord, that as non-official elected members of the Council we should be guilty of dereliction of a sacred duty if we sleep over the matter and do not invite Your Excellency's attention in this official manner. I have always thought that we are a connecting link between the Government on one side and the people on other—a conduit pipe for communicating the wishes and thoughts of the country to Your Excellency's Government. That is the view that I have always taken of our position in this Council. In fact I feel that otherwise we have no right we have no business to be here—otherwise there is absolutely no justification for our occupation of seats in this gilded chamber. That being my conception of our duty and position here, I thought I would not be true to the people whom I have the proud privilege of representing here—I thought I would not be loyal—really and genuinely loyal—for there is enough of hypocritical loyalty in this country—I thought I would not be loyal to the Government if I had not told Your Excellency what is just at the present moment the feeling of the people on the question of internment, now that the war is over. That, My Lord, is my justification for bringing up a matter which I know is positively distasteful in certain quarters.

Only three weeks ago the feelings and wishes of the people of the entire Indian continent have been crystallised in resolutions passed by the Indian National Congress and the All-India Moslem League urging general amnesty to all political prisoners. The whole country is absolutely of one mind over this matter. There are now various shades of political opinion in this country. Some are called Moderates, some Extremists There are also such expressions as Moderate Extremists and Extremist Moderates We have now got another school of thought who have styled themselves Progressive Nationalist Moderates. There is however one matter in which they all agree They all insist that the interneés should now be set at liberty. If public opinion must count at all in the Councils of the Government, the recommendation which my resolution seeks to make cannot be summarily brushed aside. In making this resolution I know and I feel I have at my back the united voice of the united nation.

Resolutions.

Babu A. C. Datta.

My Lord, it has been urged that Mr. Justice Chandervarker and Mr. Justice Beachcroft justified the action of the Government in all but six out of eight hundred and six cases of internment. But the method adopted was hardly satisfactory and cannot be said to be in consonance with British idea and British ideal of finding out truth. The evidence was ex parte. It was not sifted and tested by cross-examination. These learned Judges had no more materials before them than those which the Government had to go upon. Our complaint has always been that it was the system of enquiry which was defective and which led to indiscriminate detention. Even if an angel were brought down from heaven and asked to work under such limitations no better result could have been obtained. The result is this enquiry has not succeeded in bringing about a change in the feeling and attitude of the people.

But the question arises has the verdict of these two eminent Judges been accepted by the Government? I venture to answer this question in the negative. I say that like the people the Government has also not accepted their conclusion that injustice was done only in a few cases. For, has not the Government released many internees after and in spite of their report? Has not the Government set at liberty many who were, according to the verdict of the two Judges, rightly interned? Are we to believe that they were released if the Government still thought they were guilty as they were found to be guilty by the two learned Judges.

We are grateful, My Lord, that some people have now been released. We congratulate Your Excellency's Government that justice has now been done to them. The whole country went on bended knees and begged for their release. But their prayer was not heeded at the time. Can it be contended for one moment that the Government still believes that the people now released were and are guilty? It must now be admitted that at all events with respect to the internees now released the people were right and the information upon which the Government proceeded was wrong. Belated justice however is better than denial of justice, and I take this opportunity of expressing the gratefulness of our people for setting at liberty many of our young men. While thanking the Government I feel constrained to say that release in driblets has failed to evoke that enthusiasm which a bolder policy would assuredly have produced. My Lord, this resolution is an invitation to Your Excellency's Government to take courage in both hands and to complete in one stroke what seems to be proposed to be done piecemeal. It seems to me, however, that where conciliation is to be the policy, it should be whole-hearted, worthy of the great Government of this great country. It seems to me that nothing should be done to leave a rankling sore in the minds of those to whom kindness is shown. Nothing should be done which is calculated to blight their future prospect. It seems to me that home domicile or conditional release with the inevitable Criminal Investigation Department to dog their steps and to make their lives miserable entirely lacks in the virtues of whole-hearted conciliation. I can assure Your Excellency that a more courageous policy will go far in rallying the people to co-operation with the Government at a time when it is most needful.

And after all what are these detenus—a mere handful of misguided youths before the Irish rebels? Look, My Lord, to the latter's boldness of conception, boldness of plans and boldness of execution, and compare them with the revolutionaries of Bengal. Even if their guilt be assumed, they would seem as mere toy revolutionaries before the Irish rebels. And yet the British Government set the latter free after a few months of detention. If that was a good policy in relation to a people living so near the theatre of the war, there cannot be any earthly reason why the same policy will not be found hundred times more efficacious in relation to the revolutionaries or supposed revolutionaries of Bengal. Your Excellency's Government may well take a chapter from Mr. Lloyd George's administration in this respect.

Resolutions.

Mr. P. C. Mitter.

Again the time is opportune for such a course of action which I am now urging. My Lord, if extraordinary times required extraordinary precautions and extraordinary measures in detaining persons on suspicion, such conditions do not now obtain. The war is at an end. The British Empire and the Allies have come out victorious and every subject of His Majesty is jubilant. Allow these people, My Lord, to come out and share in the universal joy. Allow them to come out and see for themselves the triumph of freedom, right and justice over despotism and autocracy.

Then, again, the country is on the eve of far-reaching constitutional reforms which, let us hope, will satisfy the legitimate aspirations of the people. My Lord, allow the ill-fated detenus to come out and see for themselves the immense possibilities of nationhood and of larger life. Allow them to come out and realise for themselves that the pledges of August 1917 are bound to be redeemed, and that as an earnest for such redemption, Sir S. P. Sinha has been given a seat in the British Ministry. Repression, My Lord, is altogether a mistaken policy in dealing with a civilised and progressive nation fully conscious of, and thoroughly imbued with, the spirit of the time. I plead, My Lord for conciliation, for conciliation is a sovereign remedy. It can make a foe a friend. I plead for more courage and bolder statesmanship on the part of Your Excellency's Government. I plead for the release of all prisoners still detained under the Defence of India Act. If Your Excellency be pleased to grant a general amnesty to them, I am sure there will be no reason to repent it hereafter. On the contrary I venture to think, and I sincerely believe, that under changed times and in changing conditions, the alleged revolutionaries will be zealous supporters of the Government. With these few words, I beg to move the resolution which stands in my name."

The Hon'ble MR. P. C. MITTER said :—

My Lord, originally I did not intend to take part in the discussion on this resolution but, My Lord, on further consideration I thought that I ought not to record my silent vote against this resolution. I thought, My Lord, that it is a duty which I owed as a representative member of this Council to tell my people through this Council some aspects of the question—aspects which are so often and so persistently ignored by some section of the public. The first point that I would ask that section of the public through the hon'ble member here, who has moved that resolution, to consider is—how is it that those dacoities and murders which were a thing of almost monthly occurrence, if not a thing of weekly occurrence certainly a thing of monthly occurrence, have ceased after vigorous action had been taken under the Defence of India Act. It is a stern fact which the hon'ble member and those who think with him cannot possibly ignore. Does the hon'ble member, and those who think with him, doubt the actual occurrence of the dacoities and murders like the Corporation Street dacoity, the Garden Reach dacoity, the Seth Bagan, the Beliaghata, the Armenian Street and th Shibpur dacoities? I need not mention more, but any one, who has read the reports, appearing even in those newspapers which have sympathy with the thoughts expressed by my hon'ble friend here, must be familiar with the sad tale of dacoities and murders. Do my hon'ble friend and those who think with him doubt the occurrence of mudrers like that of the late Babu Ashutosh Biswas, the well-known public prosecutor of Alipur? The murder of Babu Basanta Kumar Chatterjee, the Deputy Superintendent of Police, who was ruthlessly murdered in broad day light in a public street of Calcutta ?"

The Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHANDRA DATTA—"We do not doubt them."

Resolutions.

Mr. P. C. Mitter.

The Hon'ble Mr. P. C. Mitter :—"Well, if these facts are not doubted what is the outstanding position? These murders and dacoities took place and they have ceased as soon as vigorous action was taken under the Defence of India Act. I am not here to deal with the question whether any change of the Defence of India Act is necessary or not because the particular proposition before the House is whether these persons ought to be released or not. If the ordinary laws of the country are not sufficient in dealing with crimes like this, and if the extraordinary powers under the Defence of India Act really stamped out the crimes which were a disgrace to society—crimes which every patriotic Indian ought to feel sorry for—and if the operations of the Defence of India Act have to a great extent stamped out these crimes, then how can any responsible public man suggest to nullify the results of such action and to let society go back to that state of anarchy in which it was before such vigorous actions were taken? I entirely endorse the view put forward by the hon'ble mover that we have a responsibility to our people and to ourselves. I only hope that that responsibility will enable us to see that it is our duty to protect innocent people from being shot down and to see that the man, who by the fruits of his industry has made some money, is not ruthlessly pillaged. It is not a question of amnesty or mercy but it is a question of the necessities of society, and if necessities of society require that certain persons, who are nothing better than a cancer to the body politic, should be treated in a particular way, it is necessary in the interest of the body politic to treat them in that way. I do hope, My Lord, that if we are to realise our responsibilities, if the Reform Scheme is to be a reality for the future well-being of our country, I do hope that gentlemen of the position of the hon'ble mover will try and come up to that standard of responsibility for which I am pleading. I know that the hon'ble mover and I do not see eye to eye on various points and I do not ask the Hon'ble mover to take anything from me, but I also know that the hon'ble mover and those who think with him have great respect for judicial decisions, specially the decisions of the Hon'ble High Court. I have no doubt that if the hon'ble mover sets that standard of responsibility which we have a right to expect of him, he should have, before he urged his motion in this Council, investigated the matter so far as it was possible for him to investigate from materials available to him. The decisions of the law Courts were certainly open to him, and if he had looked to the decision of Mr. Justice Mookerjee in what is known as the Dacca Conspiracy case, he would have found what an amount of harm many persons who are now safely interned and who were particularly connected with this movement, had done to educational institutions in this country. If the hon'ble mover had referred to a report of a certain commission which had investigated into a regrettable incident in the Presidency College, he would have found what an amount of mischief was done even in an institution like the Presidency College by persons for whom he is pleading. As I have said, I have no doubt the hon'ble mover has a great respect for the High Court and for the opinions of Judges like Mr. Justice Mookerjee and Sir Lawrence Jenkins, and if he had referred to some of the judgments written by either of these eminent Judges, he would have found how the solution of many problems, for the solution of which, I have no doubt, he keenly feels, has suffered on account of the activities of the persons for whom he is pleading to-day. I have no doubt he is pleading from a false notion of mercy, but I would expect of him and others who support him to examine the whole question from the point of view of the public as a whole before a motion like this was put forward. If they examined they question from the point of view of the public generally, then false notions of mercy alone would not appeal to them. They would then consider the facts from all points of view. In the judgment of Mr. Justice Mookerjee in the well-known Rajabagan Bomb case my hon'ble friend will find how religion has been perverted and how religious ideas have been misused by the persons for whom he is pleading before this Council. My hon'ble friend says that the whole country is with him. I hope, My Lord, that my friend is too optimistic in this matter. If there is apparent noise in some quarters, if there are men who are shouting their loudest, I am certain there are many others who feel equally strongly the other way, and if these men have not spoken out it is because that ordinarily they are not as vocal as others. Will the hon'ble member make some enquiries from the merchants, traders and money-lenders in the rural areas, who had suffered? My Lord, in the interests of that progressive realisation of the ideal for which the Congress has been pleading from 1885 onwards and in the interests of the great pronouncement which was made by the Secretary of State in August 1917, I plead with equal force that it is necessary to irradicate the cancer, that it is necessary to free the body politic of this poisonous growth, and in order to do so, it is necessary to apply the Surgeons' knife. I, therefore, say, My Lord, with all the emphasis at my command that a resolution like this should never be accepted, but, My Lord, at the same time I must say that I feel a great deal of sympathy for some of these youths—sympathy I have none with many who are nothing but unmitigated criminals—but there are those who have been led on by persons who ought to have known better, led on by platform orators who did not know what their speeches would lead to, led on by irresponsible journalists who did not know what dishonest journalism meant; and may I in connection with this last point draw my hon'ble friend's attention to the decision of Sir Lawrence Jenkins in the Alipur Bomb case? He will find there how an innocent young man, typical of many like him, living in the interior of the country, perhaps in the very district from which my hon'ble friend comes, was misled by the reading of Jugantar. After the minds of these unfortunate young men receive a certain turn by speeches and writings such as these, what happens? The unmitigated criminals come forward and warily enmeshes these unfortunate young men in the criminal revolutionary movement. For these young men I feel the greatest sympathy, but if I feel sympathy I also realise that in their own interest as also in the interest of society they cannot be let off so long as we do not get hostages for their future good behaviour, and if the Government has been releasing these persons by driblets, it is not because Government is anxious to create effect, but because Government is satisfied that it is safe in the interests of society to release these persons. Therefore, My Lord, I say, with the utmost respect to my hon'ble friend that it is putting the case absolutely from a wrong point of view, to suggest that it is a question of 'striking the imagination of the people.' 'Striking the imagination of the people' may be a very good thing as a newspaper phrase, or as a piece of platform oratory, but for a practical Government the phrase has no place—at any rate in the solution of this particular question. It is absolutely necessary for a practical Government to realise that men who would ruin society, must be kept back from such a purpose."

Resolutions.

The Hon'ble Rai Debender Chunder Ghosh Bahadur said :—

"My Lord, the Hon'ble mover asks this Council to recommend to the Government that all detenus interned under the Defence of India Act be now set at liberty. Now, the persons who have been imprisoned by Government during the last few years without trial are either under the Defence of India Act or under Regulation III of 1818. All the prisoners to whom reference has been made by my friend, especially the persons whose cases were considered by Sir Narayan Chandravarkar and Mr. Justice Beacheroft, were not arrested and detained under the Defence of India Act of 1915. About 106 persons were detained under Regulation III of 1818, and I think my hon'ble friend's observations with regard to these persons are

Resolutions.

Sir Henry Wheeler.

beside the point. He is not concerned in asking this Council to recommend to the Government that the prisoners under Regulation III of 1818, usually called State Prisoners, should be set at liberty. He is concerned with the large number of prisoners of whom a considerable body have been discharged from time to time within the course of the last year, and I think my friend will acknowledge that as regards these State prisoners, about 100 in number, whose cases were considered by the two gentlemen named by him Sir Narayan Chandravarkar and Mr. Justice Beachcroft, are cases which we need not concern ourselves now. As regards the persons who have been detained under the Defence of India Act of 1915, the Government are considering their cases, and we find that from time to time announcements are made in the papers that some persons are being released. All that my hon'ble friend now wants is that without any examination of individual cases all the persons should be discharged. Why this time has been selected for the discharge of all the persons, passes my understanding? I do not mean to suggest that Government should detain these persons for all time, but what I say is this, that because at a certain gathering of our countrymen there was a resolution passed that all these persons should be released, and that a general amnesty should be declared, and that, therefore, this Council should recommend to the Governor for their discharge. I do not think that it is a very judicious appeal. It is not pretended that the war is at an end; we are still in war time; armistice is not peace, and this Act of 1915 will exhaust itself some six months after the war is formally at an end, that is after the conclusion of peace. Therefore, at the risk of being considered unpatriotic, I would say that the time is not opportune for a prayer of the kind as made by the hon'ble mover, that there should be a general amnesty. It is not necessary for me to go over the ground taken by my hon'ble friend on my right, who has given considerable time, at the sacrifice of his professional business, to this matter, in the consideration of the cases of persons suspected to be seditionists. It is true that there are no dacoities, no murders now, and we have to be thankful to the Government for the measures taken by them. I am not suggesting that, as soon as these people for whom my hon'ble friend, Babu Akhil Chandra Datta, appeals are discharged, there will be a recurrence of dacoities and murders. This is a matter for the consideration of the Government who have the papers before them of individual cases. If they think that if the discharge of a particular person will be attended with grave risk for the peace of society, then certainly they are within their rights to keep such a person under restraint, and to put him before a special tribunal, under a slightly different procedure, as is contemplated. But we must rely upon the discretion of the Government in this matter, and I think therefore that my hon'ble friend's resolution ought not to be carried."

The Hon'ble SIR HENRY WHEELER said :—

"My Lord, the last two speakers have so ably put various points which are relevant to this resolution, that I might almost be content to leave it at that. But this particular matter is one in which the responsibility of the local Government is so close and obvious that, in the light of the controversy that has arisen round it, it is incumbent upon me to offer a few observations.

I regret that this resolution has been moved. It is to be regretted because, for reasons that are well known to this Council—which have been explained repeatedly by Lord Carmichael and Your Excellency, and have been endorsed by the Rowlatt Committee and Sir Narayan Chandravarkar's and Mr. Justice Beachcroft's enquiry—we cannot place before the Council in detail the many excellent reasons that we have for the action we have taken. It is to be regretted again because, however carefully and with whatever good will we approach the question, it is difficult to avoid expressions which exasperate feeling and excite controversy. Finally, I regret it in that it is speeches of the type of the Hon'ble Mover that give ground for the allegation that in Bengal the preservation of the public peace and the punishment of the wrong-doer is not always regarded as that paramount consideration which it is elsewhere. It is within the recollection of us all that an allegation on these lines from a responsible quarter excited much resentment not long ago, and it is just because we, who are officials in Bengal, believe that sentiment to be not in accord with the bulk of the common sense and responsible opinion in the province that we regret speeches of the type that we have heard to-day from the Hon'ble Babu Akhil Chandra Dutta, in so far as they cast a slur upon the province which we repudiate. The resolution, however, has been moved, and it is a resolution which has a somewhat curious history.

On the 20th November 1917 the same Hon'ble Member sought to move a similar resolution. Your Excellency then made a detailed statement in this Council of facts which were not known to many Hon'ble Members, and the Hon'ble Babu Akhil Chandra Dutta was so convinced that he proceeded to withdraw his resolution. However, apparently between November 1917 and January 1919, his memory has weakened, and it is most strange that this should have happened, because in that interval we have had two very convincing pieces of evidence bearing out in fuller details the facts which Your Excellency related in outline only. We have had a full enquiry by the Rowlatt Committee; we have had a second enquiry by Sir Narayan Chandravarkar and Mr. Justice Beacheroft, and in the face of these two facts it is strange yet again to find the Hon'ble Member for a second time coming up, unrepentant, to repeat a suggestion of which, apparently, at one time he thought better. Of course for his mandate we need not look further than a certain resolution to which reference has been made this afternoon—the resolution of the recent Delhi Congress, which having previously resolved that the preservation of law and order might safely be made over to the hands of the speakers proceeded, with somewhat curious logic, to follow it by a proposal similar to that now made, which in the mind of all right thinking men, if given effect to, would certainly endanger the preservation of law and order. But, Sir, we are perfectly prepared to justify the action that has been taken by us, and we rest our justification on the findings of these two enquires before which the facts were submitted. We rest our justification again on the improvement which we believe has been effected in the situation in this province, and which must be patent to all. It is a somewhat melancholy fact in one aspect, but still it is true, that 1918 is the first year since 1906 that no member of the general public, excluding police officers and those assisting or believed to have been assisting the police, has been killed or wounded by revolutionary dacoits or robbers. This is so far satisfactory, although it induces certain rather melancholy reflections, and we believe that this change has been brought about by the skill of the police officers to whom the administration of these Acts has been committed, and by the extremely useful weapons which the legislature has thus put in our hands. We are now asked in this resolution to throw aside all that we have done, and to say that all the men now under restraint ought to be allowed to go free.

If we try to imagine various reasons which might be adduced for so doing, among the first I should personally have put one to which the Hon'ble Member has not even alluded, doubtless because he knows it is not true, and indeed, it is not true; that is to say, we might have expected him to urge that, whatever the revolutionary has been in the past, it is over, and therefore there is every reason now to exercise clemency. As I have said, that statement has not been made, neither is it correct. We have unfortunately the best reasons for going on with whatever checks have been imposed by the measures taken under the Defence Act. Men are still abroad who were known to be leaders in the revolutionary movement ; they are still actively engaged in enlisting boys for their own ends and endeavouring to foment trouble, and simply because sedition has been checked for the moment, we should not be justified in assuming that it does not exist.

Resolutions.

Sir Henry Wheeler.

I pass to what really is the Hon'ble Mover's main reason for urging clemency, viz., his allegation that amongst the interned many do not deserve punishment. It is almost incredible that in the face of the enquiries that have been cited, despite the fact that, of 806 investigated cases, action was found to have been justified in 800 by the enquiring committee, and in the face of the detailed reasons which they have given in their report, justifying the method of their enquiry and their suggestions, he is able to get up and tell us that he still believes that many are not guilty. With that argument I cannot cope. I rest my case on the two documents of which I have made mention, and I leave it at that.

Then we come to a third reason, namely, that after all, even if there was a revolutionary movement, it was but a toy revolution. In answer to that I again ask Hon'ble Members to refer to the Rowlatt Committee's report, and the description it contains of what this movement really was.

Lastly, we come to the argument that we may safely take this action as the war is over. As a matter of fact, the war is not over ; an armistice has been signed, but the state of the world is not exactly what one would call one of utter tranquillity even now. In the second place, this revolutionary movement in Bengal was not the product of the war. It was accentuated by the war, but there is no a priori reason why, because of the fact that the war is over, we should discard measures which we have found so useful. I submit that none of these arguments will hold water, or would be sufficient justification for taking the action which the Council is asked to recommend.

But, Sir, although we have not adopted this policy of general amnesty, and do not intend to adopt it, yet I would like to explain to the Council what we have done, the more so, as in this connection the Hon'ble Babu Akhil Chandra Datta has allowed his feelings to lead him into a statement which is a vicious travesty of the true facts, for which I can see no justification. He has referred to the policy of release, and he has said that the fact that men have been released shows their innocence. He asserts that justice has now been done ; that the people were right and the Government wrong ; that belated justice is better than no justice. May I draw the attention of the Council to Your Excellency's speech delivered in November 1917 in which you referred to this policy of release. It was a statement which ought to be within the Hon'ble Member's recollection, and it afforded a clear explanation of the lines upon which we have been proceeding. Your Excellency then said :—

'I do not say for one moment that all those dealt with are guilty in equal degree. Certainly not. There are many who have been led to join the revolutionary movement under a misapprehension as to what they were doing. In many cases the regret which is often expressed by such men for their past action is no doubt perfectly genuine. And it is the policy of Government deliberately adopted with a full knowledge of all the facts, steadily to release such men as can in our judgment be set free without unduly endangering the safety of society and the public peace. Men who have been guilty only in a minor degree and for whose good behaviour security can be obtained, have been set at liberty from time to time during the year. . . . These men are on their honour. It is up to them to see that they do not abuse the trust which has been placed in them.'

In the face of that explanation I am amazed to find the Hon'ble Member making the—I can only characterise it—most mischievous statement which he has made this afternoon. We have released some of these men because we hold their confessions in our hands; they have given promises of future good behaviour, and the situation being as it is (and of course the armistice has cleared the air) Government have no desire to appear to be vindictive in this matter. We believe that these men have learnt their lesson, and we exercise mercy believing that it will have a good effect, and that the experiment was at least worth trying. The actual facts are that in one way or other we have dealt under the Defence of India Act with some 1,062 men, excluding cases of persons expelled from the province or cases otherwise disposed of. Of those we had prior to the armistice released many for the reasons I have stated, but we have accelerated our policy since the armistice was declared. We have released 481 in all, and we are in the process of releasing 196 more, thus making a total of 677. Of the remaining persons still detained, some 385 are in various domiciles, of whom 126 are in home domicile. We shall pursue this policy according as circumstances develop and according as we think ourselves justified in doing so, but I have cited these figures because I have seen it stated in some quarters that Government is releasing detenus by thousands, whereas we never even interned them by thousands. They also fully bear out the contention that in exercising its powers under this Act, the local Government has not enforced a greater degree of stringency than the circumstances of the time required, and to the extent that circumstances permitted has already shown, and is showing, mercy. Beyond this we are not prepared to go, and I cannot advise the Council to accept this resolution."

The Hon'ble BABU AKHIL CHUNDRA DATTA said :—

My Lord, I would like to say a few words in answer to the arguments brought forward by the Hon'ble Mr. Provash Chandra Mitter. One argument is that dacoities and murders have decreased; that is a fact about which there cannot be any controversy whatsoever. But in answer I have to say this: It does not follow from the fact that there were dacoities and murders and that these dacoities and murders have ceased, it does not follow that all the interned people were concerned in these crimes. Before I proceed further I must make my position absolutely clear. I have never suggested either to-day or on any other occasion that all the people that have been interned are absolutely innocent. I have only said—I have on the other hand distinctly made it clear—that there must be many who were not guilty.

As regards the argument that dacoities and murders have decreased under the vigorous administration of the Defence of India Act, I want to submit this. I have also said on many occasions that I did not suggest for one moment that the authorities of the Government who deal with these matters, deliberately interned persons whom they believed to be innocent. I have never said that. I have always said this—that the system adopted for the enquiry was defective and that the inevitable result of that was that in some cases there must have been blunder of judgment. I use the words 'blunder of judgment' advisedly; that is my position on this question.

As regards the Hon'ble Mr. P. C. Mitter's argument that dacoities and murders have decreased, I hope my hon'ble friend will listen to my argument and give his best consideration now and hereafter over this argument. Supposing 100 men were guilty of murders and dacoities and supposing 1,100 men have been interned—I do not say that that is the figure, but I take this figure just for the purpose of illustrating my proposition—does not that argument apply equally well in that case also; although 100 men committed murders and dacoities and 1,100 men were interned, still that argument of the decrease of dacoities and murders applies equally well. Supposing some of us now present in this Council Chamber were interned still that argument would be applicable, namely, that the crimes have now decreased. That argument is certainly fallacious. Of course, if my position was this—that all the people interned are innocent, then certainly this argument has some force but not otherwise.

Resolutions.

Babu A. C. Datta.

Then, My Lord, I have also said supposing they are guilty—I put my case on that assumption—supposing they are guilty and even in that case the question arises whether they should be released or not. I do not know what my friend's answer will be to the release of Sien Finners : most regrettable atrocities were committed by them, but it was still thought proper and expedient in the interests of the country not to detain them ad infinitum. 'Once interned always interned' is an argument which is never accepted in any country My hon'ble friend Mr. P. C. Mitter may be hard and unrelenting, but the Government has not been hard and unrelenting, and on behalf of the people, I feel it just to express their gratefulness for releasing some people recently.

My friend refers to my own district from which it is said many young men—innocent youths—that is his expression—were misled. Now that is precisely one of the reasons why I feel strongly on this matter. I do feel that there must have been many young men—I mean boys of very tender age—who were captured by anarchists and who were misled, but having regard to their tender age and having regard to the fact that they did not go deep into the movement, I have always thought from the standpoint of the people and from the standpoint of Government that it would be better for the country and for Government to reclaim them instead of interning them ad infinitum and making them confirmed anarchists. If it is permissible, I would remined Your Excellency that that is what on a certain occasion I tried to explain to Your Excellency in a private interview. I might refer to one particular case of a young lad of 14 or 15 years who was ordered to be interned and the order went from Calcutta to Comilla. Then, My Lord, the boy presented himself before the Superintendent of Police of my district under the orders received from Calcutta. The District Superintendent of Police seeing the young boy was simply amazed and thought it would be ridiculous to intern such an immature boy. He then made a reference to the higher authorities and the result was that the boy was not interned. This is one class of cases to which I would invite Your Excellency's careful attention.

Then about the observations of the Hon'ble Member in charge, I do not know if I deserved them but I have got them. I feel that he has done some injustice to me. I can assure him that if I have moved this resolution, I have moved it because I honestly feel that in some cases there has been blunder of judgment and in some other cases too young lads had been interned who ought to have been reclaimed : in either class of cases I may say that I believe that most of these young men, if released, would be staunch supporters of Government instead of being enemies. Because I honestly believe this I have brought up this matter before the Council. I need hardly say that it is not a pleasant duty for a Member of this Council to do this task. After all we know that this is not a very pleasant task, and I do not think that any man is so perverse as he would needlessly incur the displeasure of anybody if he does not really feel in the matter. Now it is said, My Lord, that some people have been released not because Government do not think them to be guilty but because Government do not wish to be vindictive. That is precisely my submission. I have never said that they are not guilty; but I say because they are guilty it does not follow that they should be detained for ever. What, after all, My Lord, is my resolution? My resolution is simply this—that the policy of release that has been inaugurated may be given effect to more completely, nothing more or nothing less than that. I do not say that Government are vindictive even in respect of the persons who have not been released. If Government have not released that is because Government feel that it will not be good for the country : whereas I believe that if they are released now, especially at this time when the war is over, on the eve of the constitutional reforms, they are not so perverse in their nature that they would not appreciate the kindness of Government. That is the real reason as to why I have brought up this matter."

Resolutions ; Adjournment.

Babu A. C. Datta.

The resolution was then put and lost.

ADJOURNMENT.

The Council was then adjourned to Tuesday, the 18th February, 1919, at 11 A.M., in Government House, Calcutta.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Final Forecast of the Sugarcane Crop of Bengal, 1918-19.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1916-17, the area under sugarcane in Bengal has represented some 9·2 per cent. of the total area under sugarcane in British India).

Character of the Season.—The crop was planted under favourable conditions which in spite of abnormal rainfall in June continued up till July. A good deal of damage was done to the crop in Eastern Bengal by floods in August and September. The Western districts have in their turn suffered severely from the drought which has prevailed since August. The season has thus, on the whole, not been a favourable one for sugarcane.

Acreage.—The area planted is estimated at 218,900 acres against 207,409 acres last year.

Outturn.—From the appendix attached to the report it will be seen that only four districts, namely Rangpur, Malda, Chittagong and Noakhali, report a crop between 90 and 100 per cent., thirteen districts a crop between 75 and 90 per cent. and eight districts between 68 and 75 per cent. The districts of Murshidabad and Darjeeling report crops as low as 58 and 46 per cent. of the normal.

According to the estimates of the District Officers, the average outturn of the crop for the Province works out at 77 per cent. of the normal against 80 per cent. last year.

Taking 36 maunds as the normal rate of cane-gur per acre, the gross outturn for the Province is estimated at 4,458,100 cwts. against 4,814,300 cwts last year.

Other sources of gur.—The total quantity of gur likely to be obtained this year from date-palm juice is estimated at 1,954,800 cwts. and from palmyra-palm juice 1,400 cwts. against 2,022,400 cwts. and 1,100 cwts. respectively last year.

The total quantity of gur in the Province from all sources this year is thus estimated at 6,414,300 cwts against 6,838,100 cwts. last year.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS.

For the week ending on the 30th January 1919.

Summary.—Light rain fell in the northern and western districts. Elsewhere there was practically no rain. The rain has facilitated the ploughing of fields for autumn crops and has benefited the standing crops generally. Pressing of sugarcane and harvesting of potatoes and early oilseeds are progressing. The average price of common rice for the province has risen about 1·14 per cent. as compared with that of the previous week.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Final Report on the Cotton Crops of Bengal, 1918-19.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1916-17, the area under the Cotton Crops in Bengal has represented some 0·3 per cent. of the total area under Cotton in India.)

THE "early" crop is chiefly grown in the Chittagong Hill Tracts and in the State of Hill Tippera and to a small extent in other districts. The "late" crop is unimportant and is mainly grown in Bankura and Midnapore.

Character of the Season.—Since the issue of the third forecast, the continued drought has further affected the outturn in Bankura and in parts of the Hill Tippera State. In the Chittagong Hill Tracts, however, the weather has not been unfavourable for the early crop. In the few other districts growing cotton, a fair outturn is expected.

Area sown.—The total area sown with the early crop is returned at 70,786 acres and that with the late crop 2,203 acres against 69,130 and 2,100 acres, respectively, in the corresponding forecast of last year.

Outturn.—The estimated outturn of the early crop is returned at 30,908 bales this year against 17,786 bales in the corresponding forecast of last year. The outturn of the late crop is estimated at 737 bales this year against 1,068 bales for last year.

(1) The weather was latterly rainless and was unfavourable to the growth of the crops. The decrease in outturn is due to want of rain since October.
(2) The condition of the crop is not good for want of rain. The date of harvesting was normal.
(3) The weather has been fair. The condition of the crop is generally good.
(4) The weather and general condition of the crop have been good. The date of harvesting was normal.
(5) Since the submission of the third forecast, the weather has affected the crop and the outturn has fallen below the estimate made in the third forecast as the outturn in one division is very poor. The date of harvesting was normal.
(6) The weather and general condition of the crops have not been favourable. The dates of harvesting were normal.

DISTRICT REPORTS ON WEATHER AND CROPS.

For the week ending on the 8th February 1919.

Summary.—Light showers over the most part of the province have improved the prospects of the standing spring crops and facilitated preparatory tillage for the next autumn paddy and jute. Pressing of sugarcane and harvesting of potatoes, mustard and other oilseeds continued. The average price of common rice for the province has risen by about 0·1 per cent. as compared with that of the previous week. Owing to partial failure of winter paddy some distress is apprehended at Bankura. Preliminary relief measures have been arranged for.

1. An examination for admission to the Indian Civil Service, open to all qualified persons, will be held in London in August of each year for such number of appointments to that Service as the Secretary of State may on each occasion determine. The Commissioners may, however, in their discretion, at any time prior to the grant of the certificate of qualification hereinafter referred to, institute such further inquiries as they may deem necessary; and if the result of such inquiries in the case of any candidate should be unsatisfactory to them in any of the above respects he will be ineligible for admission to the Indian Civil Service, and, if already selected, will be removed from the position of a Probationer.

From the marks assigned to candidates in each subject such deduction will be made as the Civil Service Commissioners may deem necessary in order to secure that no credit be allowed for merely superficial knowledge.

Consistently with the limitations specified above candidates are at liberty to name any of the foregoing subjects provided that the maximum number of marks that can be obtained from the subjects chosen is limited to 6,000. If this maximum is exceeded by a candidate's selection he will be required to indicate one of his subjects, the marks for which should, in his case, be reduced so as to bring his maximum marks within the prescribed limit. The marks so reduced will be subject to a correspondingly reduced deduction.

Moreover, if a candidate's handwriting is not easily legible a further deduction will, on that account, be made from the total marks otherwise accruing to him.*

6. A list of the competitors shall be made out in order of their proficiency as disclosed by the aggregate marks finally awarded to each competitor, and in that order so many competitors, up to the determined number of appointments, as are found by the Civil Service Commissioners to be qualified by examination, shall be designated to be selected candidates for the Indian Civil Service, provided that they appear to be duly qualified in other respects. Should any selected candidate become disqualified, the Secretary of State for India will determine whether the vacancy thus created shall be filled or not. In the former case the candidate next in order of merit, and in other respects duly qualified, shall be deemed to be a selected candidate.

* It is notified for general information that the number of marks deducted for bad handwriting may be considerable.

Selected candidates, before proceeding to India, will be on probation for one year, at the end of which time they will undergo an examination, called the Final Examination, in the following compulsory subjects (b) :—

		Marks.
1.	Indian Penal Code	400
2.	Code of Criminal Procedure	200
3.	The Indian Evidence Act	200
4.	Indian History	400
5.	The principal Vernacular Language of the Province to which the candidate is assigned	400

The principal Vernacular Language prescribed for each Province to which candidates are assigned is as follows :—

For the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, the Punjab or the Central Provinces ... Hindustani.
For Bengal or Assam ... ... Bengali.

For Bihar and Orissa ... ... Hindustani.
For Burma ... . Burmese.
For Bombay ... ... Marathi.

(unless it is the Candidate's mother tongue.)

For Madras ... ... Tamil or Telugu.

(at the option of the candidate.)

In Hindustani the candidate will be required to be acquainted with both the Persian and the Nagari character.

A candidate assigned to Bengal or Assam, whose mother tongue is Bengali, must offer for examination Hindustani; a candidate assigned to Bombay, whose mother tongue is Marathi, must offer for examination Hindustani; and a candidate assigned to Madras, whose mother tongue is either of the languages shown against his Province, must offer the other for examination.

8. Selected candidates may in addition offer in the final examination one of the following optional subjects :—

		Marks.
1.	Hindu and Muhammadan Law	450
2.	Sanskrit	400
3.	Arabic	400
4.	Persian	400
5.	Hindustani	400

No candidate who offered Sanskrit or Arabic at the Open Competition may offer the same language at the Final Examination; and only candidates assigned to the Province of Burma may offer Hindustani as an optional subject.

9. In the Final Examination, as in the Open Competition, the merit of the candidates examined will be estimated by marks (which will be subject to deductions in the same way as the marks assigned at the Open Competition), and the number set opposite to each subject denotes the greatest number of marks that can be obtained in respect of it. The examination will be conducted on paper and viva voce, as may be deemed necessary.

If any candidate is prevented by sickness or any other adequate cause from attending such examination, the Commissioners may, with the concurrence of the Secretary of State for India in Council, allow him to appear at the Final Examination to be held in the following year, or at a special examination.

10. The selected candidates will also be tested during their probation as to their proficiency in riding.

(b) Instructions, showing the extent of the examination, will be issued to selected candidates as soon as possible after the result of the open competition is declared.

The examinations in riding will be held as follows :—

(1) Shortly after the result of the Open Competitive Examination has been declared, or at such time or times as the Commissioners may appoint during the course of the probationary year.

(2) Again, at the time of the Final Examination. Candidates who may then satisfy the Commissioners that they are sufficiently at home in the saddle for the efficient performance of all the duties of the Indian Civil Service will be awarded marks ranging between 101 and 200 according to the degree of proficiency displayed, to be added to their marks in the final examination. Candidates who fall short of this adequate proficiency but show such minimum proficiency as is evidence that with a moderate amount of practice they can attain full proficiency, will receive marks ranging between 1 and 100; they will be allowed to proceed to India and will on their arrival there be subjected to such further tests in riding as may be prescribed by their Government, and shall receive no increase to their initial salary until they have passed such tests to the satisfaction of that Government.

A candidate who fails at the end of the year of probation to satisfy the Civil Service Commissioners that he has reached the minimum standard of proficiency in riding, will be liable to have his name removed from the list of selected candidates.

11. The selected candidates who, on examination, shall be found to have a competent knowledge of the subjects specified in Regulation 7, and who shall have satisfied the Civil Service Commissioners of their eligibility in respect of nationality, age, health, character, conduct during the period of probation, and ability to ride, shall be certified by the said Commissioners to be entitled to be appointed to the Indian Civil Service provided they shall comply with the regulations in force, at the time, for that Service.

12. Persons desirous to be admitted as candidates must apply on Forms, which may be obtained from "The Secretary to the Civil Service Commissioners, London," at any time after the 1st December, in the year previous to that in which the Examination is to be held. No person will be admitted to the Examination from whom the Secretary to the Civil Service Commissioners has not received on or before the 1st June (or, if that date should fall on a Sunday or public holiday, then, on or before the first day thereafter on which their office is open), in the year in which the Examination is to be held, an application, in the handwriting of the candidate, on the prescribed form.

APPENDIX.

1. Any person who has joined since the 4th August, 1914, or may join during the present war, the Army or Navy or Royal Marines or the Royal Air Force, or has rendered or may render during the same period actual military service in the Special Reserve or Territorial Force, Royal Naval Reserve or Royal Naval Volunteer Reserve, may, if eligible in point of age under the Regulations as they now stand for admission to the open competitive examination held in 1918, but over age in 1919, deduct from his actual age at the time of the open competitive examination held in 1919 :—

(a) The actual period of such service, if it has not exceeded three months.

(b) One year, if the actual period of service has exceeded three months. No candidate will be allowed to deduct more than one year from his actual age.

2. The same concession may also be granted to those who have been employed during the same period in connection with the armed forces of the Crown at home or abroad giving their whole time and under obligation to serve for the duration of the war or until their discharge, or for any period not terminable at their own option, provided that their employment be not on ordinary commercial terms, such as that of Assistant Paymasters, Clerks, Artisans, and the like.

3. The grant of the concession described in paragraph (2) will be at the discretion of the Civil Service Commissioners, whose decision in each case will be final. Candidates who contemplate applying for an age deduction under (2) will do well to apply to the Civil Service Commission for a ruling on their case.

4. Candidates to be eligible for the concessions in (1) or (2) must furnish an official certificate of the period and satisfactory character of their service, and if any doubt arise whether the service of any candidate is of the kind contemplated, the Secretary of State for India in Council reserves to the Civil Service Commissioners the right to decide the case upon its merits.

The Civil Service Commissioners are authorized by the Secretary of State for India in Council to make the following announcements :—

(i) Selected candidates will be allotted to the various provinces upon a consideration of all the circumstances, including their own wishes; but the requirements of the Public Service will rank before every other consideration.

(ii) Except in the case of persons continuing to receive Scholarship allowances of equal or greater amounts from the Government of India an allowance amounting to £150 will be given to any candidate who passes his probation at one of the Universities or Colleges which have been approved by the Secretary of State, viz., the Universities of Oxford, Cambridge, Dublin, Glasgow, Edinburgh, St. Andrews and Aberdeen; the School of Oriental Studies, London Institution, Finsbury Circus; Victoria University, Manchester.

This allowance will be paid to the selected candidate in four instalments on the following dates respectively :—December 21th, after his selection, March 25th, June 24th, and the date of his signing his covenant on being finally appointed to the Service.

An allowance on account of passage to India will be paid to each newly appointed civilian to the amount of £40, for passage to Calcutta, Madras or Bombay, and £50 for passage to Rangoon. (iv) All candidates obtaining Certificates will be also required to enter into covenants, by which, amongst other things, they will bind themselves to make such payments as under the rules and regulations for the time being in force, they may be required to make towards their own pensions or for the pensions of their families. The stamps payable on these covenants amount to £1.

(v) The seniority in the Indian Civil Service of the candidates obtaining Certificates will be determined according to the order in which they stand on the list resulting from the combined marks of the Open

Competitive and Final Examinations, but may ultimately be affected by appointments made by the Secretary of State under the Temporary Provisions Act, 1915.

(vi) Candidates obtaining Certificates will be required to report their arrival in India within such period after the grant of their Certificates of Qualification as the Secretary of State may in each case direct.

(vii) Candidates who fail to satisfy the Civil Service Commissioners at the Final Examination held in any year will be definitely rejected, and will not be allowed to present themselves for re-examination, unless it shall appear to the Secretary of State in Council, after reference to the Civil Service Commissioners, that such failure is due to circumstances wholly exceptional and beyond the control of the candidate.

INDIAN CIVIL SERVICE.

Syllabus of an Open Competitive Examination for the Indian Civil Service to be held in the year 1919, and of any other competition that may be held in combination therewith.

In view of the importance of legible handwriting in the public service, candidates are warned that the provision as to deductions for bad handwriting in these competitions will be strictly enforced.

Candidates are warned that full marks cannot be obtained on any paper unless the whole of it is answered, or, in cases where the number of questions to be answered is specified, unless the full number specified is answered.

English Composition.—An Essay to be written on one of several specified subjects.

Sanskrit Language and Literature.—Translation from Sanskrit; composition in Sanskrit; Sanskrit Literature, including the life, thought, and antiquities of Ancient India, together with such knowledge of history as bears upon the subject; questions on the Sanskrit Language (including questions on Philology).

Composition will be required in Classical Sanskrit alone; elsewhere Vedic Sanskrit is also included.

Candidates are expected to make a special study of the Seventh Mandala of the Rig-veda, but other Vedic hymns may also be set in the examination.

Arabic Language and Literature.—Translation from Arabic: set composition and free composition in Arabic; Arabic Literature, including the life and thought of the Arabs as shown in the literature, together with such knowledge of history as bears upon the subject: questions on the Arabic Language (including questions on Philology).

Greek Literature.—Questions on the Greek Language (including questions on Philology), Literature, and Antiquities.

Latin Literature.—Questions on the Latin Language (including questions on Philology) and on Roman Literature and Antiquities.

English Language and Literature.—The Examination will be in two parts. In the one candidates will be expected to show a general acquaintance with the course of English Literature, as represented in the chief writers in verse and prose, between the reign of Edward III and the death of Queen Victoria.

A minute and detailed knowledge will not be looked for in this part of the Examination; but its aim will be to test how far the candidates have studied at first hand the chief productions of the greatest English writers, and are acquainted with the leading characteristics of their thought and style, and with the place which each of them occupies in the history of English Literature.

The other part of the Examination will relate to one of the following periods, which will follow each other year by year in rotation :—

Period I: 1360 to 1600, Chaucer to Spenser.
Period II: 1600 to 1660, The later Elizabethans.
Period III: 1660 to 1744, The age of Dryden and Pope.
Period IV: 1744 to 1800, From the death of Pope to the death of Cowper.
Period V: 1800 to 1832, Nineteenth Century writers to the death of Scott.
Period VI: 1832 to 1892, From the death of Scott to the death of Tennyson.

The Examination in this part will require from the candidates a more minute acquaintance with the history of the English Language and Literature, as illustrated in the chief works produced in each period, and will be based to a considerable extent, but by no means exclusively, on certain books specified each year by the Commissioners. The names and other indications placed beside the dates are intended to suggest the general character of the literary development of the period, and, consequently, the natural limits of the Examination. All the works of Shakespeare and Milton, for example, will be regarded as falling within the period 1600 to 1660; all the works of Wordsworth and Coleridge within the period 1800 to 1832; all the works of Carlyle, Landor, and Macaulay within the period 1832 to 1892.

For the year 1919, Period II (1600-1660) is prescribed, and the following are the specified books :—

Bacon—History of Henry VII; Essays.
Shakespeare—Much Ado About Nothing; Richard II; Henry IV (both parts); Romeo and Juliet; Macbeth; Antony and Cleopatra; The Tempest; Sonnets.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATIONS.

No. 1601 L.R.—The 15th February 1919.—The following rules are prescribed for the settlement of waste lands in the 24-Parganas and Khulna portion of the Sundarbans:—

24-Parganas and Khulna.

2. Lands available for lease.—The "waste lands," to which these rules apply, include all lands ungranted and unoccupied at the disposal of Government, or those which from any cause or under any circumstances whatsoever revert to Government in the Sundarbans of the district of the 24-Parganas (including Saugor Island) and Khulna and which have not been declared a reserved forest under the Forest Act, VII of 1878.

3. Right of Government to withhold land from being settled.—The Government reserves to itself the right of withholding the settlement of any land by special order made at any time before the settlement is finally made.

Rights in the lands which are reserved by Government.

4. Proprietary rights.—Government retains its proprietary rights in the lands which may be settled.

5. Rights to minerals on lands settled.—The Government reserves to itself the right to all minerals, together with such rights of way and other reasonable facilities as may be requisite for working, gathering and carrying away such minerals.

6. Rights of fishery.—The Government reserves all rights of fishery and the control of all channels and streams. It is not the intention of Government that any raiyat of any estate shall be prevented from catching fish for his own use in the enclosed water of any khal within the estate, provided that the raiyat observes such close times and uses only such methods of fishing as the Collector may from time to time approve. No raiyat is permitted to convert his allotment into a fishery nor to take any measures for admitting fish into his allotment from channels and streams outside it without the previous consent of the Collector.

7. Lands to be subject to rights of way, etc.—The land shall be subject to all existing rights of way and water and other easements, and to any exceptions and reservations which may be particularized in the lease.

8. Right reserved to the public.—A tow-path not less than 25 feet in width on each side of every navigable stream and channel shall ordinarily be reserved by Government for the use of the public.

9. Common lands.—The Government reserves to itself the right to regulate the conditions as to the use of any lands which may be reserved for the common use of the villagers.

10. Liability of land to cesses.—The land shall be subject to any cesses, such as road and public works cesses or any other which may hereafter be imposed by law in addition to the rent assessed.

Rights of the raiyat.

11. It is the intention of Government that settlement shall be made with cultivating raiyats, and to prevent the intervention of middlemen who will be merely rent-collectors between Government and the actual cultivators. All lands that may be settled with such raiyats shall be heritable.

12. Transferability of holding.—No raiyat will have the right to transfer his holding without previous consent in writing from the Collector: hence no right to free transfer is recognized.

In cases in which a transfer is allowed by the Collector, the transferee will be bound to execute a kabuliyat in the form executed by the transferor, subject to such modifications as may be approved in any special case. The Collector will allow transfer on the following conditions:—

(b) The transfer must not result in the transferee holding more than 100 bighas.

No rent receipt will be given in the name of an unrecognized transferee. On the discovery of an unauthorized transfer, proposals for the ejectment of the transferee by a civil suit should be submitted.

13. Subdivision of the holding.—A raiyat will be permitted to transfer a part of his holding subject to the consent in writing of the Collector, which consent will ordinarily be given on the same conditions as in the case of transfer of the whole holding (paragraph 12).

14. Exchange of lands.—Exchange of lands between the raiyats of the estate will ordinarily be permitted provided that the total area of either holding after the exchange does not exceed 100 bighas and subject to the consent of the Collector in writing.

15. Subletting.—The right to sublet the lands of a holding either on produce or cash-rents without the Collector's permission is not granted. The Government reserves to itself the right to resume any lands which may be sublet and to settle them direct to the actual cultivator.

It is not the intention of Government that this condition shall be worked harshly or indiscriminately, e.g., widows or guardians of minors or temporarily incapacitated persons would be permitted to sublet the lands of their holdings. But the creation of a class of raiyats of large holdings with cultivators under them and permanently paying rents to them will not be allowed.

Duties of the raiyat.

16. To cultivate the lands.—The raiyat must proceed to reclaim and cultivate his holding with due diligence. The Government reserves the right to resume any lands which are not reclaimed or cultivated within the period allowed by the Collector and to settle them with other raiyats.

17. Maintenance of boundary marks.—The position and extent of his allotment will be pointed out to the raiyat, and artificial boundary marks will be erected so far as may be necessary to indicate his holding; these will be erected at the expense of and must be maintained by the raiyat. If they are not maintained, they may be repaired at his expense, and the cost of such repair will be recoverable as a public demand.

18. Maintenance of bunds.—

(a) All the larger works of improvement which may appear to the Collector to be necessary for each estate, such as the damming of any large khal which is doing harm and the digging of tanks for drinking-water will ordinarily be carried out by Government, unless special arrangements to the contrary are sanctioned. Marginal embankments should on no account be constructed without the permission of Government in the Public Works Department.

(b) No tenant will be allowed to dig a tank or pit in his holding within 50 feet of an embankment or cross-dam. If any tenant transgresses the rule, the tank or pit may be filled up by Government at the cost recovered from the tenant as a public demand.

(c) No tenant will have the right to object to the taking of earth from his land when it is required for the repair and proper maintenance of the embankment or dam. If actual damage to crops is caused by the removal of the earth, the tenant may apply to the Collector for compensation and the Collector's decision shall be final.

(d) No tenant will have the right to dam any existing khal without the previous written permission of the Collector. In the case of any breach of this rule the Collector shall have the right to remove or regulate the dam and to recover the costs of such removal or regulation from the tenant as a public demand, nor shall the tenant be entitled to any compensation for damage caused by such removal or regulation.

(e) No tenant may cut, or do anything to impair any dam or any embankment constructed by Government without the permission of the Collector or the Colonization Officer. If any tenant transgresses this rule he will be called upon to repair the dam or embankment at his own cost to the satisfaction of the Collector and, if he fails to do so, the Collector may repair the dam or embankment and recover the cost from the tenant as a public demand.

(f) If there is danger of an imminent breach of any dam or embankment constructed by Government, due to a high tide or to a defect in the dam or embankment or to any other cause, the tenant, whose land adjoins the spot, will be responsible for sending information at once to the nearest Government officer and in the meantime for taking all steps within his power to stop the breach temporarily until help can be obtained.

19. Responsibility for interior bunds.—The raiyats are responsible for the erection and maintenance of the interior bunds in proper repair to the satisfaction of the Collector. If they fail to maintain them, they may be repaired by Government and the cost recovered from the raiyats concerned as a public demand.

20. Payment of rent.—The raiyat must pay his rent on the due dates. If he fails to do so, the rent will be recoverable as a public demand.

Administration.

21. The settlement will be carried out under the orders and control of the Collector of the district. He will be assisted by such establishments as may be given to him for this purpose. He will be under the control of the Commissioner of the Division.

In carrying out these raiyatwari settlements considerable discretion is allowed to the Collector but the following points will demand his attention.

22. Estimates for necessary improvements.—When an estate or a portion of an estate is taken up for settlement, estimates must be prepared for the necessary protective bunds and for a supply of drinking water. Further estimates will be prepared, if necessary, in the light of experience and subsequent developments. The construction of marginal bunds must be in accordance with specifications approved by the Public Works Department.

23. Tanks for drinking water must be constructed in suitable sites.

Tank sites.—When the District Board agrees to construct a tank, the site will be chosen by the Collector and transferred to the District Board without cost.

24. All proposals for settlements must include proposals for adequate fuel, timber and grazing reserves either within the estate or at a convenient distance.

25. Application for holdings.—Applications by bonâ fide cultivators for raiyatwari holdings shall be in writing and may be on plain paper, and may be presented to the Collector, or to the local officer in charge of the estate who shall forward them to the Collector with his recommendations. The applicant shall give full particulars regarding his circumstances and present residence and should state whether he desires to receive a loan, if so, how much and what security he can give.

26. Residence.—Residents on the land or in the near neighbourhood should receive preference in getting settlements.

27. Limit of area.—The maximum area for an original grant should be 75 bighas and the minimum 10 bighas. It will be well, however, not to give at first holdings in excess of what the applicant can be reasonably expected to cultivate fully in a few years. Comparatively well-to-do applicants who can afford to pay for hired labour may get larger holdings than those who are poor and may have to go away and labour for their subsistence for a part of the year.

Every care must be taken not to encourage or assist the practice of subletting lands by giving large holdings which the occupant cannot personally reclaim either by himself or by hired labour.

A settlement such as these rules provide for is a matter of continual adjustment and it will be much easier to add to a raiyat's holding than to take away from it. The original area allotted should be, therefore, strictly limited to the applicant's means of cultivation and probable requirement as measured by the number of working members of his family and his ability to employ hired labour.

When settlement is made, the Collector will fix the period within which the land is to be reclaimed: this period may for sufficient cause be extended.

28. Demarcation of allotments.—Allotments must be sufficiently marked off and demarcated by natural or artificial boundary marks. After demarcation the allotment must be surveyed and plotted on the estate map. The survey should be sufficiently accurate to afford a record in case of boundary marks being removed and disputes arising. The estate may be divided into block sheets or other convenient sheets, and rough working sheets may first be used to sketch in the allotments proposed and more accurate maps of the holdings as they are effectively occupied and cultivated and finally confirmed may afterwards be prepared.

29. Rate of assessment.—No rent shall be charged for land settled under these rules for the first three years of settlement.

The subsequent rent will be decided after consideration of the economic circumstances.

30. A copy of the rules (4) to (20) in vernacular will be given to every settler and will be hung up in the estate cutcherry. They must be carefully explained to every applicant who should be told that he can only obtain lands on these conditions and should be required to execute a kabuliyat agreeing to these terms. The lease to the raiyats should be in the annexed form.

ESTABLISHMENT FOR THE MANAGEMENT.

31. It will be necessary to have an efficient and responsible officer resident on or near the estate to carry out the following amongst other duties :—

(1) To carry out the works of reclamation and improvements such as embankments, tanks, roads, jungle-clearing, so far as it is done by Government. This may possibly be done by a separate works establishment.

(2) To demarcate the reserved and public lands, and see that they are not encroached upon.

(3) To enquire into the history of the applicants who apply to him direct and submit recommendations to the Collector

(4) To point out their allotments to the settlers.

(5) To demarcate the allotments on the ground and survey and plot them on the map of the estate.

(6) to keep up the record of the allotments made in a register which will show :—

serial number of holding ;
name of settler and father's name ;
name of village and thana from which he has come ;
date of giving possession of allotment ;
block and plot numbers ;
area of each plot ;
date by which the land is to be brought under cultivation ;
and any other details which may from time to time be prescribed.

(7) To recommend as to loans and pay out the same when they are paid by instalments.

(8) To watch the progress of clearance and cultivation and the building of homesteads, generally and more particularly in the case of those who have received or are receiving advances.

(9) To arrange for markets and supplies.

(10) Generally to see that the wants of the community are supplied as far as possible and to protect their interest.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 394S.R.—The 13th February 1919.—In exercise of the powers conferred by section 9 of the Sea Customs Act, 1878 (VIII of 1878), the Board of Revenue, Bengal, makes the following amendments in the rules published at pages 31-32 of Part I of the Calcutta Gazette of the 14th January 1885, as subsequently amended, namely :—

Omit rules 10, 11 and 11A of the said rules and insert the following rules as rules 10, 11, 11A and 11B, in order :—

"10. To officers of Customs below the rank of Assistant Collector, or other persons, who are instrumental in detecting and bringing to notice infringements and evasions of the provisions of the Sea Customs Act, 1878, or of the Indian Merchandise Marks Act, 1889, rewards may, when it is considered that they are merited, be given in the following cases in which goods may be confiscated or a penalty or fine imposed :—

(a) Smuggling or attempted importations of articles contrary to the provisions of section 18 or 19 of the Sea Customs Act, 1878.

(b) Breaches or attempted breaches of the provisions of the Sea Customs Act, 1878, or of rules made thereunder, when such breaches were probably intended to facilitate the importation or exportation of dutiable goods, or the removal of goods from bond without payment of full duty thereon.

(c) Breaches of the provisions of the Indian Merchandise Marks Act, 1889.

(d) False declaration of the contents of packages in regard to sort, quality, quantity, value or other conditions.

(e) Undervaluation in a bill of entry, or understatement of quantity in a shipping bill, affecting the amount of duty chargeable where such undervaluation or understatement is solely the result of accident or error.

11. (a) In each case the reward shall not exceed one-half of the realised value of the confiscated goods (if any) and of the penalty or fine imposed, and shall be so restricted that the balance shall suffice to cover all outstanding Government dues (if any), and any incidental charges incurred in consequence of the seizure of the goods.

(b) If, however, in any case the value of the confiscated goods, or the penalty or fine imposed, is not realised, or is only realised in part, and if the aggregate sum realised appears to be insufficient for the purpose of rewarding the officer of Customs and other person or persons who have been instrumental in detecting and bringing to light the case, the Chief Customs authority, on the recommendation of the Customs Collector, may grant such reward or rewards not exceeding in the aggregate one-half of the estimated value of the confiscated goods (if any) and of the penalty or fine as he may think reasonable.

11A. The Chief Customs officer may also grant rewards, up to a maximum of Rs. 500 in each case, to officers of the Customs Department or other persons who are instrumental in detecting and bringing to notice cases of unlicensed importation of arms or ammunition, irrespective of the value of the arms or ammunition confiscated or the fine imposed. Further, in cases in which convictions are obtained under Acts other than the Sea Customs Act, 1878, or the Indian Merchandise Marks Act, 1889, but in which the facts proved constitute offences under either of those Acts, the Chief Customs officer may grant rewards, up to half the estimated value of the goods in respect of which such offence may have been committed and of the fine (if any) imposed, to officers of the Customs Department or other persons who are instrumental in detecting and bringing to notice such offences.

113. The adjudication of rewards shall, in all cases, be made by the Chief Customs officer. No reward shall be paid until three months have elapsed from the date of the confiscation of the goods (if any) or infliction of the penalty with reference to which it is to be paid, or from the date on which a conviction has been obtained in a Court of law. The payment to any person or persons in any case of a reward or rewards under these rules exceeding in the aggregate Rs. 500 shall require the previous sanction of the Local Government."
